Greek and Roman Artillery 399 BC-AD 363 Duncan B Campbell, 2003-11-21 The catapult katapultikon was invented under the patronage of Dionysius I tyrant of Syracuse in the 4th century bc At first only the arrow firing variant was used and it was not until the reign of Alexander the Great that stone projecting catapults were introduced The Romans adopted these weapons during the Punic Wars and further developed them before introducing the new arrow firing ballista and stone throwing onager This title traces the often controversial design development and construction of these weapons throughout the history of the classical world

The Wargames, The Roman Art And Science Of War André Geraque Kiffer, 2019-12-01 Board wargames are one of the most common forms of conflict simulation in mathematical models throughout history They are based on a map topographic or from a satellite photo where a hexagonal grid numbered or other geometric shape is applied to regulate the positioning and movement of the parts forces The pieces like those of chess are identified by symbols colors and numbers that register their historical qualities and quantities Two tables are basic the effects of geography terrain associated with weather conditions on the movements and the likely outcomes according to the relativity of opposing powers of the combats on the abilities of the pieces involved The sequence of each game is divided into a set number of turns or other names which vary according to the time scale and may range from minutes to years

Punic Wars, 264 Bc André Geraque Kiffer, 2019-12-06 Let us consider to make the next simulation possible that the political power of Carthage the suffetes and the families descended from kings would have understood the risk of living in the shadow of Rome They would understand that although the vocation of their people of Phoenician origin was essentially mercantilist they could not continue to practice it peacefully should the Roman Senate decide to expand its territory beyond the Italic peninsula And so rather late because they could have conquered all of Sicily involved in the Greek wars a long time ago than never they would decide for a total war against Rome to destroy its political power over the other nations of the peninsula so that they could conform to a Confederate Republic This would not forever prevent the inexorable march of Roman power but perhaps postpone or significantly alter its effects

Ennomus Naval Campaign And Battle, 256 Bc André Geraque Kiffer, 2019-12-08 In the simulation we will test what it would have been like if a Carthaginian squadron tried to engage not fix Roman consular squadrons the two at the forefront wedge another squadron delayed the approach of the Roman reinforcement base of the wedge while a third Carthaginian squadron attacked to destroy Roman transports As for technology the state of the art of war then associated with the available scientific knowledge leads us to simulate what the Ecnomus campaign and naval battle would have been like if the Carthaginian Navy had adopted and developed the use of incendiary artifacts such as ceramic pots with fire thrown by siege machines like the ballistas On the other hand it is certain that the Romans at this stage of the war would not use such devices for fear of associating hooking with fire

Alexander the Great Avenger Manousos E. Kambouris, 2023-09-30 Manousos Kambouris detailed analysis explains that it was Alexander's intelligent use of his modernized forces that allowed him to dictate the course of the campaign Since 500 BC the mainland Greeks had been threatened by the Achaemenid Persian Empire They had suffered major invasions but subsequent attempts to take the offensive had been thwarted With Alexander the Great's invasion the rules changed In Macedonia a new model army had been developed taking the traditional hoplite heavy infantry in a new evolutionary direction and similarly transforming the heavy cavalry These developments neutralized the Persians own efforts to modernize their troops tactics and equipment Despite the inclusion of a state of the art siege train the structure of the reformed Macedonian army allowed an unprecedented operational tempo Manousos Kambouris detailed analysis explains that it was Alexander's intelligent use of these forces that allowed him to dictate the course of the campaign His excellent strategic and operational decision making based on an intimate knowledge of geography and logistics along with well timed movements and clever feints allowed him to choose his battles which he then won by tactical brilliance and guts The author does not neglect to assess the Persian capabilities and decision making concluding that Darius III was not as inept as often thought Indeed he may have been the most militarily capable King of Kings but it was his misfortune to be pitted against the genius of Alexander the great avenger

Carthaginian Peace André Geraque Kiffer, 2019-12-03 The politics of the Republic of Carthage will be played while the actions of the other contemporary powers will be simulated based on historical assumptions each seeking to apply its own policy of Divide et Impera in a scenario that we can affirm according to geographer Eratosthenes as the first world war A
