Greener Homes For The Future Greener Homes For The Future:

Greener Homes for the Future? Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environmental Audit Committee,2008 This report examines three overarching issues the impact of the growth of house building targets what sort of homes should be built and where these homes should be built The Committee on Climate Change should assess the impact of the Government s new house building targets for three million new homes by 2020 on the UK s 2020 carbon reduction target In light of the latest economic projections fundamental changes in the mortgage market and falling house prices the Government should review the assumptions on which its target is based And the target for 2 million new homes to be built before the zero carbon target comes into effect in 2016 with a further 1 million to be built afterwards should change to increase significantly the proportion built afterwards Zero carbon homes must source their heat and power from renewable sources Ideally these will come from on site renewable power generation where this is impractical off site renewables should be built or funded The Government should ensure that an excess of land is not made available to developers something which is already leading to greenfield sites being developed in preference to brownfield sites The Government should urgently reintroduce a clear sequential test in favour of brownfield development into planning policy Greater emphasis ought to be placed on energy efficiency and sustainability within the building control regime that inspects new housing The Government should consider introducing higher penalties for developers who fail to meet energy efficiency standards The same environmental tests used for eco towns should be applied to all major housing developments from 2016 The Government should re examine eco town proposals to ensure they have good public transport links and are located close to commercial centres and employment opportunities Green Homes (A True Book: A Green Future) Felicia Brower,2024-02-06 Explore how technology can make homes more eco friendly in this STEM based book for kids Small changes over the years from smarter light bulbs to energy efficient appliances have made our homes more environmentally friendly In recent years we have learned how to make alternative energies and Earth friendly building methods and materials a reality Today we understand how to build green homes or dwellings that have zero negative impact on the environment Green Homes will show you how ABOUT THIS SERIES What would a green future look like Will trains and airplanes be powered by the sun Will we have homes that have zero impact on the environment The most pressing challenge facing us today is how to ensure a healthy Earth for ourselves and future generations This STEM based set of A True Books introduces students to the engineering innovations that can help us reach those goals Interesting information is presented in a fun friendly way and in the simplest terms possible and will inspire kids to start envisioning and enacting a more sustainable future Greener Homes for the Future Great Britain. Department for Communities and Local Government,2008-01-01 Greening government Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee,2009-08-05 This is the Committee s eighth report on the sustainable operations on the Government estate There has been some progress against targets but the Sustainable Development Commission has found that in 2007/08 the Government was not on track to meet its target for the reduction of carbon emissions from its own buildings. The Government was on track to meet its targets for recycling and for the sourcing of electricity from renewable sources but it performed less well than it had in 2006/07. It must improve the sustainability of its operations each year. The ease with which the Government continues to meet some targets even when its performance worsens indicates the urgent need for the Government to set itself more stringent targets. The Government should extend the system of targets and monitoring beyond central government and agencies to the wider public sector including its outsourced operations. The Government has the potential to drive change in the wider economy through sustainable procurement through investment in low carbon technologies and by driving the development of green skills in the workforce. But the Sustainable Development Commission found that Government performed poorly against its own targets. The Government must use its buying power to drive progress towards a greener economy. Many of the changes to the governance of Government's sustainable operations have been confusing or ineffective. The Government must ensure that there is a clear line of accountability for these matters and the Cabinet Office Minister responsible must take an active role in overseeing performance management.

Ideal Green Homes: Understanding The Needs of Malaysian House Buyers

Green Living by Design Jean

Nayar, 2009. Laid out in an easy to follow format with step by step instructions, special tips and material guides, this reference makes it easier than ever to remodel, renovate or decorate a home without hurting the planet.

Good Green Homes Jennifer Roberts, 2009-09. Green. It conjures images of a meadow in spring for some and the color of money for others. What does green have to do with our homes? In essence, green building or sustainable building means being smart about how we use energy, water and building materials so that we can live well without needlessly damaging the environment. Creating a good green home isn't just about conservation, about using less or saving more, although that's certainly part of it. It's about creating better homes that are easier on the environment, less expensive over the long term and more delightful to come home to. That's the message Jennifer Roberts wants to share in Good Green Homes, the ultimate new guide for people who want to live in comfortable, healthy, environmentally conscious homes. With some simple steps outlined in this book, you can save money and do your part to help save the environment. For instance, using an energy efficient light bulb saves you money. It also results in less demand for electricity, which in turn results in less pollution from power plants, which may help a child with asthma breathe a little easier. If you associate green built housing with the unconventional or the quirky, tree houses, geodesic domes, dwellings constructed of tires or soda bottles, think again. Perfect for homeowners, remodelers, renters who might be surprised by how much is within their power to change, architects, builders and interior designers, this book lays out seven fundamental principles of green building, illustrated with more than 150 color and 20 black and white photographs of more than twenty-five homes. Jennifer Roberts launched two retail stores in San Francisco specializing in environmentally sensible consumer products including household goods and is a freelance writer and editor on topics that include energy efficient building design and systems

The Economy of Green Cities Richard Simpson, Monika Zimmermann, 2012-11-06 This volume bridges the gap between the global promotion of the Green Economy and the manifestation of this new development strategy at the urban level Green cities are an imperative solution not only in meeting global environmental challenges but also in helping to ensure socio economic prosperity at the local level

Halting Biodiversity Loss Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environmental Audit Committee, 2008 This is the thirteenth report from the Environmental Audit Committee of the 2007 08 session HCP 743 ISBN 9780215524843 The Committee states that the Government will fail to meet the 2010 target to halt biodiversity loss although the target might have been unrealistic The Committee does see some progress with 80% of Sites of Special Scientific Interest SSIs in a favourable condition with a number of rare species having recovered In general though biodiversity loss continues in the wider countryside with many species and habitats facing severe declines and local extinctions The Committee does believe though that with leadership and effective policies biodiversity loss could in fact be reversed and states the Government should adopt a new target to halt the loss Biodiversity policies need to be cross departmental and the Government's ecosystem assessment is a way forward by encouraging such an approach and promoting biodiversity protection at the regional and local scales The Committee further states that the Government could make a large contribution in preventing biodiversity loss through more support for the UK Overseas Territories
