Literature and the Child James Holt McGavran, James Holt McGavran, 1998-04

The Romantic myth of childhood as a transhistorical holy time of innocence and spirituality uncorrupted by the adult world has been subjected in recent years to increasingly serious interrogation Was there ever really a time when mythic ideals were simple pure and uncomplicated The contributors to this book contend although in widely differing ways and not always approvingly that our culture is indeed still pervaded in this postmodern moment of the very late twentieth century by the Romantic conception of childhood which first emerged two hundred years ago In the wake of the French Revolution and the Industrial Revolution western Europe experienced another fin de siècle characterized by overwhelming material and institutional change and instability By historicizing the specific political social and economic conflicts at work within the notion of Romantic childhood the essayists in Literature and the Child show us how little these forces have changed over time and how enriching and empowering they can still be for children and their parents In the first section Romanticism Continued and Contested Alan Richardson and Mitzi Myers question the origins and ends of Romantic childhood In Romantic Ironies Postmodern Texts Dieter Petzold Richard Flynn and James McGavran argue that postmodern texts for both children and adults perpetuate the Romantic complexities of childhood Next in The Commerce of Children's Books Anne Lundin and Paula Connolly study the production and marketing of children's classics Finally in Romantic Ideas in Cultural Confrontations William Scheick and Teya Rosenberg investigate interactions of Romantic myths with those of other cultural systems

Haroun and the Sea of Stories Salman Rushdie, Paul Birkbeck, 1990 Haroun's father is the greatest of all storytellers His magical stories bring laughter to the sad city of Alifbay But one terrible day everything goes wrong and his father runs out of stories to tell Haroun determined to return the storyteller's gift to his father flies off on the back of the Hoopoe bird to the Sea of Stories and so begins a fabulous exciting and dazzling adventure

Fiction After the Fatwa Madelena Gonzalez, 2005

Fiction after the Fatwa Salman Rushdie and the Charm of Catastrophe proposes for the first time an examination of what Rushdie has achieved as a writer since the fourteenth of February 1989 the date of the fatwa This study argues that his constant questioning of fictional form and the language used to articulate it have opened up new opportunities and further possibilities for writing in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Through close readings and intensive textual analysis arranged chronologically Fiction after the Fatwa provides a thought provoking reflection on the writer's achievements over the last thirteen years Aimed principally at academics and students but also of interest to the general reader it engages with the specific nature of the post fatwa fiction as it moves from the fairy tale world of Haroun and the Sea of Stories to the heartbreaking post realism of Fury Cultural Imperialism and the Indo-English Novel Fawzia Afzal-Khan,2010-11-01 This is a provocative piece of scholarship and it engages an intriguing aspect of postcolonial writing Choice Fawzia Afzal Khan s excellent book could stand as a reply to those hostile critics who today attack multiculturalism for reductively politicizing literature In her trenchant discussion Afzal Khan shows just how complex the politics of liberation can be for colonial and postcolonial novelists Gerald Graff University of ChicagoAfzal Khan s study is a major new contribution to the related fields of Indian writing in English and post colonial literatures Focused primarily on four Indian novelists its arguments and conclusions are of vital importance to our understanding of the many new literatures from the former British colonies Through her judicious use of the theoretical constructs of Frantz Fanon Fredric Jameson Edward Said and others Afzal Khan has produced a fresh and compelling interpretation of the Indian English novel Amritjit Singh Rhode Island College*Cultural Imperialism and the Indo English Novel* focuses on the novels of R K Narayan Anita Desai Kamala Markandaya and Salman Rushdie and explores the tension in these novels between ideology and the generic fictive strategies that shape ideology or are shaped by it Fawzia Afzal Khan raises the important question of how much the usage of certain ideological strategies actually helps the ex colonized writer deal effectively with post colonial and post independence trauma and whether or not the choice of a particular genre or mode employed by a writer presupposes the extent to which that writer will be successful in challenging the ideological strategies of containment perpetuated by most Western orientalist texts and writers She argues that the formal or generic choices of the four writers studied here reveal that they are using genre as an ideological strategy of liberation to help free their peoples and cultures from the hegemonic strategies of containment imposed upon them She concludes that the works studied here constitute an ideological rebuttal of Western writers denigrating containment of non Western cultures She also notes that self criticism as implied in Rushdie s works is not be confused with self hatred a theme found in Naipaul s work NOVELS FOR STUDENTS CENGAGE LEARNING. GALE,2016 Haroun and the Sea of Stories Cottesloe Theatre,1998 The Bible and Empire R. S. Sugirtharajah,2005-06-16 At a time of renewed interest in Empire this stimulating volume explores the complex relationship between the Bible and the colonial enterprise and examines some overlooked aspects of this relationship These include unconventional retellings of the gospel story of Jesus by Thomas Jefferson and Raja Rammohun Roy the fate of biblical texts when marshalled by Victorian preachers to strengthen British imperial intentions after the India uprising of 1857 the cultural political use of the Christian Old Testament first by the invaders to attack temple practices and rituals then by the invaded to endorse the temple heritage scorned by missionaries the dissident hermeneutics of James Long and William Colenso confronting and compromising with colonial ambitions and finally the subtly seditious deployment of biblical citations in two colonial novels This innovative book offers both practical and theoretical insights and provides compelling evidence of the continuing importance of postcolonial discourse for biblical studies
