Graphic Design Theory Helen Armstrong, 2012-08-10 Graphic Design Theory is organized in three sections Creating the Field traces the evolution of graphic design over the course of the early 1900s including influential avant garde ideas of futurism constructivism and the Bauhaus Building on Success covers the mid to late twentieth century and considers the International Style modernism and postmodernism and Mapping the Future opens at the end of the last century and includes current discussions on legibility social responsibility and new media Striking color images illustrate each of the movements discussed and demonstrate the ongoing relationship between theory and practice A brief commentary prefaces each text providing a cultural and historical framework through which the work can be evaluated Authors include such influential designers as Herbert Bayer László Moholy-Nagy Karl Mosler Katherine McCoy Michael Rock Lev Manovich Ellen Lupton and Lorraine Wild Additional features include a timeline glossary and bibliography for further reading A must have survey for graduate and undergraduate courses in design history theory and contemporary issues Graphic Design Theory invites designers and interested readers of all levels to plunge into the world of design discourse Digital Design Theory Helen Armstrong, 2016-06-28 Digital Design Theory bridges the gap between the discourse of print design and interactive experience by examining the impact of computation on the field of design As graphic design moves from the creation of closed static objects to the development of open interactive frameworks designers seek to understand their own rapidly shifting profession Helen Armstrong's carefully curated introduction to groundbreaking primary texts from the 1960s to the present provides the background necessary for an understanding of digital design vocabulary and thought Accessible essays from designers and programmers are by influential figures such as Ladislav Sutnar Bruno Munari Wim Crouwel Sol LeWitt Muriel Cooper Zuzana Licko Rudy VanderLans John Maeda Paola Antonelli Luna Maurer and Keetra Dean Dixon Their topics range from graphic design's fascination with programmatic design to early strivings for an authentic digital aesthetic to the move from object based design and to experience based design Accompanying commentary assesses the relevance of each excerpt to the working and intellectual life of designers The Graphic Design Process Anita Nottingham, Jeremy Stout, 2019-11-14 One of the main challenges students face upon entering design school is little knowledge of the field its terminology and best practices Unsurprisingly most new students have never fully developed a concept or visual idea been in a critique or have been asked to explain their work to others This book demystifies what design school is really like and explains what will be experienced at each stage with particular focus on practical advice on topics like responding to design briefs and developing ideas building up confidence and understanding what is expected Student work is critiqued to show how projects are really assessed Profiles highlight how professional designers themselves address client briefs Tips for real life problems are outlined like getting stuck and dealing with critical feedback Written by experienced instructors this is the perfect guide for those starting their design education Thinking through Graphic Design History Aggie
