Language Of The Earth A Literary Anthology:

Language of the Earth Frank H. T. Rhodes, Richard O. Stone, Bruce D. Malamud, 2011-08-26 Man's complex relationship to planet Earth is explored in this second edition of the landmark anthology edited by Frank Rhodes and Bruce Malamud. This volume provides a portrait of the planet as experienced not just by scientists but by artists, aviators, poets, philosophers, novelists, historians, and sociologists as well. A unique collection that bridges the gap between science and humanities. Contains writings by scientists, artists, aviators, poets, philosophers, novelists, historians, and sociologists including Charles Darwin, Dane Picard, Rachel Carson, John Muir, Mark Twain, and Archibald Geikie. Represents the human experience over the centuries covering a span of 2,500 years. Reflects the planet's extraordinary physical diversity. The previous edition was voted one of the 25 Great Books of Geology by readers of the Journal of Geological Education; this is a very worthwhile read with something for everyone interested in geography, earth systems, and geology, natural history, or the general environment. Robert A. Francis, King's College London, Progress in Physical Geography. Ecological Literature and the Critique of Anthropocentrism Bryan L. Moore, 2017-10-14 This book is an analysis of literary texts that question, critique, or subvert anthropocentrism, the notion that the universe and everything in it exists for humans. Bryan Moore examines ancient Greek and Roman texts, medieval to twentieth-century European texts, eighteenth-century French philosophy, early to contemporary American texts, and poetry and science fiction to demonstrate a historical basis for the questioning of anthropocentrism and contemplation of responsible environmental stewardship in the twenty-first century and beyond. Ecological Literature and the Critique of Anthropocentrism is essential reading for ecocritics and ecofeminists. It will also be useful for researchers interested in the relationship between science and literature, environmental philosophy, and literature in general. The Sixth Extinction Elizabeth Kolbert, 2014-01-01 Over the last half billion years, there have been five major mass extinctions when the diversity of life on Earth suddenly and dramatically contracted. Scientists are currently monitoring the sixth extinction, predicted to be the most devastating since the asteroid impact that wiped out the dinosaurs. This time around, the cataclysm is us. In this book, the author tells us why and how human beings have altered life on the planet in a way no species has before. She provides a moving account of the disappearances of various species occurring all around us and traces the evolution of extinction as a concept from its first articulation by Georges Cuvier in revolutionary Paris up to Lyell and Darwin and through the present day. The sixth extinction is likely to be mankind's most lasting legacy, compelling us to rethink the fundamental question of what it means to be human. Back cover. Speaking the Earth's Languages Stuart Cooke, 2013 Speaking the Earth's Languages brings together for the first time critical discussions of postcolonial poetics from Australia and Chile. The book crosses multiple languages, landscapes, and disciplines and draws on a wide range of both oral and written poetics in order to make strong claims about the importance of a nomad poetics, not only for understanding Aboriginal or Mapuche writing practices but more widely for the problems confronting contemporary literature and politics.

in colonized landscapes The book begins by critiquing canonical examples of non indigenous postcolonial poetics Incisive re readings of two icons of Australian and Chilean poetry Judith Wright 1915 2000 and Pablo Neruda 1904 1973 provide rich insights into non indigenous responses to colonization in the wake of modernity The second half of the book establishes compositional links between Aboriginal and Mapuche poetics and between such oral and written poetics more generally The book s final part develops an emerging synthesis of contemporary Aboriginal and Mapuche poetics with reference to the work of two of the most important avant garde Aboriginal and Mapuche poets of recent times Lionel Fogarty 1958 and Paulo Huirimilla 1973 Speaking the Earth s Languages uses these fascinating links between Aboriginal and Mapuche poetics as the basis of a deliberately nomadic open ended theory for an Australian Chilean postcolonial poetics The central argument of this book the author writes is that a nomadic poetics is essential for a genuinely postcolonial form of habitation or a habitation of colonized landscapes that doesn t continue to replicate colonialist ideologies involving indigenous dispossession and environmental exploitation

Heavens and Earth Stephen Vincent Benét, 2025-04-24 In Heavens and Earth Stephen Vincent Benét crafts a sweeping narrative that interweaves the mystical and the historical exploring the American experience from its indigenous roots to the quintessentially modern era Employing a rich tapestry of poetic language and vivid imagery Benét delves into the complexities of nature spirituality and the human condition providing readers with a profound sense of place and identity This collection reflects the modernist literary context of the early 20th century characterized by experimentation with form and a focus on the psychological landscape of both individuals and society at large Stephen Vincent Benét an acclaimed American poet and novelist was heavily influenced by his own experiences growing up in diverse cultural backgrounds across the United States His deep appreciation for American folklore and history is evident throughout the collection as he seeks to bridge the past with the present in a manner that honors both The themes of memory loss and the search for meaning resonate throughout his work making his voice uniquely relevant to the American literary canon I highly recommend Heavens and Earth to readers seeking a profound exploration of the intersection between humanity and the natural world Benét s masterful use of language and his ability to evoke emotion will resonate with both poetry enthusiasts and those interested in the larger narratives of American history making this collection a compelling and enriching read

Earth Alert! Kris Neville, 2023-10-04 In Earth Alert Kris Neville presents a thought provoking exploration of ecological catastrophes and humanity s response to impending crises Set against a backdrop of speculative fiction the novel weaves a compelling narrative that reflects the anxieties of its time particularly during the rise of environmentalism in the 1960s and 70s Neville s prose masterfully blends rich descriptive language with sharp dialogue creating an engaging read that prompts readers to ponder the intersection of science and ethics in an age of technological advancement and environmental degradation Kris Neville an acclaimed writer known for his contributions to science fiction often drew inspiration from the rapidly changing world around him including the Cold War and burgeoning green movements His background in physics and interest in social issues undoubtedly influenced the themes present in Earth Alert. As he delves into the implications of ecological disaster and societal responsibility, Neville's intricate understanding of scientific concepts lends a sense of credibility and urgency to his narrative. Recommended for fans of speculative fiction and environmental studies, Earth Alert serves as a cautionary tale that remains relevant in today's context of climate change and ecological turmoil. With its insightful commentary and engaging storytelling, Neville's work invites readers to reflect on their role in the environmental narrative and challenges them to consider the fate of the planet.

Hitherto undiscovered yet fundamental historical and literary texts from the Pacific provide the subject matter of this collection of essays which sets out to explore the new forms of writing and hybrid identities emerging from both past and contemporary cultural contact and exchange in the South Seas. This is also a weaving of the connections between Francophone and Anglophone writers long separated by colonial history. Luis Cardoso writing in Portuguese from East Timor offers further points of contrast. The places of encounter, the beaches of Tahiti, the retelling of the texts of oral tradition, indigenous mastery of writing and appropriation of Western technology, the construction of contemporary Pacific anthologies or emerging post-colonial writing and translation are sites of interaction and mixing that also involve negotiations of mana or power. From Pierre Loti's mythical and feminised Tahitians to D. W. Gorod's silenced women, the outcomes of such negotiations are dynamic and different syncretisms. Two chapters reexamine the theoretical concept of hybridity from these Pacific perspectives. Les articles publiés dans le présent recueil explorent les nouvelles formes d'écriture et les identités hybrides issues du creuset des Mers du Sud. Relativement inconnus, les textes au cœur de ces articles n'en sont pas moins les œuvres fondatrices de la région du Pacifique Sud dont ils constituent la trame historique et littéraire. Longtemps tenus à l'écart les uns des autres par l'histoire coloniale de la région, les textes d'auteurs francophones et anglophones s'enchevêtrent et se recoupent en de multiples domaines. La reprise des textes de tradition orale, l'appropriation autochtone des technologies occidentales, la création d'anthologies contemporaines et l'émergence d'une littérature postcoloniale sont autant de sites d'interactions et de convergence qui exigent une négociation permanente entre les pouvoirs et mana en présence. C'est une nouvelle facette du concept d'hybridité que nous proposons ces études de la région Pacifique.

Poems and Lyrics of the Joy of Earth George Meredith, 2022-07-20

In Poems and Lyrics of the Joy of Earth, George Meredith presents a lyrical exploration of nature, love, and the human condition, showcasing his masterful command of language and form. This collection epitomizes the philosophical and emotive depth characteristic of the Victorian era, fusing romantic ideals with a reflective awareness of modernity. Through vivid imagery and dynamic rhythms, Meredith crafts poignant verses that celebrate the beauty of the earth while occasionally grappling with existential themes, ultimately revealing the interconnectedness of these experiences. George Meredith (1828-1909) was not merely a poet but also a novelist.

and social critic whose experiences as a war correspondent and observer of societal change shaped his creative vision His tenure as a member of the literary community was marked by friendships with contemporaries like Alfred Lord Tennyson and Thomas Hardy which enriched his perspectives on art and life Meredith's passion for progressive causes and his contemplative traits are evident in this collection providing a backdrop to his reflections on nature's profound impact on human emotion Readers of poetry and lovers of nature will find Poems and Lyrics of the Joy of Earth to be a rich tapestry of thought and emotion inviting them to bask in the beauty of language while contemplating their own relationship with the world This collection is highly recommended for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of Victorian poetry and its enduring relevance

Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond Douglas A. Vakoch, 2021-04-29 Caught as we are in a grave climate crisis that seems more irreversible with every passing year our literary portrayals of the future often feature the dystopian collapse of the world as we know it Science fiction explores how we got here while pointing toward a more hopeful path forward From an ecofeminist perspective a core cause of our current ecological catastrophe is the patriarchal domination of nature playing out in parallel with the oppression of women As an alternative to dystopian futures that seem increasingly inevitable ecofeminist science fiction helps us conjure utopias that promote environmental sustainability based on more egalitarian human relationships Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond Feminist Ecocriticism of Science Fiction explores the fictional worlds of such canonical novelists as Margaret Atwood Octavia Butler Ursula K Le Guin Doris Lessing and Joan Slonczewski as well as those of lesser known science fiction writers as they collectively probe humanity's greatest existential threats Contributors from five continents provide compelling analyses of far future dystopias on Earth that are all too easy to imagine becoming reality if humankind's current trajectory continues as well as provocative insights into science fiction utopias set on idyllic planets orbiting distant stars which offer liberatory alternatives that might someday be actualized in the real world By examining the links between the destruction of the environment and the domination of women Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond provides the tools to counteract those intertwined oppressions helping create a foundation for a truly habitable world

Re-mapping World Literature Gesine Müller, Jorge J. Locane, Benjamin Loy, 2018-03-05 How can we talk about World Literature if we do not actually examine the world as a whole Research on World Literature commonly focuses on the dynamics of a western center and a southern periphery ignoring the fact that numerous literary relationships exist beyond these established constellations of thinking and reading within the Global South Re Mapping World Literature suggests a different approach that aims to investigate new navigational tools that extend beyond the known poles and meridians of current literary maps Using the example of Latin American literatures this study provides innovative insights into the literary modeling of shared historical
