Lyrical Ballads William Wordsworth, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1926 Lyrical Ballads, with a Few Other Poems (1798)
William Wordsworth, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 2018-12-15 Lyrical Ballads with a Few Other Poems is a collection of poems by William Wordsworth and Samuel Taylor Coleridge first published in 1798 and generally considered to have marked the beginning of the English Romantic movement in literature. The immediate effect on critics was modest but it became and remains a landmark changing the course of English literature and poetry. Wordsworth and Coleridge set out to overturn what they considered the priggish learned and highly sculpted forms of 18th century English poetry and to make poetry accessible to the average person via verse written in common everyday language. They emphasize the vitality of the living voice used by the poor to express their reality. This language also helps assert the universality of human emotions. Even the title of the collection recalls rustic forms of art; the word lyrical links the poems with the ancient rustic bards and lends an air of spontaneity while ballads are an oral mode of storytelling used by the common people. In the Advertisement included in the 1798 edition Wordsworth explained his poetical concept: The majority of the following poems are to be considered as experiments. They were written chiefly with a view to ascertain how far the language of conversation in the middle and lower classes of society is adapted to the purpose of poetic pleasure. If the experiment with vernacular language was not enough of a departure from the norm, the focus on simple uneducated country people as the subject of poetry was a signal shift to modern literature. One of the main themes of Lyrical Ballads is the return to the original state of nature in which people led a purer and more innocent existence. Wordsworth subscribed to Rousseau's belief that humanity was essentially good but was corrupted by the influence of society. This may be linked with the sentiments spreading through Europe just prior to the French Revolution. William Wordsworth (7 April 1770 – 23 April 1850) was a major English Romantic poet who with Samuel Taylor Coleridge helped to launch the Romantic Age in English literature with their joint publication Lyrical Ballads (1798). Wordsworth's magnum opus is generally considered to be The Prelude, a semi autobiographical poem of his early years that he revised and expanded a number of times. It was posthumously titled and published before which it was generally known as the poem to Coleridge. Wordsworth was Britain's poet laureate from 1843 until his death from pleurisy on 23 April 1850. Samuel Taylor Coleridge (21 October 1772 – 25 July 1834) was an English poet, literary critic, philosopher, and theologian who with his friend William Wordsworth was a founder of the Romantic Movement in England and a member of the Lake Poets. He wrote the poems The Rime of the Ancient Mariner and Kubla Khan as well as the major prose work Biographia Literaria. His critical work, especially on William Shakespeare, was highly influential, and he helped introduce German idealist philosophy to English-speaking culture. Coleridge coined many familiar words and phrases, including suspension of disbelief. He had a major influence on Ralph Waldo Emerson and on American transcendentalism. Throughout his adult life, Coleridge had crippling bouts of anxiety and depression; it has been speculated that he had bipolar disorder, which had not been defined during his lifetime He was physically unhealthy which may have stemmed from a bout of rheumatic fever and other childhood illnesses He was treated for these conditions with laudanum which fostered a lifelong opium addiction Coleridge

Lyrical Ballads, With a Few Other Poems (1798) William Wordsworth, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 2019-07-08. Her beams bemock'd the sultry main, Like morning frosts yspread; But where the ship's huge shadow lay, The charmed water burnt alway. A still and awful red, Beyond the shadow of the ship, I watch'd the water snakes. They mov'd in tracks of shining white, And when they rear'd the elfish light, Fell off in hoary flakes. Within the shadow of the ship

 I watch'd their rich attire
 Blue glossy green, and velvet black
 They coil'd and swam; and every track
 Was a flash of golden fire.
