Knowledge of English Literature (1820-1848) Eric Partridge,1924 Counter-Modernities in Nineteenth-Century French Literature Robert St. Clair,2025-07-31 Counter Modernities in Nineteenth Century French Literature explores a counterview of modernity in late nineteenth century French literature 1848 1891 The principal claim of this book is that what we find in the works of Baudelaire Rimbaud and Flaubert is a form of writing against the grain of history not the elegant lyricism of history s victors but a use of literature against the erasures of past injustices and for those lost futurities upon which the order of the present is founded What we find in other words is a critical literary archive of the powerless that persists in contesting the legitimacy of the powerful which persists in haunting the nineteenth century every bit as much as it does our own achingly out of joint present The story Counter Modernities seeks to tell is in other words about the meaning of loss and the significance of losers as possible figures of opposition to the dominant order in nineteenth century French literature that is also a story about modernity as an aesthetic politics What brings together the authors in this study however cannot be reduced be the biographical that is to the uneven successes financial hardships and in one case outright failure i e Rimbaud shared by the authors in the literary market of their lifetime At stake in this study is not an account of the ironies of literary history wherein to gloss Walter Benjamin s take on Baudelaire a prior and benighted era sees little of interest in an artist in which a later epoch recognizes the genius of modernity Rather Constellations of Loss in Baudelaire Rimbaud and Flaubert demonstrates how each author in this critical corpus insists on tarrying with history as an experience of irrevocable loss each lingers with history as a force of negations and thereby insists on the significance of historical setbacks and political defeats that seem to affect if not more dramatically wipe out the collective hopes of entire generations Each one gives us losers as subjects who matter in the nineteenth century Baudelaire Flaubert Rimbaud narratives of historical defeat that are as negative as they are meaningful Baudelaire Flaubert or the contours of events whose meanings and narratives are themselves lost Baudelaire Rimbaud whose meanings remain in other words perhaps less absent than open ended a possible grammar for what may come next when hope seems lost and dreams dashed Indeed as this books shows it is precisely in its representation of history as a dilemma or undoing of meaningfulness a problem of legibility and not knowingness that we can most fully recognize the formal calling cards of literary modernity ironic undecidabilities and difficulties infinite interpretability and the death of the author the dissolution of previously stable cultural and historical narratives or forms of subjectivity formal breaks with semantically oriented modes of representation and so on

Emile Zola and the Artistry of Adaptation Kate Griffiths, 2017-12-02 Filmmakers have drawn inspiration from the pages of Emile Zola from the earliest days of cinema The ever growing number of adaptations they have produced spans eras genres languages and styles In spite of the diversity of these approaches numerous critics regard them as inferior copies of a superior textual original But key novels by Zola resist this critical approach to adaptation Both at the level of characterization and in terms of their own textual inheritance they question the very possibility of origin be it personal or textual In the light of this questioning the cinematic versions created from Zolas texts merit critical re evaluation Far from being facile copies of the nineteenth century novelists works these films assess their own status as adaptations playing with both notions of artistic creation and their own artistic act Kate Griffiths is a lecturer in French at Swansea University

The Imagery of Interior Spaces Michael J. Kelly, Dominique Bauer, 2019 On the unstable boundaries between interior and exterior private and public and always in some way relating to a beyond the imagery of interior space in literature reveals itself as an often disruptive code of subjectivity and of modernity The wide variety of interior spaces elicited in literature from the odd room over the womb secluded parks and train compartments to the city as a world under a cloth reveal a common defining feature these interiors can all be analyzed as codes of a paradoxical both assertive and fragile subjectivity in its own unique time and history They function as subtexts that define subjectivity time and history as profoundly ambiguous realities on interchangeable existential socio political and epistemological levels This volume addresses the imagery of interior spaces in a number of iconic and also lesser known yet significant authors of European North American and Latin American literature of the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries Djuna Barnes Edmond de Goncourt William Faulkner Gabriel Garcia Márquez Benito Pérez Galdós Elsa Morante Robert Musil Jules Romains Peter Waterhouse and Émile Zola
