Landscape And Power Mitchell:

Landscape and Power, Second Edition William John Thomas Mitchell, W. J. T. Mitchell, 2002-04-15 This text considers landscape not simply as an object to be seen or a text to be read but as an instrument of cultural force a central tool in the creation of national and social identities This edition adds a new preface and five new essays Landscape and Power W. J. Thomas Mitchell, 1994 Landscapes whether in pictures or the world have been viewed as a genre treated as texts interpreted as allegory Landscape and Power goes beyond these approaches to ask not just what landscape is or means but what it does how it works as a cultural practice The original essays in this volume consider landscapes not merely as visual or textual symbols but as sources of social and personal identities In the opening essay W J T Mitchell examines the ways in which the concept of landscape functions in the discourse of imperialism from Chinese imperial landscape to views of contested territory in New Zealand and Israel The following essays by Ann Jensen Adams Ann Bermingham Elizabeth Helsinger David Bunn Joel Snyder and Charles Harrison range from Dutch landscape and the formation of national identity to picturesque landscape and the process of political silencing and legitimation Other topics include Turner's tourist landscapes as reflections on the conditions of political representation American landscape photography and the professionalizing of the frontier domestic British landscapes transferred to South Africa in the nineteenth century and forms of resistance to ideology in modernist landscape painting Landscape and Power in Geographical Space as a Social-Aesthetic Construct Olaf Kühne, 2018-02-13 This book examines the power definiteness of landscape from a social constructivist perspective with a particular focus on the importance of aesthetic concepts of landscape in development It seeks to answer the question of how societal notions of landscape emerge how they are individually updated and how these ideas affect the use and design of physical space It also analyzes how physical manifestations of societal activity impact on understandings of individual and societal landscapes and addresses the essential aspect of the social construction of landscape cultural specificity which in turn is discussed in the context of the expansion of a western landscape concept The book offers an unprecedented comprehensive and detailed examination of societal power relations in the context of landscape development The numerous case studies from the physical manifestation of modern spatial planning in the United States the power discourses concerning the design of model railway landscapes and the medial production of stereotypical landscape notions shed light on the complex and multilayered interactions of collective and individual landscape references It is a valuable resource for geographers sociologists landscape architects landscape planners and philosophers The Pictorial Turn Neal Curtis, 2013-09-13 In 1992 W J T Mitchell argued for a pictorial turn in the humanities registering a renewed interest in and prevalence of pictures and images in what had been understood as an age of simulation or an increasingly extensive and diverse visual culture However in what is often characterized as a society of the spectacle we still do not know exactly what pictures or images are what their relation to language is how they operate on observers and the world how their history is to be understood and what is to be done with or about them In this seminal collection of essays the first to be devoted to the pictorial turn theorists from across the humanities and social sciences representing the disciplines of art history philosophy geography media studies visual studies and anthropology are brought together with a paleontologist and practising artists to consider amongst other things the relation between pictures and images the power of landscape the nature of political images the status of images in the natural sciences the life of images and the pictorial uncanny With these topics in mind picture theory and iconology exceed in scope the objects of visual culture conventionally understood This book was published as a special issue of Culture Theory and Critique

Political Economies of Landscape Change James L. Jr Wescoat, Douglas M. Johnston, 2007-12-05 Places of Power Political Economies of Landscape Change asks how politics and economics transform the landscapes we inhabit This volume explores the connections between political economy and landscape change through a series of conceptual essays and case studies In so doing it speaks to a broad readership of landscape architects geographers and related fields of social and environmental research The book consists of an introductory essay with nine chapters commissioned from leading geographers landscape architects political scientists and economists and a concluding essay on implications for future landscape inquiry and design The book is organized in three major sections Part one titled Landscapes of Struggle Possibility and Prosperity includes a chapter on new axioms for reading the landscape followed by two chapters that read processes of economic development and distress in mountain landscapes of the U S and South America Part Two on Political and Economic Driving Forces of Landscape Change includes two chapters each on political driving forces political constructs and institutions and economic driving forces environmental economics and global financial markets Part Three titled Integrative Landscape Change compares innovative rural landscape policies in Europe and the U S and draws implications for future landscape inquiry planning and design

Gendering Landscape Art Steven Adams, Anna Gruetzner Robins, 2000 While gender has been the subject of extensive critical inquiry the debate has focused primarily on the human particularly the female body The spaces bodies occupy and the ways in which those spaces are depicted in landscape art has not however been subject to investigation This book is the first sustained attempt to fill this gap in art history

The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Human Geography John A. Agnew, James S. Duncan, 2011-03-01 This volume provides an up to date authoritative synthesis of the discipline of human geography Unparalleled in scope the companion offers an indispensable overview to the field representing both historical and contemporary perspectives Edited and written by the world's leading authorities in the discipline Divided into three major sections Foundations the history of human geography from Ancient Greece to the late nineteenth century The Classics the roots of modern human geography Contemporary Approaches current issues and themes in human geography Each contemporary issue is examined by two contributors offering distinctive perspectives on the same theme

Landscape, Religion, and the Supernatural Matthias Egeler, 2024 This book is the first study to tackle the relationship between landscape and religion in depth Author Matthias

Egeler overviews previous theories of the relationship between landscape and religion and then pushes this theorizing further with a rich case study the supernatural landscape of the Icelandic Westfjords There religion and the supernatural from churches to elf hills are ubiquitous in the landscape and as Egeler shows this example sheds entirely new light on core aspects of the relationship between landscape religion and the supernatural

Civilising Grass Jonathan Cane, 2019-07-01 Civilising Grass is a socio cultural analysis of the lawn on the South African highveld exploring the complex relationship between landscape and power in the country's colonial modernist and post apartheid eras Drawing from eco criticism queer theory art history and postcolonial studies this book offers a lively and provocative reading of texts and illustrations to reveal the racial and gendered aspects of natural environments It argues that the lawn an ordinary and often overlooked feature of South African everyday life is neither natural nor innocent Rather like other colonial landscapes the lawn functions as a site of commonplace violence of oppression dispossession and segregation This book explores an eclectic archive of artistic literary and architectural lawns between 1886 and 2017 analysing poems maps gardening blogs adverts ethnographies and ephemera as well as literature by Koos Prinsloo Marlene van Niekerk and Ivan Vladislavic In addition Civilising Grass includes colour reproductions of lawn artworks by David Goldblatt Lungiswa Gqunta Pieter Hugo Anton Kannemeyer Sabelo Mlangeni Moses Tladi and Kemang Wa Lehulere Examination of these and other works reveals the organic relationship between lawn and wildness and between lawn and human non human actors thereby providing rich and unexpected insights into South African society past and present

The Zionist Bible Nur Masalha, 2014-10-20 Throughout the history of European imperialism the grand narratives of the Bible have been used to justify settler colonialism The Zionist Bible explores the ways in which modern political Zionism and Israeli militarism have used the Bible notably the Book of Joshua and its description of the entry of the Israelites into the Promised Land as an agent of oppression and to support settler colonialism in Palestine The rise of messianic Zionism in the late 1960s saw the beginnings of a Jewish theology of zealotocracy based on the militant land traditions of the Bible and justifying the destruction of the previous inhabitants The Zionist Bible examines how the birth and growth of the State of Israel has been shaped by this Zionist reading of the Bible how it has refashioned Israeli Jewish collective memory erased and renamed Palestinian topography and how critical responses to this reading have challenged both Jewish and Palestinian nationalism

On Video Games Soraya Murray, 2017-10-30 Today over half of all American households own a dedicated game console and gaming industry profits trump those of the film industry worldwide In this book Soraya Murray moves past the technical discussions of games and offers a fresh and incisive look at their cultural dimensions She critically explores blockbusters like The Last of Us Metal Gear Solid Spec Ops The Line Tomb Raider and Assassin's Creed to show how they are deeply entangled with American ideological positions and contemporary political cultural and economic conflicts As quintessential forms of visual material in the twenty first century mainstream games both mirror and spur larger societal fears hopes and dreams and even address complex struggles for recognition This book examines both their elaborately constructed characters and densely layered worlds whose social and environmental landscapes reflect ideas about gender race globalisation and urban life In this emerging field of study Murray provides novel theoretical approaches to discussing games and playable media as culture Demonstrating that games are at the frontline of power relations she reimagines how we see them and more importantly how we understand them

A Landscape of Travel Jenny T. Chio,2014-03-28 While the number of domestic leisure travelers has increased dramatically in reform era China the persistent gap between urban and rural living standards attests to ongoing social economic and political inequalities The state has widely touted tourism for its potential to bring wealth and modernity to rural ethnic minority communities but the policies underlying the development of tourism obscure some complicated realities In tourism after all one person s leisure is another person s labor A Landscape of Travel investigates the contested meanings and unintended consequences of tourism for those people whose lives and livelihoods are most at stake in China s rural ethnic tourism industry the residents of village destinations Drawing on ethnographic research conducted in Ping an a Zhuang village in Guangxi and Upper Jidao a Miao village in Guizhou Jenny Chio analyzes the myriad challenges and possibilities confronted by villagers who are called upon to do the work of tourism She addresses the shifting significance of migration and rural mobility the visual politics of tourist photography and the effects of touristic desires for exotic difference on village social relations In this way Chio illuminates the contemporary regimes of labor and leisure and the changing imagination of what it means to be rural ethnic and modern in China today

Enclosure Gary Fields,2017-09-05 Enclosure marshals bold new and persuasive arguments about the ongoing dispossession of Palestinians Revealing the Israel Palestine landscape primarily as one of enclosure geographer Gary Fields sheds fresh light on Israel s actions He places those actions in historical context in a broad analysis of power and landscapes across the modern world Examining the process of land grabbing in early modern England colonial North America and contemporary Palestine Enclosure shows how patterns of exclusion and privatization have emerged across time and geography That the same moral legal and cartographic arguments were copied by enclosers of land in very different historical environments challenges Israel s current rationale as being uniquely beleaguered It also helps readers in the United Kingdom and the United States understand the Israel Palestine conflict in the context of their own tortured histories Provided by publisher

Defining Landscape Democracy Shelley Egoz, Karsten Jørgensen, Deni Ruggeri, 2018-06-29 This stimulating book explores theories conceptual frameworks and cultural approaches with the purpose of uncovering a cross cultural understanding of landscape democracy a concept at the intersection of landscape democracy and spatial justice The authors of Defining Landscape Democracy address a number of questions that are critical to the contemporary discourse on the right to landscape Why is democracy relevant to landscape How do we democratise landscape How might we achieve landscape and spatial justice Global Power and Local Struggles in Developing Countries, 2022-12-12 The volume challenges dominant narratives of progress with a rich range of investigations of local struggles from the Global south which are based on original ethnographic research The chapters take a point of departure in ideas and concepts developed by the pioneering anthropologist Eric R Wolf in Europe and the People Without History and emphasize the relevance and usefulness of applying Wolf to contemporary contexts As such the collection contributes to knowledge of dynamic relationships between local agency in the Global south and broader political and economic processes that make people without history This shows global power as both excluding local groups at the same time as conditioning local struggles and the forms that social organization takes Contributors are Paul Stacey Joshua Steckley Nixon Boumba Marylynn Steckley Ismael Garc a Col n Inge Merete Hougaard Gustavo S Azenha Ioannis Kyriakakis Raquel Rodrigues Machaqueiro Tirza van Bruggen and Masami Tsujita

Landscape and Authority in the Early Modern World Stephen H. Whiteman, 2023-04-25 Courts and societies across the early modern Eurasian world were fundamentally transformed by the physical technological and conceptual developments of their era Evolving forms of communication greatly expanded mobility the spread of scientific knowledge and the emergence of an increasingly integrated global economy all affected how states articulated and projected visions of authority into societies that in turn perceived and responded to these visions in often contrasting terms Landscape both reflected and served as a vehicle for these transformations as the relationship between the land and its imagination and consumption became a fruitful site for the negotiation of imperial identities within and beyond the precincts of the court In Landscape and Authority in the Early Modern World contributors explore the role of landscape in the articulation and expression of imperial identity and the mediation of relationships between the court and its many audiences in the early modern world Nine studies focused on the geographical areas of East and South Asia the Islamic world and Europe illuminate how early modern courts and societies shaped and were shaped by the landscape including both physical sites such as gardens palaces cities and hunting parks and conceptual ones such as those of frontiers idealized polities and the cosmos The collected essays expand the meaning and potential of landscape as a communicative medium in this period by putting an array of forms and subjects in dialogue with one another including not only unique expressions such as gardens paintings and manuscripts but also the products of rapidly developing commercial technologies of reproduction especially print The volume invites a deeper and more nuanced understanding of the complexity with which early modern states constructed and deployed different modes of landscape for different audiences and environments Contributors Robert Batchelor Seyed Mohammad Ali Emrani John Finlay Caroline Fowler Katrina Grant Finola O Kane Anton Schweizer Larry Silver Stephen H Whiteman The Western Wall Kobi Cohen-Hattab, Doron Bar, 2020-06-15 The Western Wall Judaism's holiest site occupies a prominent position in contemporary Jewish and Israeli discourse current events and local politics In The Western Wall The Dispute over Israel's Holiest Jewish Site 1967-2000 Kobi Cohen Hattab and Doron Bar offer a detailed exploration of the Western Wall plaza's evolution in the late twentieth century The examination covers the role of archaeology in defining the space the Western Wall's transformation as an Israeli and Jewish symbol and the movement to open it to a variety of Jewish denominations The book studies the central processes and shifts that took place at the Western Wall during the three decades that followed the Six Day War a relatively short yet crucial chapter in Jerusalem's extensive history
