GRAY,2018 Last Letters of Aubrey Beardsley John Gray,2015-07-10 Excerpt from Last Letters of Aubrey Beardsley With an Introductory Note Aubrey Beardsley about whom much has been written since his death in the month of March 1898 now speaks for himself His work and the appreciations of many of his literary and artist friends present together a fairly complete picture of the man whose engaging figure was so familiar in London during a very few years Of the work there remains probably nothing to be said It is certain that his imaginative gifts never showed a sign of fatigue or exhaustion and it is equally certain that artistically and intellectually he was very far from his maturity when death came What that maturity would have produced is a speculation as idle as must be barren any attempts to determine the sources of his originality He was utterly devoid of any malevolence towards his fellow creatures whether individually or collectively He had in his nature a great possibility of affection if personal timidity or sensitiveness balked its expression About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Last Letters of Aubrey Beardsley : with an Introductory Note by the Rev. The Publishing History of Aubrey Beardsley's Compositions for Oscar Wilde's Salome

Joan Navarre, 1999 This study claims that scholars need to examine all twenty seven English illustrated editions of Wilde's and Beardsley's Salome to understand whether Beardsley's compositions do or do not illustrate Wilde's words For the last one hundred years scholars have addressed the aesthetic function of Beardsley's compositions whether or not Beardsley's compositions illustrate Wilde's words and each scholar sees something different Beardsley's compositions are irrelevant to Wilde's words Beardsley's compositions are relevant to Wilde's words Beardsley's compositions are both irrelevant and relevant What is at issue here is that this traditional dance of signification scholars' interpretations of the aesthetic function of Beardsley's compositions relies upon an interpretive strategy that disavows the history of textual transmissions To put this another way what scholars see depends upon the particular English illustrated edition's they read Beardsley's compositions are physical objects conditioned by a physical setting i.e. the components of total book design Yet for many the visible appears invisible The motivation for this study arises from previously unexamined phenomena the genesis and textual transmission of Beardsley's compositions for Salome 1894-1994 As historical textual scholarship this study uses the methodologies central to descriptive bibliography the English illustrated editions of Wilde's and Beardsley's Salome are treated as socially constructed physical objects Binding format and paper are a few of the signifying systems described Specifically this investigation draws upon the model presented by Philip Gaskell in A New Introduction to Bibliography The necessary tasks include transcribing the title page analyzing the format examining the appearance of the binding detailing the kind of paper used and noting other information such as titles As the centenary of Wilde's and Beardsley's Salome commences this is the opportune time to trace the publishing history of Beardsley's compositions to update existing descriptive bibliographies and to turn to an empirical method for a socialized model of literary production

The Beardsley Industry Jane Haville Desmarais, 2019-07-23 First published in 1998 this is the first book to examine the critical reception accorded to Beardsley's work For most of his short working life fierce debate raged in Britain over the merit of Aubrey Beardsley's black and white drawings Applauded for their technical skill they were as often deplored for their slimy nastiness their fin de siècle decadence and their foreign styles There are tainted whiffs from across the channel which lodge the Gallic germs in our lungs Our Beardsleys have identical symptoms with Verlaine Degas Le Grand Forain and might quite well be sick from infection stormed Margaret Armour in the Magazine of Art Jane Haville Desmarais opens with an account of the English response exploring the fascinating interplay between Beardsley's exploitation of the new media to shape his public persona and promote his work and the critics use of his life and art to articulate the fears and anxieties of the English fin de siècle. The second half of the book moves to France and deals with a different set of preoccupation. The French perceived Beardsley as the natural inheritor of the mantle of Pre-Raphaelitism. His work remained current largely through the interest of the Symbolists and in particular Robert de Montesquiou who celebrated Beardsley's picturing of the fantasy realms of desire. The intriguing study of two very different critical traditions casts light on key issues of art history and literary studies in particular the relationship between critical response and social perception. With 21 black and white illustrations the book also has invaluable appendices which include a bibliography of criticism and comment on the work of Aubrey Beardsley between 1893 and 1914. Never Say I Michael Lucey, 2006-11-17 Rereads the works of Colette Gide and Proust to show how central representations of sexuality were to the evolution of literary prose forms in twentieth century France. The Art-journal, 1905 Vol for 1867 includes Illustrated catalogue of the Paris Universal Exhibition. A Bookman's Catalogue Vol. 1 A-L T. Bose, Paul Tiessen, 1987-01-01 The Colbeck collection was formed over half a century ago by the Bournemouth bookseller Norman Colbeck. Focusing primarily on British essayists and poets of the nineteenth century from the Romantic Movement through the Edwardian era the collection features nearly 500 authors and lists over 13 000 works. Entries are alphabetically arranged by author with copious notes on the condition and binding of each copy. Nine appendices provide listings of selected periodicals series publications anthologies yearbooks and topical works. South Africa John Hutton Balfour Browne, 1905 Ice Or Water Sir Henry Hoyle Howorth, 1905 The History of England from the Norman Conquest to the Death of John (1066-1216) George Burton Adams, 1905 The Political History of England William Hunt, Reginald Lane Poole, 1905 Mrs. Wightman of Shrewsbury James Michael John Fletcher, 1906 Annual Register Edmund Burke, 1901
