M4 Sherman vs Type 97 Chi-Ha Steven J. Zaloga, 2012-05-22 While the Pacific campaign is not well known as a theater for tank combat the US Army deployed nearly a third of its tank battalions to the Pacific and Japan was among the top five tank manufacturers during the war The obscurity of Pacific tank battles largely hinged on the tactics used in the Pacific theater due to terrain Tanks were generally used as infantry support weapons and the terrain precluded the use of tanks in maneuver warfare that might have led to large scale tank vs tank battles. This book begins by surveying the early tank battles in the Pacific between US and Japanese forces starting with the first encounters in the Philippines in 1941 between US M3 Stuart light tanks and Japanese Type 95 tanks Tank vs tank action became more common in 1944 as both sides poured larger numbers of tanks into the combat zone The largest Japanese tank attack of war took place in July 1944 on Saipan but there were frequent tank encounters in the ensuing months on Guam and Peleliu The Philippines saw the largest Japanese tank deployment of the war with the Japanese sending a tank division to Luzon in 1944 This led to extensive clashes with US army forces sometimes pitting tank vs tank but often a mixture of tanks infantry anti tank weapons and even self propelled guns The last two campaigns of the war on Iwo Jima and Okinawa saw tank use on the part of both sides the Japanese finally concluding that the fight against the US Army is a fight against his M4 tanks This book will take a look at the two best tanks of the Pacific campaign On the American side the M4A3 Sherman medium tank was used by both the US Army and US Marine Corps On the Japanese side the Type 97 kai Shinhoto Chi Ha was the best tank to see combat This was a very uneven contest which is the main reason that in 1944 on Luzon the Japanese were so reluctant to deploy the Chi ha against the Sherman and preferred to use them as dug in pillboxes The book illustrations will follow the usual Duel pattern with profile illustrations of the Type 97 kai Shinhoto Chi ha and M4A3 views showing the ammunition of both types interior illustrations showing the turret layout in both types and a Battlescene showing the Type 97 kai in combat against US armor M4A2 Sherman vs Japanese Type 95 Ha-Go Romain Cansière, Ed Gilbert, 2021-02-18 The different national tank doctrines of the United States and Imperial Japan resulted in a terrible mismatch of the predominant tank types in the crucial Central Pacific campaign A flawed Japanese doctrine emphasized light infantry support tanks often used in small numbers Tactically tanks were often frittered away in armored versions of the familiar banzai attacks Meanwhile the Americans saw the tank as an infantry support weapon but developed a more systematic tactical doctrine They settled upon a larger medium tank in the case of most Marine Corps tank battalions the diesel powered M4A2 unwanted by the US Army This superbly detailed title reveals how both the two sides tactical and technical differences in the approach to armored warfare soon became apparent over a series of deadly engagements from the first tank fight at the battle of Tarawa in November 1943 through to engagements on Parry Island Saipan and Guam before ending with Peleliu in September 1944 Tank Battles of the Pacific War Steve Zaloga, 1995
