Manual for State Historic Preservation Review Boards, 1992

The Cultural Landscape & Heritage Paradox Tom Bloemers, Henk Kars, Arnold Van der Valk, 2010 The basic problem is to what extent we can know past and mainly invisible landscapes and how we can use this still hidden knowledge for actual sustainable management of landscape's cultural and historical values. It has also been acknowledged that heritage management is increasingly about the management of future change rather than simply protection. This presents us with a paradox: to preserve our historic environment we have to collaborate with those who wish to transform it, and in order to apply our expert knowledge we have to make it suitable for policy and society. The answer presented by the Protection and Development of the Dutch Archaeological Historical Landscape programme (pdL bbo) is an integrative landscape approach which applies inter- and transdisciplinarity, establishing links between archaeological historical heritage and planning and between research and policy.

A Cultural History of Objects in the Modern Age Laurie Wilkie, John Chenoweth, 2022-08-31. A Cultural History of Objects in the Modern Age covers the period 1900 to today, a time marked by massive global changes in production, transportation, and information sharing in a post-colonial world. New materials and inventions, from plastics to the digital to biotechnology, have created unprecedented scales of disruption, shifting and blurring the categories and meanings of the object. If the 20th century demonstrated that humans can be treated like things whilst things can become ever more human, where will the 21st century take us? The 6-volume set of the Cultural History of Objects examines how objects have been created, used, interpreted, and set loose in the world over the last 2500 years. Over this time, the West has developed particular attitudes to the material world at the centre of which is the idea of the object. The themes covered in each volume are: objecthood, technology, economic objects, everyday objects, art, architecture, bodily objects, object worlds. Laurie A. Wilkie is Professor at the University of California Berkeley, USA. John M. Chenoweth is Associate Professor at the University of Michigan Dearborn, USA. Volume 6 in the Cultural History of Objects set. General Editors: Dan Hicks and William Whyte.

Scripturalizing the Human Vincent L. Wimbush, 2015-07-16. Scripturalizing the Human is a transdisciplinary collection of essays that reconceptualizes and models scriptural studies as a critical comparative set of practices with broad ramifications for scholars of religion and biblical studies. This critical historical and ethnographic project is focused on scriptures, scripturalization, scripturalizing as shorthand for the psycho-cultural and socio-political work we make language do for and to us. Each essay focuses on an instance of or situation involving such work engaging with the Bible, Book of Mormon, Bhagavata Purana, and other sacred texts, artifacts, and practices in order to explore historical and ongoing constructions of the human. Contributors use the category of scriptures understood not simply as texts but as freighted shorthand for the dynamics and ultimate politics of language as tools for self-illumination and self-analysis. The significance of the collection lies in the window it opens to the rich and complex view of the highs and lows of human unmaking as it establishes the connections between a seemingly basic and apolitical religious category and a set of larger social-cultural phenomena and dynamics.
