Gods House At Ewelme:

God's House at Ewelme John Goodall, 2017 This title was first published in 2001 God's House at Ewelme is an extraordinary survival from England's late medieval past a well documented and superbly preserved chantry foundation established in 1437 by William and Alice de la Pole then Earl and Countess of Suffolk As originally constituted it supported a school a community of thirteen almsmen and two priests Their prayers and activities were to be offered for the praise of God and benefit of their founders souls Chantry foundations such as God's House were perhaps the single most important objects of devotional and artistic patronage in the Late Middle Ages and England's wealthiest men and women lavished care and money on them Few of these institutions survived the Reformation Despite the richness of their surviving physical remains and the light they shed on the social and devotional history of the period the great chantry foundations of the period remain little discussed and improperly understood God's House at Ewelme presents a fascinating account of the values and forces which shaped chantry devotion as well as the physical arrangements of a medieval religious foundation Provided by publisher

God's House at Ewelme John A. A. Goodall, 2001 God's House at Ewelme is an extraordinary survival from England's late Medieval past a well documented and superbly preserved chantry foundation established in 1437 by William and Alice de la Pole then Earl and Countess of Suffolk Using the wealth of architectural artistic and archival evidence at Ewelme John Goodall creates a realistic portrait of God's House in the fifteenth century highlighting the values and forces that shaped chantry devotion in this period God's House at Ewelme John A. A. Goodall, 1997 A History of the Church

Through Its Buildings Allan Doig, 2020 Allan Doig explores the Christian Church through the lens of twelve particular churches looking at their history archaeology and how the buildings changed over time in response to developing usage and beliefs

Almshouses in Early Modern England Angela Nicholls, 2017 This book is an examination of early modern English almshouses in the mixed economy of welfare Drawing on archival evidence from three contrasting counties Durham Warwickshire and Kent between 1550 and 1725 the book assesses the contribution almshouses made within the developing welfare systems of the time and the reasons for the enduring popularity of this particular form of charity Post Reformation almshouses are usually considered to have been places of privilege for the respectable deserving poor operating outside the structure of parish poor relief to which ordinary poor people were subjected and making little contribution to the genuinely poor and needy This book challenges these assumptions through an exploration of the nature and extent of almshouse provision it examines why almshouses were founded in the late sixteenth and seventeenth centuries who the occupants were what benefits they received and how residents were expected to live their lives The book reveals a surprising variation in the socio economic status of almspeople and their experience of almshouse life Contextualizing Miracles in the Christian

West, 1100-1500 Matthew M. Mesley, Louise E. Wilson, 2014-12-01 This volume brings together innovative research on miracles in the Christian West 1100 1500 and includes chapters on Anglo Norman saints cults late medieval Portugal and the legacy of medieval hagiography in the immediate Post Reformation period Contributors investigate miracle narratives in conjunction with broader socio cultural ideals practices and developments in medieval society They also reassess the legacy of Peter Brown challenge established dichotomies such as medicine and religion and examine relics lay beliefs and the liturgical evidence of a saint s cult moving beyond the traditional focus on canonization Medical history features prominently alongside other approaches these clarify the contexts of our sources and demonstrate the methodological vibrancy in this field

Women in England in the Middle Ages Jennifer Ward,2006-10-12 Medieval women faced many of the problems of their modern counterparts in bringing up their families balancing family and work and responding to the demands of their communities Of many women in the period of a thousand years before 1500 we know little or nothing though their typical ways of life on farms or in the towns can be reconstructed with accuracy from a variety of sources We know more about a far smaller number of elite women including queens such as Eleanor of Aquitaine and Margaret of Anjou noblewomen whose characters and attitudes can be sensed directly or indirectly and a variety of religious women Literary sources help flesh out real attitudes such as those of Chaucer s Wife of Bath Jennifer Ward shows the life cycle of medieval women from birth via marriage and child rearing to widowhood and death She also brings out the slow changes in the position of women over a millennium

The Hollow Crown Miri Rubin,2005-01-27 There is no more haunting compelling period in Britain s history than the later middle ages The extraordinary kings Edward III and Henry V the great warriors Richard II and Henry VI tragic inadequates killed by their failure to use their power and Richard III the demon king The extraordinary events the Black Death that destroyed a third of the population the Peasants Revolt the Wars of the Roses the Battle of Agincourt The extraordinary artistic achievements the great churches castles and tombs that still dominate the landscape the birth of the English language in The Canterbury Tales For the first time in a generation a historian has had the vision and confidence to write a spell binding account of the era immortalised by Shakespeare s history plays THE HOLLOW CROWN brilliantly brings to life for the reader a world we have long lost a strange Catholic rural country of monks peasants knights and merchants almost perpetually at war but continues to define so much of England s national myth

The Routledge History of Poverty, c.1450-1800 David Hitchcock,Julia McClure,2020-12-30 The Routledge History of Poverty c 1450 1800 is a pioneering exploration of both the lives of the very poorest during the early modern period and of the vast edifices of compassion and coercion erected around them by individuals institutions and states The essays chart critical new directions in poverty scholarship and connect poverty to the environment debt and downward social mobility material culture empires informal economies disability veterancy and more The volume contributes to the understanding of societal transformations across the early modern period and places poverty and the poor at the centre of these transformations It also argues for a wider definition of poverty in history which accounts for much more than economic and social circumstance and provides both analytically critical overviews and detailed case studies By exploring poverty and the poor across early modern Europe

this study is essential reading for students and researchers of early modern society economic history state formation and empire cultural representation and mobility

Bodies and Disciplines Barbara Hanawalt, David Wallace, 1996-01-01

Centered on practices of the body human bodies the body politic Bodies and Disciplines considers a fascinating and largely uncanonical group of texts as well as public dramas rituals and spectacles from multidisciplinary perspectives The result is a volume that incorporates insights from history literature medieval studies and critical theory drawing from the strengths of each discipline to illuminate a relatively little studied period

Village Walks in Britain Automobile Association (Great Britain), 1996 Here are short tours most take a half hour to one or two hours of 165 villages of unusual interest beauty and charm

Alban and St Albans Phillip Lindley, Martin Henig, 2024-11-01 This is a collection of eighteen papers presented at a conference that was held at the Hatfield Campus of the University of Hertfordshire with 122 members and guests from the United Kingdom the United States of America Germany and Norway were present The papers are on the research on various aspects of the art and architecture of the abbey at St Albans and provides an ideal forum for bringing together many aspects of the abbey's history

The Wollaton Medieval Manuscripts Ralph Hanna, Thorlac Turville-Petre, 2010 The Willoughby family from Wollaton Nottinghamshire built up an extensive medieval library including the notable Wollaton Antiphonal theirs is the largest surviving library gathered by a gentry family of the period the product of a single acquisitive burst beginning around 1460 and mainly completed at about the time of the Dissolution in 1540 The manuscripts remain unique because of the very substantial core which survives more or less in situ together with a huge collection of family archives at the University of Nottingham just a few miles from their original home This book focuses upon the ten manuscripts now in the Wollaton Library Collection as well as the famous Antiphonal Essays explore the history of the library and the Willoughby family the books of Sir Thomas Chaworth the art and function of the Antiphonal the works of pastoral instruction the decoration of the French manuscripts including the earliest fully illustrated manuscript of romances the Confessio Amantis and the conservation of the collection The essays are followed by a full catalogue of the Wollaton Library Collection as well as of manuscripts and early printed books now dispersed as far afield as Tokyo and New York

Death in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times Albrecht Classen, 2016-04-11 Death is not only the final moment of life it also casts a huge shadow on human society at large People throughout time have had to cope with death as an existential experience and this also of course in the premodern world The contributors to the present volume examine the material and spiritual conditions of the culture of death studying specific buildings and spaces literary works and art objects theatrical performances and medical tracts from the early Middle Ages to the late eighteenth century Death has always evoked fear terror and awe it has puzzled and troubled people forcing theologians and philosophers to respond and provide answers for questions that seem to evade real explanations The more we learn about the culture of death the more we can comprehend the culture of life As this volume demonstrates the approaches to death varied widely also in the Middle Ages and the early modern age This volume

hence adds a significant number of new facets to the critical examination of this ever present phenomenon of death exploring poetic responses to the Black Death types of execution of a female murderess death as the springboard for major political changes and death reflected in morality plays and art Some Early and Later Houses of Pity John Morrison Hobson,1926

Traditional Buildings in the Oxford Region John Steane,James Ayres,2013-11-29 The pivotal position of the Oxford region in the geological and therefore building history of England is of fundamental importance to the study of traditional construction Oxford occupies a central position on the ancient route between Northampton and Southampton and on the east west road between London The West Country Wales and Ireland For this reason unusually for vernacular architecture the buildings of the region were subject to a wide range of influences This book the fruit of twenty years research provides an account of vernacular architecture in the Oxford region from Anglo Saxon times to the 19th century It begins with a discussion of methods and procedures followed by a description of building materials stone brick slate and thatch This serves as an introduction to the heart of the book eleven chapters dealing with surveys of cruck buildings manorial and moated sites town houses with particular emphasis on Abingdon and houses in the countryside from farmhouses to cottages There are then chapters on fire hazards public houses and public buildings Several appendices are devoted to wall paintings ferramenta apotropaic marks carpentry details secrets under the floorboards fireplaces staircases and windows The book is richly and profusely illustrated with over 500 illustrations photographs maps and a particular strength a large number of drawings of architectural details and sketch perspectives Parochial Antiquities Attempted in the History of Ambrosden

White Kennett,1818 The Fifteenth Century XX Linda Clark, Customer James Ross,2024-08-27 This series pushes the boundaries of knowledge and develops new trends in approach and understanding ENGLISH HISTORICAL REVIEW As is appropriate in a volume honouring the distinguished scholarship in this field of Dr Rowena E Archer wealthy and influential ladies most notably Alice Chaucer duchess of Suffolk take centre stage alongside successive queens consort of the period whose councils helped to implement justice Alice s almshouse at Ewelme provides a fine example of the many institutions which offered care for the elderly in late medieval England a period when Henry VII placed great emphasis on the burials of his kinsfolk particularly in Westminster abbey to ensure that their memory would endure Pretenders to the throne of that king and his successor who included Alice s grandson bring into focus the riots of 1487 near the borders of Wales and portraits dating from the 1520s Other themes of language how Henry V employed English in France law the development of the concept of the body corporate and taxation levies imposed on imported wine are added to an intriguing comparison of relations between English administrators and the nobility of Gascony with British imperialists and the princes of India

The history of Chilton, in the county of Buckingham White Kennett,1818 Sisters of Richard III Sarah J Hodder,2024-05-16 This book is the narrative of three women of York sisters to not one but two kings of England Anne Elizabeth and Margaret Plantagenet were the daughters of Richard Duke of York and his wife Cecily Neville and therefore sisters to Edward IV and Richard III These women watched from the sidelines as their father challenged England's anointed king and lost his life as their brothers fought together for the throne of England and then amongst themselves and as the Plantagenet dynasty fell making way for the reign of the Tudors But they were not just bystanders they had their own stories to tell Anne of York was married to the Lancastrian Duke of Exeter who sided against her father and brother before finding later happiness albeit briefly with her second husband Elizabeth of York married John de la Pole Duke of Suffolk and became the mother of eleven children who would become thorns in the side of the Tudor kings and Margaret of York became Duchess of Burgundy a hugely influential woman in her adopted kingdom although she never stopped supporting her family back in England Between them they witnessed and contributed to one of the most turbulent times in English history yet they have naturally been overshadowed by their more famous brothers This is their story
