Suicide ,2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 It is all too easy to begin the introduction of a book examining suicide by citing statistics on rates of death around the world The vast majority of research seeks to make sense of suicide through quantitative analysis however this does not begin to do justice to the lived experience While we do not wish to suggest there is one right lens through which to study suicide we must recognize that there are myriad lenses through which to examine it There are many voices many stories that must be heeded and these stories are not just of the people who have themselves died by suicide but also those who are or have been suicidal and those who have been bereaved by suicide By examining cultural perspectives different media memory and place as well as loss this book aims to tell stories of suicide and working and living with the suicidal The Handbook of Adult Clinical Psychology Alan

Carr,Muireann McNulty,2016-03-31 The second edition of the Handbook of Adult Clinical Psychology An Evidence Based Practice Approach like its predecessor provides clinical psychologists in training with a comprehensive practice handbook to help build the skills necessary to complete a clinical placement in the field of adult mental health. While practical in orientation, the book is based solidly on empirical evidence. Building on the success of the previous edition, this handbook has been extensively revised in a number of ways. Throughout the book, the text, references, and website addresses have been updated to reflect important developments since the publication of the first edition. Recent research findings on the epidemiology, aetiology, course, outcome, assessment, and treatment of all psychological problems considered in this volume have been incorporated into the text. Account has been taken of changes in the diagnosis and classification of psychological problems reflected in the DSM 5. Chapters on ADHD in adults, emotion focused therapy, radically open dialectical behaviour therapy, and schema therapy have been added. The book is divided into 6 sections. Section 1 covers conceptual frameworks for practice, lifespan development, classification, and epidemiology. CBT, psychodynamic, emotion focused, systemic, and bio medical models and general assessment procedures. Section 2 deals with mood problems: depression, bipolar disorder, suicide risk, and anger management. Section 3 focuses on anxiety problems: social phobia, generalized anxiety disorder, panic disorder, obsessive compulsive disorder, post traumatic stress disorder, and depersonalization disorder. Section 4 deals with psychological problems linked to physical health: health anxiety, somatization, chronic pain, adjustment to cancer, and eating disorders. Section 5 focuses on other significant psychological problems that come to the attention of clinical psychologists in adult mental health services: ADHD in adults, alcohol and other drug problems, psychosis, and psychological problems in older adults. Section 6 contains chapters on therapeutic approaches to psychological distress related to complex childhood trauma, dialectical behaviour therapy for borderline personality disorder, racially open dialectical behaviour for over controlled presentations, and schema therapy. Each of the chapters on clinical problems explains how to assess and treat the condition in an evidence based way, with reference to case material. Interventions from cognitive behavioural, psychodynamic, interpersonal, systemic, and biomedical approaches are described where there is evidence that they are effective for the problem in question. Skill building exercises and further reading for psychologists and patients are included at the end of each chapter. This book is one of a set of three volumes which cover the lion's share of the curriculum for clinical psychologists in training in the UK and Ireland. The other two volumes are the Handbook of Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology, Third Edition, by Alan Carr, and the Handbook of Intellectual Disability and Clinical Psychology Practice, Second Edition, edited by Alan Carr, Christine Linehan, Gary O'Reilly, Patricia Noonan Walsh, and John McEvoy.

The Oxford Handbook of Behavioral Emergencies and Crises Phillip M. Kleespies, 2016-09-19. The Oxford Handbook of Behavioral Emergencies and Crises includes the most up to date and valuable research on the evaluation and management of the most challenging patients or clients faced by mental health providers: individuals who are at high risk of suicide, of other directed violence, or of becoming the victims of interpersonal violence. These are cases in which the outcome can be serious injury or death, and there can be negative consequences not only for the patient but also for the patient's family and friends for the assessing or treating clinician and for the patient's clinic or medical center. Virtually all mental health clinicians with an active caseload will see individuals with such issues. This Handbook is comprised of chapters by leading clinicians, researchers, and scholars in this area of practice. It presents a framework for learning the skills needed for assessing and working competently with such high-risk individuals. Chapters draw a distinction between behavioral emergencies and crises and between emergency intervention and crisis intervention. The book examines the interrelated aspects of the major behavioral emergencies that is, for example, the degree to which interpersonal victimization may lead an individual on a pathway to later suicidal or violent behavior or the degree to which suicidal individuals and violent individuals may share certain cognitive characteristics. This resource is not simply a knowledge base for behavioral emergencies; it also presents a method for reducing stress and acquiring skills in working with high-risk people.

The Oxford Handbook of Personality and Psychopathology Assessment Joni L. Mihura, 2025. In this second edition of the Oxford Handbook of Personality Assessment now titled The Oxford Handbook of Personality and Psychopathology Assessment, Joni L. Mihura brings together a respected group of international contributors to cover significant changes within the field of personality assessment. The Handbook is updated to cover a range of topics focusing on four major goals: to integrate contemporary dimensional models of personality and psychopathology; to use a multimethod approach in which the method of assessment shapes the desired construct; to integrate collaborative therapeutic assessment; and to consider personality and psychopathology assessment through the lens of human diversity.

The Oxford Handbook of Depression and Comorbidity C. Steven Richards, Michael W. O'Hara, 2014. The Oxford Handbook of Depression and Comorbidity brings together scholarly contributions from world-class researchers to present a careful and empirically based review of depressive comorbidity.

Handbook of School Counseling Hardin L.K. Coleman, Christine Yeh, 2011-04-06. The mission of this forty-eight chapter Handbook is to provide a comprehensive reference source that integrates counseling theory, research, and practice into one volume. It is designed to meet the needs of entry-level practitioners from their initial placement in schools through their first three to five years of practice. It will also be of interest to experienced school counselors, counselor educators, school researchers, and counseling representatives within state and local governments.

The Gender of Suicide Katrina Jaworski, 2016-03-09. Drawing on diverse theoretical and textual sources, The Gender of Suicide presents a critical study of the ways in which contemporary society understands suicide, exploring suicide across a range of key expert bodies of knowledge. With attention to Durkheim's founding study of suicide as well as discourses within sociology, law, medicine, psychology, and newsprint media, this book demonstrates that suicide cannot be understood without understanding how gender shapes it and without giving explicit attention to the manner in which prevailing claims privilege some interpretations and experiences of suicide above others. Revealing the masculine and masculinist terms in which our current knowledge of suicide is constructed, The Gender of

Suicide explores the relationship between our grasp of suicide and problematic ideas connected to the body agency violence race and sexuality As such it will appeal to sociologists and social theorists as well as scholars of cultural studies philosophy law and psychology
