Poetic Trespass Lital Levy, 2014-10-26 A Palestinian Israeli poet declares a new state whose language Homeländic is a combination of Arabic and Hebrew A Jewish Israeli author imagines a language plague that infects young Hebrew speakers with old world accents and sends the narrator in search of his Arabic heritage In Poetic Trespass Lital Levy brings together such startling visions to offer the first in depth study of the relationship between Hebrew and Arabic in the literature and culture of Israel Palestine More than that she presents a captivating portrait of the literary imagination's power to transgress political boundaries and transform ideas about language and belonging Blending history and literature Poetic Trespass traces the interwoven life of Arabic and Hebrew in Israel Palestine from the turn of the twentieth century to the present exposing the two languages intimate entanglements in contemporary works of prose poetry film and visual art by both Palestinian and Jewish citizens of Israel In a context where intense political and social pressures work to identify Jews with Hebrew and Palestinians with Arabic Levy finds writers who have boldly crossed over this divide to create literature in the language of their other as well as writers who bring the two languages into dialogue to rewrite them from within Exploring such acts of poetic trespass Levy introduces new readings of canonical and lesser known authors including Emile Habibi Hayyim Nahman Bialik Anton Shammas Saul Tchernichowsky Samir Naqqash Ronit Matalon Salman Masalha A B Yehoshua and Almog Behar By revealing uncommon visions of what it means to write in Arabic and Hebrew Poetic Trespass will change the way we understand literature and culture in the shadow of the Israeli Palestinian conflict Some images inside the book are unavailable due to digital copyright restrictions The Arab Nahda as Popular Entertainment, 2023-11-16 What was popular entertainment like for everyday Arab societies in Middle Eastern cities during the long nineteenth century In what ways did caf culture theatre illustrated periodicals cinema cabarets and festivals serve as key forms of popular entertainment for Arabic speaking audiences many of whom were uneducated and striving to contend with modernity's anxiety inducing realities Studies on the 19th to mid 20th century's transformative cultural movement known as the Arab nahda renaissance have largely focussed on concerns with nationalism secularism and language often told from the perspective of privileged groups Highlighting overlooked aspects of this movement this book shifts the focus away from elite circles to quotidian audiences Its ten contributions range in scope from music and visual media to theatre and popular fiction Paying special attention to networks of movement and exchange across Arab societies in Lebanon Syria Egypt Iraq and Morocco this book heeds the call for translocal transnational cultural histories while contributing to timely global studies on gender sexuality and morality Focusing on the often marginalized frequenters of cafés artist studios cinemas nightclubs and the streets it expands the remit of who participated in the nahda and how they did

Landscape (Arabic) Taha Muhammad, 2015-11-29 I was in a strange place as I was in my Kurdistan land strange Not only was it strange in my Kurdistan land but there was iron and fire on our heads by the executioners from Iraq Turkey Iran and Syria This alienation that I've been away from getting our rights on our Kurdistan land as a state such as Turks and Arabs made me to express my sorrow by the innocent paintings Is it not unfair to be a slave to another folk who rules us with all of his might by weapons of others and destroys our villages and kills hundreds when he wants and there's no country in the world to pronounce on this brazen injustice And now it's time for the independence of Kurdistan from the wolves and it's time to sit down and look carefully at my innocent paintings you also perhaps will look at my paintings from other people of the Turks Persians and Arabs and all the world Banipal, 2000 From Sherds to Landscapes Mark Altaweel, Carrie Hritz, 2021-05-20 This volume honors McGuire Gibson and his years of service to archaeology of Mesopotamia Yemen and neighboring regions Professor Gibson spent most of his career at the University of Chicago's Near Eastern Languages and Civilizations department and the Oriental Institute Many of his students colleagues and friends have contributed to this volume reflecting Gibson's diverse interests The volume presents new results in areas such as landscape archaeology urbanism the ancient languages of Mesopotamia history of Mesopotamia the archaeology of Iran and Yemen prehistory material culture and wider archaeological topics Federal Register, 2017 Sufism in the Contemporary Arabic Novel Ziad Elmarsafy, 2014-08-20 This book will present close readings of three contemporary Arabic novelists an Egyptian Gamal Al Ghitany an Algerian Taher Ouetar and a Touareg Libyan Ibrahim Al Koni who have all turned to Sufism as a literary strategy aimed at negotiating i Journal of Palestine Studies, 2002 Arab Cultural Studies Tarik Sabry, 2011-11-30 Arab Cultural Studies Mapping the Field is the first attempt to explore ways of conceptualising and theorising the nascent field of Arab Cultural Studies It reflects and engages in an interdisciplinary discussion on the different facets of Arab cultural studies including gender economy history epistemology language method politics literary and cultural criticism institutionalization popular culture creativity and much more The book presents a meta narrative about how scholars have thus far thought and re thought the field It brings together prominent and emerging experts writing from both Arab and Western academia to engage with key complex epistemic and methodological questions and to articulate in the meantime the new kinds of language and hermeneutics necessary for the appropriation of an historically conscious and coherent field of scientific enquiry into contemporary Arab media culture and society In Person Neil Astley, 2008 Thirty poets from around the world read to you in person This is a new concept in publishing your own personal poetry festival brought into your home Each poet reads to you for about ten minutes up to half a dozen poems chosen from across the range of their work In Person is a collaboration between Bloodaxe Books and award winning film maker Pamela Robertson Pearce Her style of filming combines directness and simplicity sensitivity and warmth the perfect combination for these intimate readings It is as if the poet were sitting in the room with you reading just to you and sometimes saying a few things about the poems Apart from one recording taken from a live public performance all the films present informal one to one readings They enhance your appreciation of the poetry You hear how the poems sound you see how the poets read and present their work T S Eliot once described poetry as one person talking to another while W H Auden believed it was essential to hear poetry read aloud for no poem which when mastered is not better heard than read is good poetry In Person presents the oral art of poetry in that spirit There are four hours of readings on two DVDs pouched inside the back cover and all the poems are printed in this book In Person celebrates 30 years of poetry from a pioneering press Founded in 1978 Bloodaxe has published nearly a thousand titles by three hundred writers Until now you wouldn't be able to see or hear readings by many of Bloodaxe's international range of poets In Person makes that possible for the first time presenting readings by 30 essential voices from Britain Ireland America Spain Hungary Palestine Pakistan China New Zealand and the Caribbean Four out of the 30 short films present the poets work bilingually Menna Elfyn's reading alternates between her Welsh poems and their English translations Joan Margarit reads in Catalan in tandem with his translator Anna Crowe reading her English translations Palestinian poet Taha Muhammad Ali reads in Arabic and then re inhabits each poem as it is read in English by his translator Peter Cole Yang Lian introduces his work in English and reads the poems in Chinese This anthology presents all their poems in both languages in a parallel text format enabling you to follow either language as the poems are read on the film All the other readings are in English only and in many varieties of English which will add greatly to your enjoyment and appreciation of the poetry not just poems read in Scottish Welsh and Irish English by Jackie Kay W N Herbert Gwyneth Lewis Brendan Kennelly and Micheal O Siadhail but also George Szirtes Hungarian inflected English Benjamin Zephaniah's melding of Jamaican and Birmingham and the Caribbean lilt of John Agard and James Berry The musical range of American voices is just as diverse ranging from urban Detroit Philip Levine to the Ozark Mountains C D Wright There's also a bonus track a short film of Bloodaxe's first poet Ken Smith made by Ivor Bowen just before Ken's untimely death Art of the Middle East Saeb Eigner, 2010 Artistic expression in the Middle East is experiencing something of a renaissance Domestic patronage is flourishing and an impressive array of new museums and art fairs across the region is helping to stimulate international interest in an increasingly influential movement Art of the Middle East is an accessible overview of modern and contemporary art of the Middle East and Arab world from 1945 to the present with an emphasis on artists active today The featured works are divided into seven themed sections including literature portraiture and the body and politics conflict and war while extended captions provide an engaging commentary on each artwork and the artist behind its creation Lavishly illustrated throughout this landmark publication is an authoritative guide to a challenging and exciting body of work

Cairo's Street Stories Lesley Kitchen Lababidi, 2008 In 1872 Ismail Pasha the khedive of Egypt was the first to adopt the European custom of positioning heroic statues on public display as a symbolic message of the continuing authority of the ruling Muhammad Ali dynasty to which he belonged but it was not until the early twentieth century and the determination of sculptor Mahmoud Mukhtar that such public art gained general acceptance and today statues stand ride or sit in the streets squares and gardens of Cairo Each sculpture adds a piece to the jigsaw of history spanning personalities and events that shaped the city and wider Egypt from 1805 to 1970 and here Cairo based author Lesley Lababidi provides a unique perspective on Egyptian history through looking at more than thirty statues and monumental sculptures and the stories behind them Between statues she explores Cairo's growth and its multidimensional identity as manifested in the development and changing use of city space over the centuries and examines the relationship of Cairo's modern denizens with the landscapes districts palaces archaeological sites cafés bridges and gardens of their great and maddening city the Mother of the World Illustrated throughout with color photographs and archival pictures Cairo's Street Stories presents a unique and lively view of the history that fashioned the city's streets and open spaces and of the many and often unexpected uses to which its inventive inhabitants put them
