

A world of languages

There are at least 2,000 ethnic languages alive in the world today. Twenty-three of these languages are a mother tongue for more than 50 million people. The 23 languages make up the mother tongue of 4.5 billion people. We represent each language within black borders and then provide the numbers of native speakers (in millions) for countries. The colour of these countries shows how languages have taken root in many different regions.
