The Architectural Project Alfonso Corona-Martínez, 2003-01-15 His argument clarifies the continuity in the practice of design method through the nineteenth and twentieth centuries a continuity that has been obscured by the emphasis on changing goals instead of design procedures and examines the influences of modernity and the legend of the Bauhaus

Beyond Modernist Masters Felipe Hernández, 2009-11-20 Latin America has been an important place for architecture for many decades Masters like Barrag n Dieste Lina Bo Bardi and Niemeyer pointed the way for architectural design all over the world and they continue to do so today Their approach to colors materials and walls had a deep and lasting influence on architectural modernism Since then however and especially in the last fifteen years architecture on the continent has continued to evolve and a lively and extremely creative architecture scene has developed The work of Latin American architects and city planners is often guided by social issues for example the approach to informal settlements on the outskirts of big cities the scarcity of housing and public space the availability of affordable transportation and the important role of cultural infrastructure such as schools libraries and sports facilities as a catalyst for neighborhoods Within this context the book considers numerous projects that have prompted discussion and provided fresh impetus all across Latin America Outstanding projects like the Santo Domingo Library in Medellin Colombia by Giancarlo Mazzanti Alberto Kalach s Liceo Franco Mexicano in Mexico and the works of Alejandro Aravena in Chile show that recent Latin American architecture is more than capable of holding its own beside the works of the founders Felipe Hern ndez is an architect and professor of Architectural Design History and Theory at The University of Liverpool He attended an MA in Architecture and Critical Theory graduating with distinction in 1998 and received his PhD from the University of Nottingham in 2003 He has taught at the Bartlett School of Architecture UCL The Universities of Nottingham Sheffield East London and Nottingham Trent in the United Kingdom as well as at Brown University and Roger Williams University in USA Felipe has published numerous essays and articles examining the situation of contemporary Latin American cities and revealing the multiplicity of architectural practices that operate simultaneously in the constant re shaping of the continent s cities

Latin American Studies Ana María Cobos, Ana Lya Sater, 2002 The Latin American studies collections at many community junior and four year colleges and large public libraries often contain materials that are too specialized uneven outdated incomplete or written in Spanish or Portuguese thus rendering them essentially useless to English reading patrons Better materials are out there but librarians simply have not had until now a good resource guide to help in locating them This work designed as an acquisitions tool for colleges and libraries is an annotated bibliography of approximately 1 400 recommended books published from 1986 through 2000 in the field of Latin American studies It is divided into chapters that deal with reference works descriptive accounts and travel guides the humanities language and literature the social sciences and science and technology For the purposes of this book Latin America is defined as all geographic locations south of the Rio Grande While these are chiefly Spanish and Portuguese speaking regions works about French English and Dutch speaking areas are also included The literary works of authors living abroad are included if they are considered quintessentially Latin American Periodicals children s literature audio visual resources and works about the Hispanic and Latino experience in the United States are not included The majority of the works presented here were selected based on reviews from Booklist Choice Hispanic American Historical Review Library Journal Los Angeles Times Book Review New York Review of Books New York Times Book Review and Publisher s Weekly also consulted were the catalogs of major university presses that focus on Latin American studies

City at the Center of the World Ernesto Capello, 2011-11-13 In the seventeenth century local Jesuits and Franciscans imagined Quito as the new Rome It was the site of miracles and home of saintly inhabitants the origin of crusades into the surrounding wilderness and the purveyor of civilization to the entire region By the early twentieth century elites envisioned the city as the heart of a modern advanced society poised at the physical and metaphysical centers of the world In this original cultural history Ernesto Capello analyzes the formation of memory myth and modernity through the eyes of Quito s diverse populations By employing Mikhail Bakhtin s concept of chronotopes

Capello views the configuration of time and space in narratives that defined Quito's identity and its place in the world. He explores the proliferation of these imaginings in architecture, museums, monuments, tourism, art, urban planning, literature, religion, indigenous rights, and politics. To Capello, these tropes began to crystallize at the end of the nineteenth century, serving as a tool for distinct groups who laid claim to history for economic or political gain during the upheavals of modernism. As Capello reveals, Quito's society and its stories mutually constituted each other. In the process of both destroying and renewing elements of the past, each chronotope fed and perpetuated itself. Modern Quito thus emerged at the crux of Hispanism and Liberalism as an independent global society struggling to keep the memory of its colonial and indigenous roots alive.

Weaving: Community & culture, landscapes & literature Pamela Harwood, 2004 College Admissions Data Sourcebook Midwest Edition Bound 2010-11, 2010-09 Library Journal, 2000-04 2012-2013 College Admissions Data Sourcebook Midwest Edition, Brasil, arquiteturas após 1950 Maria Alice Junqueira Bastos, Ruth Verde Zein, 2010. A work destined to become a reference in the study and teaching of architecture in Brazil. According to the critic and historian Catalan Josep Maria Montaner, who prefaces it, is an important fact because by their quality will be situated in the tradition of critical interpretations of Brazilian contemporary architecture and a required text because it brings a new vision, was vital to refocus the contemporary history of Brazilian architecture trapped by prejudice, topics and schemes usually emphasizing a supposed golden age and unsurpassed. Carefully constructed, four hands by Mary Alice Junqueira Bastos and Ruth Verde Zein, the book, an initiative of the publisher's perspective, helps fill many gaps in Brazilian historiography. On the subject is the breadth of research that examines works and projects of all types, the verticality describing relevant experiences and works closely with sensitivity and technical finesse, or by situating the project as critically, event technically and culturally engaged in the political process of building a Brazilian identity, an identity but not any but one that also imposes itself as the protagonist of an international production. With a vast repertoire of works and subjects moving through corridors and apartments for exclusive bus routes, analyzing the techniques and plastic properties of the building and also its relevance today as their territorial and language. Bastos and Zein were not intimidated before the size of the contract and the responsibility to show strengths and weaknesses of the various architectures of Brazil the last six decades.
