Historic Landscapes of Britain from the Air Robin Edgar Glasscock, 1992-10-29 The Fayum Landscape Claire J. Malleson, 2019-04-19 Located some one hundred kilometers southwest of Cairo the Fayum region has long been regarded as unique often described in terms that conjure up images of an idealized Garden of Eden In An Egyptian Landscape Claire Malleson takes a novel approach to the study of the region by exploring the ways in which people have through millennia perceived and engaged with the Fayum landscape Distinguishing between the experienced landscape of state and bureaucratic record and the imagined landscape of myth meaning and observers personal influences and expectations Malleson questions in detail where those perceptions come from She traces religious practices follows the tracks of myths and traditions and investigates the roots of stories found in texts from the pharaonic classical and Medieval Islamic periods She also reviews many more recent travel writings on the region from the seventeenth to the nineteenth centuries The work of each author is presented in its historical and cultural context and Malleson integrates what is known about ancient activities in the Fayum based on the archaeological evidence from the many monuments and ancient settlements that exist in the region Scholars and students of archaeology and landscape studies as well as general readers interested in Egypt s history and archaeology will find this book highly engaging and enlightening Evolution of a Community: The Colonisation of a Clay Inland Landscape Samantha Paul, John Hunt, 2015-02-26 Chronologically documents the colonisation of a clay inland location north west of Cambridge at the village of Longstanton and outlines how it was not an area on the periphery of activity but part of a fully occupied landscape extending back into the Mesolithic period Coastal Shrines and Transnational Maritime Networks across India and Southeast Asia Himanshu Prabha Ray, 2020-07-26 This book breaks new ground by examining trans oceanic connectivity through the perspective of coastal shrines and maritime cultural landscapes across the Bay of Bengal and the South China Sea It covers a period of expanding networks and cross cultural encounters from the 3rd century BCE to the 13th century CE The book examines the distinctiveness of these shrines and highlights their interconnections and their role in social integration in South and Southeast Asia By drawing on data from shipwreck sites the author elaborates on the material and religious intersections and transmissions between cultures across the seas Many of these coastal shrines survived into the colonial period when they came to be admired for their aesthetic value as monuments As nation states of the region became independent these shrines were often inscribed on UNESCO s World Heritage List on account of their Outstanding Universal Values The book argues that in the 21st century there is a need to promote the cultural connectivity of the past as transnational heritage on UNESCO s global platform to preserve and protect our shared heritage The volume will be essential reading for academics and researchers of archaeology anthropology museum and heritage studies history of South and Southeast Asia religious studies cultural studies and Asian studies International Encyclopedia of Human Geography , 2019-11-29 International Encyclopedia of Human Geography Second Edition Fourteen

Landscape and Society in Dumnonia Stephen Rippon, 2025-08-15 Explores South West England's development from the Iron Age through medieval times focusing on Ipplepen This book explores the distinctive landscape and society of South West England that had emerged by the Iron Age and which continued to develop during the Roman and medieval periods A focus of the research was the long term programme of survey and excavation on the Iron Age Roman and early medieval settlement at Dainton Elms Cross in Ipplepen Devon which included the only Roman roadside settlement to have seen extensive excavation to the south and west of Exeter on the very edge of the Roman empire as well as a substantial early medieval cemetery First discovered through the reporting of an unusual concentration of Roman finds to the Portable Antiquities Scheme the site was investigated through a joint university and community project led by the University of Exeter in partnership with the British Museum PAS Devon County Council and Cotswold Archaeology What for the South West of England was exceptional preservation meant that large amounts of animal bone charred cereals and human remains were preserved alongside a regionally important material culture assemblage The site which had been occupied for c 1200 years was abandoned around the 8th century AD A programme of documentary place name and historic landscape research across a study area extending from the coast up onto Dartmoor explores the context of this major landscape change which appears to have been associated with the appearance of hamlets and open fields and the fragmentation of an early folk territory Together the excavations in Ipplepen and the wider contextual research reveal how communities living in South West England developed a distinctive identity that reflects a well developed understanding of their region's natural environment alongside a degree of ambivalence to outside cultural influences Body as Landscape, Love as Intoxication Brian P. Gault, 2019-09-13 Explore metaphors in the exquisite and enigmatic poetry of Song of Songs One of the chief difficulties in interpreting the Song's lyrics is the unusual imagery used to depict the lovers' bodies Why is the maiden's hair compared to a flock of goats 4:1 the man's cheeks likened to garden beds of spice 5:13 and the eyes of both lovers described as doves 4:15 12 While scholars speculate on the significance of these images a systematic inquiry into the Song's body metaphors is curiously absent Based on insights from cognitive linguistics this study incorporates biblical and comparative data to uncover the meaning of these metaphors surveying literature in the eastern Mediterranean and beyond that shares a similar form poetry and theme love Gault presents an interpretation of the Song's body imagery that sheds light on the perception of beauty in Israel and its relationship to surrounding cultures Features Exploration of the Song's use of universal themes and culturally specific variations Discussion of the Song's literary structure and unity Research in Landscape Architecture Adri van den Brink, Diedrich Bruns, Hilde Tobi, Simon Bell, 2016-11-10 This book looks at research methods that are specific to and for landscape architecture and contributes to the further development of landscape architecture as an academic discipline in its own right Doing Spatial History Riccardo Bavaj, Konrad Lawson, Bernhard Struck, 2021-12-30 This volume provides a practical introduction to spatial history through the lens of the different primary sources that historians use It is informed by a range of analytical perspectives and conveys a sense of the various facets of spatial history in a tangible case study based manner The chapter authors hail from a variety of fields including early modern and modern history architectural history historical anthropology economic and social history as well as historical and human geography highlighting the way in which spatial history provides a common forum that facilitates discussion across disciplines The geographical scope of the volume takes readers on a journey through central western and east central Europe to Russia the Mediterranean the Ottoman Empire and East Asia as well as North and South America and New Zealand Divided into three parts the book covers particular types of sources different kinds of space and specific concepts tools and approaches offering the reader a thorough understanding of how sources can be used within spatial history specifically but also the different ways of looking at history more broadly Very much focusing on doing spatial history this is an accessible guide for both undergraduate and postgraduate students within modern history and its related fields Queer Representations in

Estate Landscapes : Design, Improvement and Power in the Post-medieval Landscape Jonathan Finch, Katherine Giles, 2007 An exciting study of the social and landscape phenomena of the Estate Landscape In recent years the post medieval landscape has attracted new interest from archaeologists historians and geographers concerned to understand the development of the historic environment One of the key structuring elements within these landscapes from the sixteenth century until the aftermath of the Second World War was undoubtedly the landed estate However it was not until the late nineteenth century that any systematic attempt to quantify the presence of these estates was undertaken prompted by the move to democratic reform and the persistent link between political power and landed wealth Yet the importance of the landed estate in structuring power social relationships and both agricultural and industrial production was not limited to the UK From the eighteenth century the link between the UK estates and patterns of landholding and exploitation in the colonies became increasingly complex and recursive This volume explores the relationships between the form and structure of British and Colonial estate landscapes their agricultural management and the political structures and social relationships they reproduced The articles address themes as diverse as the creation and development of the agrarian landscape improvement ornamental landscapes and gardens and estate architecture Overall it highlights the wealth and diversity of existing scholarship and suggests new directions for post medieval archaeology in this dynamic area of research Landscapes of the Norman Conquest Trevor Rowley, 2022-11-04 For a long time the Norman Conquest has been viewed as a turning point in English history an event which transformed English identity sovereignty kingship and culture The years between 1066 and 1086 saw the largest transfer of property ever seen in English History comparable in scale if not greater than the revolutions in France in 1789 and Russia in 1917 This transfer and the means to achieve it had a profound effect upon the English and Welsh landscape an impact that is clearly visible almost 1 000 years afterwards Although there have been numerous books examining different aspects of the British landscape this is the first to look specifically at the way in which the Normans shaped our towns and countryside The castles abbeys churches and cathedrals built in the new Norman Romanesque style after 1066 represent the most obvious legacy of what was effectively a colonial take over of England Such phenomena furnished a broader landscape that was fashioned to intimidate and demonstrate the Norman dominance of towns and villages The devastation that followed the Conquest characterised by the Harrying of the North had a long term impact in the form of new planned settlements and agriculture The imposition of Forest Laws restricting hunting to the Norman king and the establishment of a military landscape in areas such as the Welsh Marches had a similar impact on the countryside Landscape Archaeology between Art and Science Sjoerd Kluiving, Erika Guttmann-Bond, 2025-10-01 Researchers in landscape archaeology use two different definitions of landscape One definition landscape as territory is used by the processual archaeologists earth scientists and most historical geographers within this volume By contrast post processual archaeologists new cultural geographers and anthropologists favour a more abstract definition of landscape based on how it is perceived by the observer Both definitions are addressed in this book with 35 papers that are presented here and that are divided into six themes 1 How did landscape change 2 Improving temporal chronological and transformational frameworks 3 Linking landscapes of lowlands with mountainous areas 4 Applying concepts of scale 5 New directions in digital prospection and modelling techniques and 6 How will landscape archaeology develop in the future This volume demonstrates a worldwide interest in landscape archaeology and the research presented here draws upon and integrates the humanities and sciences This interdisciplinary approach is rapidly gaining support in new regions where such collaborations were previously uncommon The Social Construction of Landscapes in Games Dennis Edler, Olaf Kühne, Corinna Jenal, 2022-06-25 The book is dedicated to a compilation of diverse and creative landscapes which occur in games Being part of a game setting these landscapes trigger social construction processes in specific ways A selection of twenty four research articles addresses the social constructions of landscapes represented in analogue digital and hybrid game formats as well as their theoretical framing and future perspectives The Science of Roman History Walter Scheidel, 2019-10-15 With state of the art contributions by scholars who are leaders in their respective fields this edition describes how the integration of natural and human archives is changing the entire historical enterprise
