The First Men In Ed Ruggero,2007-05-29 Of the nearly 15 000 Allied paratroopers dropped into France on D 14 two weeks before D Day only one regiment the 3 000 men of the 505 Parachute Infantry had been tested in battle and so they were given the toughest mission For a few critical days while the fate of occupied Europe hung in the balance these troopers held their ground against savage assaults In doing so they changed the course of World War II Within hours of landing in Normandy the paratroopers of the 505 Parachute Infantry Regiment had gathered in the darkened fields outside Ste Mere Eglise and moved rapidly to the edge of town A French civilian pointed out the German positions and in a lightning attack the GI s liberated the first town in Europe planting the United States flag on top of city hall Shortly after daylight as reports streamed in Allied commanders were shocked to learn that the 505 was the only one of six U S parachute regiments to hit its mark Because Ste Mere Eglise was the gateway to Utah Beach the regiment now fighting virtually alone hastily dug in to await the German counterattacks that were sure to follow Colonel Bill Ekman and his men held critical ground half of the American invasion force was to pass through this area and that would only happen if the 505 held Ste Mere Eglise It was an almost unimaginable challenge at ten that morning the German attacks began and by early afternoon enemy armored columns were slamming GI lines from three directions in an attempt to reach the vulnerable invasion beaches But despite heavy losses the 505 was still in control of Ste Mere Eglise on June 8 when they were relieved by units that came across the beach When their unseasoned replacements faltered U S commanders called on the exhausted paratroopers to stay in the fight and lead the series of ground assaults that would secure the invasion A single unit a relative handful of men had helped turn the course of one of the most important battles of the war

Hunting Jan E. Dizard, Mary Zeiss Stange, 2022-10-04 The history of hunting from Stone Age hunter gatherers to today's sport hunters Hunting has a long history beginning with our hominid ancestors The invention of the spear allowed early humans to graduate from scavenging to actual hunting The famous cave paintings at Lascaux show a meticulous knowledge of animal behavior and anatomy that only a hunter would have This volume in the MIT Press Essential Knowledge series traces the evolution of hunting from Stone Age hunting and gathering to today's regulated sport hunting Humans have been hunting since we became human but did hunting make us human The authors consider and question the hunting hypothesis of human origins noting that according to this theory hunting meant hunting by men They explore hunting in the Stone Age and how beginning some ten thousand years ago the spread of agriculture led to the emergence of empires and attempts by elites to monopolize hunting They examine the democratization of hunting in the American colonies and how hunters decimated but then in the twentieth century rallied to save game animals from extinction They describe how some European and postcolonial societies have managed wildlife and hunting consider the difficulties of living with abundant wildlife even as many nongame species are disappearing and trace the implications of the increasing participation of women in hunting for the future of hunting American Book Publishing Record, 1998
