Going Public Public Architecture Urbanism And Interventions:

Going Public Robert Klanten, S. Ehmann, 2012 Going Public showcases the creative revival of public space in our urban and rural landscapes. The book's compelling selection of formal and informal interventions, reclamations and architecture illustrates the current scope and interest in refashioning and repurposing our built environment for public use. The objectives of the featured examples are as diverse as the projects themselves and range from inspiring communication and community experience to devising new means of gathering in and connecting to nature. Ranging from bold to subtle and from temporary to permanent, the architecture and urban design featured in Going Public offers inspiring and surprising interpretations of our public surroundings and natural landscapes.

Arts in Place Cara Courage, 2017-02-03 This interdisciplinary book explores the role of art in placemaking in urban environments, analysing how artists and communities use arts to improve their quality of life. It explores the concept of social practice placemaking where artists and community members are seen as equal experts in the process. Drawing on examples of local level projects from the USA and Europe, the book explores the impact of these projects on the people involved, on their relationship to the place around them, and on city policy and planning practice. Case studies include Art Tunnel Smithfield Dublin, an outdoor art gallery and community space in an impoverished area of the city; The Drawing Shed London, a contemporary arts practice operating in housing estates and parks in Walthamstow; and Big Car Indianapolis, an arts organisation operating across the whole of this Midwest city. This book offers a timely contribution bridging the gap between cultural studies and placemaking. It will be of interest to scholars, students and practitioners working in geography, urban studies, architecture, planning, sociology, cultural studies and the arts.

Reinventing Eastern Europe: Imaginaries, Identities and Transformations Evinc Doğan, 2019-01-22 This edited collection brings together a wide range of topics that shed light on the social, cultural, economic, political and spatio-temporal changes influencing post-socialist cities of Eastern Europe. Different case studies are presented through papers that were presented at the Euroacademia International Conference series. Imaginaries, identities and transformations represent three blocks for understanding the ways in which visual narratives, memory and identity and processes of alterity shape the symbolic meanings articulated and inscribed upon post-socialist cities. As such, this book stimulates a debate in order to provide alternative views on the dynamics, persistence and change broadly shaping mental mappings of Eastern Europe. The volume offers an opportunity for scholars, activists and practitioners to identify, discuss and debate the multiple dimensions in which specific narratives of alterity making towards Eastern Europe preserve their salience today in refurbished and refashioned manners.

Cities of Opportunities Jason Pomeroy,2020-01-31 Culture refers to not only the arts but also other manifestations of human intellectual achievement regarded collectively It similarly refers to the customs institutions and achievements of a social group a people or a nation Innovation refers to the action or process of change alteration or revolution a new method of idea creation or product that may bring about change It is easy to assume that innovation may be juxtaposed to the preservation of culture and time tested rituals Yet as human settlements grew and as streets and squares evolved through the diverse exchanges of people trading celebrating rallying and socially interacting it should come as little surprise that cities and its places would become and continue to be centres of culture and innovation that can be inextricably linked Culture and Innovation in cities can potentially take on different complexions if viewed through the lens of academics and practitioners drawn from different geographies disciplines or fields of expertise when addressing particular urban challenges It is through this complexity of views that this book seeks to provide a broad perspective on culture and innovation in the context of global cities today and a rich cornucopia of insights from thought leaders within their respective fields to shape the cities of tomorrow

Constructing a Place of Critical Architecture in China

Guanghui Ding, 2016-03-09 For the past 30 years The Chinese journal Time Architecture Shidai Jianzhu has focused on publishing innovative and exploratory work by emerging architects based in private design firms who were committed to new material theoretical and pedagogical practices In doing so this book argues that the journal has engaged in the presentation and production of a particular form of critical architecture described as an intermediate criticality as a response to the particular constraints of the Chinese cultural and political context The journal's publications displayed a dual critique a resistant attitude to the dominant modes of commercial building practice characterised by rapid and large scale urban expansion and an alternative publishing practice focusing on emerging independent architectural practitioners through the active integration of theoretical debates architectural projects and criticisms This dual critique is illustrated through a careful review and analysis of the history and programme of the journal By showing how the work of emerging architects including Yung Ho Chang Wang Shu Liu Jiakun and Urbanus are situated within the context of the journal's special thematic editions on experimental architecture exhibition group design new urban space and professional system the book assesses the contribution the journal has made to the emergence of a critical architecture in China in the context of how it was articulated debated presented and perhaps even produced within the pages of the publication itself The protagonists of critical architecture have endeavoured to construct an alternative mode of form and space with strong aesthetic and socio-political implications to the predominant production of architecture under the current Chinese socialist market economy To rebel against certain forms of domination and suppression by capital and power is by no means to completely reject them rather it is to use them
