Last Words Karl S. Guthke, 1992-10-30 Whether Goethe actually cried More light on his deathbed or whether Conrad Hilton checked out of this world after uttering Leave the shower curtain on the inside of the tub last words regardless of authenticity have long captured the imagination of Western society In this playfully serious investigation based on factual accounts anecdotes literary works and films Karl Guthke explores the cultural importance of those words spoken at the border between this world and the next The exit lines of both famous and ordinary people embody for us a sense of drama and truthfulness and reveal much about our thoughts on living and dying Why this interest in last words Presenting statements from such figures as Socrates Nathan Hale Marie Antoinette and Oscar Wilde I am dying as I have lived beyond my means Guthke examines our fascination in terms of our need for closure our desire for immortality and our attraction to the mystique of death scenes The author considers both authentic and invented final statements as he looks at the formation of symbols and legends and their function in our culture Last words handed down from generation to generation like cultural heirlooms have a good chance of surviving in our collective memory They are shown to epitomize a life convey a sense of irony or play to an audience as in the case of the assassinated Mexican revolutionary Pancho Villa who is said to have died imploring journalists Don't let it end like this Tell them I said something Originally published in 1992 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Dying Words K. Patrick Conner, 2012-06-26 For the past eleven years San Francisco Chronicle reporter

Graydon Hubbell has been assigned to write obituaries working in a corner of the newsroom known as Section Eight long occupied by the paper's most cantankerous and often impolitic reporters Initially Hubbell regarded writing obituaries as a morbid and thoroughly distasteful assignment but he now considers himself a master of the genre as capable of writing a final salute to the rich and powerful as of composing a simple farewell for the eccentric and notorious Then Hubbell learns he has cancer He is determined to defy the disease and work at the paper for as long as he can but as his career implodes through a series of increasingly absurd mishaps confrontations and mistakes the obituary writer must come to terms with the fact that his own life is coming to an end Written with humor and pathos Dying Words is a novel about mortality and remembrance the story of an aging newspaper reporter less afraid of dying than of being forgotten The Seven Last
