Landscapes Of The Jihad Militancy Morality Modernity:

Landscapes of the Jihad Faisal Devji, 2011-04-27 What are the motives behind Osama bin Laden's and Al Qaeda's jihad against America and the West? Innumerable attempts have been made in recent years to explain that mysterious worldview. In Landscapes of the Jihad, Faisal Devji focuses on the ethical content of this jihad as opposed to its purported political intent. Al Qaeda differs radically from such groups as Egypt's Muslim Brotherhood and Indonesia's Jemaah Islamiyah, which aim to establish fundamentalist Islamic states. In fact, Devji contends, Al Qaeda, with its decentralized structure and emphasis on moral rather than political action, actually has more in common with multinational corporations, antiglobalization activists, and environmentalist and social justice organizations. Bin Laden and his lieutenants view their cause as a response to the oppressive conditions faced by the Muslim world rather than an Islamist attempt to build states. Al Qaeda culls diverse symbols and fragments from Islam's past in order to legitimize its global war against the metaphysical evil emanating from the West. The most salient example of this assemblage, Devji argues, is the concept of jihad itself, which Al Qaeda defines as an individual duty incumbent on all Muslims, like prayer. Although medieval Islamic thought provides precedent for this interpretation, Al Qaeda has deftly separated the stipulation from its institutional moorings and turned jihad into a weapon of spiritual conflict. Al Qaeda and its jihad, Devji suggests, are only the most visible manifestations of wider changes in the Muslim world. Such changes include the fragmentation of traditional as well as fundamentalist forms of authority. In the author's view, Al Qaeda represents a new way of organizing Muslim belief and practice within a global landscape and does not require ideological or institutional unity. Offering a compelling explanation for the central purpose of Al Qaeda's jihad against the West, the meaning of its strategies and tactics, and its moral and aesthetic dimensions, Landscapes of the Jihad is at once a sophisticated work of historical and cultural analysis and an invaluable guide to the world's most prominent terrorist movement.

Spear to the West Stephen Chan, 2019-06-01 A probing at times startling long essay on how the threat of jihadism has shaped our societies since 9/11.

Monsoon Islam Sebastian R. Prange, 2018-05-03 Between the twelfth and sixteenth centuries, a distinct form of Islamic thought and practice developed among Muslim trading communities of the Indian Ocean. Sebastian R. Prange argues that this Monsoon Islam was shaped by merchants, not sultans, forged by commercial imperatives rather than in battle and defined by the reality of Muslims living within non-Muslim societies. Focusing on India's Malabar Coast, the much-fabled land of pepper, Prange provides a case study of how Monsoon Islam developed in response to concrete economic, socio-religious, and political challenges. Because communities of Muslim merchants across the Indian Ocean were part of shared commercial, scholarly, and political networks, developments on the Malabar Coast illustrate a broader trans-oceanic history of the evolution of Islam across monsoon Asia. This history is told through four spaces that are examined in their physical manifestations as well as symbolic meanings: the Port, the Mosque, the Palace, and the Sea.

War Narratives Caleb S. Cage, 2019-06-18 Since the end of the draft in the United States, the nation's wars have been fought by all volunteer forces creating an enormous divide between the civilian public and its military Recent wars have taken place during the information age allowing cable news and the new media of the internet to change sometimes on a daily or even hourly basis the way wars are understood As a result a multitude of competing and often flawed narratives have emerged that ultimately merely explain events in terms of self serving political and cultural perspectives Author Caleb S. Gage a veteran of the war in Iraq brings a unique perspective to the understanding of how we talk about war Why does the American public believe that those who served are somehow both heroes and victims while the typical service member rarely embraces either identity How does what happens on the front line get communicated to those back home and what happens to that information as it travels Is it possible that works of fiction are telling the most real versions of what is happening over there War Narratives is a tightly packed and provocative book containing a series of connected essays on the many competing narratives both fiction and nonfiction that are used to explain recent conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan how those narratives are perceived through preexisting social political and literary lenses and how they often fall short As Gage points out narratives are not merely the stories shared or even how they are told these expressions reflect choices

Radical Origins Azeem Ibrahim, 2017-11-07 More than fifteen years ago after the War on Terror was declared many in the West now feel less secure than ever before Many security experts believe global jihad is on the rise throughout the West and yet these same experts do not know how to stop the rising tide Military action abroad and police action at home have only attended to the symptoms of terrorism not the cause The root according to Dr Ibrahim is actually the extreme ideology of Wahhabism the puritanical reactionary isolationist xenophobic and bigoted sect of Sunni Islam that has been the ideological bedrock of the state of Saudi Arabia since its original rise in the eighteenth century In his groundbreaking Radical Origins Dr Ibrahim provides an accessible primer on radicalism an understanding of jihadist history and a way forward debunking misconceptions about Islam and this jihadist offshoot along the way This remarkable work culminates in a powerful body of evidence about how to contain reduce and stop the spread of radicalization once and for all Power in World Politics Felix Berenskoetter, M. J. Williams, 2007-11-06 Featuring contributions from both upcoming and distinguished scholars including Steven Lukes Joseph Nye and Stefano Guzzini this volume explores the nature and location of power in international politics through a variety of conceptual lenses Terrorist in Search of Humanity Faisal Devji, 2019-12-01 Faisal Devji argues that new forms of militancy such as the actions of al Qaeda are informed by the same desire for agency and equality that animates other humanitarian interventions such as environmentalism and pacifism To the militant victimized Muslims are more than just symbols of ethnic and religious persecution they represent humanity's centuries long struggle for legitimacy and agency Acts of terror therefore are fueled by the militant's desire to become a historical actor on the global stage Though they have yet to build concrete political institutions militant movements have formed a kind of global society and as Devji makes clear this society pursues the same humanitarian objectives that drive more benevolent groups

Making a Muslim S. Akbar Zaidi, 2021-09-30 Using primarily Urdu sources from the nineteenth century this book allows us to rethink notions of the Muslim in its numerous complex and often contradictory forms which emerged in colonial North India after 1857. Allowing the self representation of Muslimness and its manifestations to emerge it contrasts how the colonial British made Muslims very differently compared to how the community envisaged themselves. A key argument made here contests the general sense of the narrative of lamentation, decay, decline and a sense of self pity and ruination by proposing a different condition that of zillat a condition which gave rise to much self reflection resulting in action even if it was in the form of writing and expression. By questioning how and when a Muslim community emerged in colonial India the book unsettles the teleological explanation of the Partition of India and the making of Pakistan. The SAGE Encyclopedia of Terrorism, Second Edition Gus Martin, 2011-06-15 Six years after publication of the first edition of the best selling Encyclopedia of Terrorism much has changed on the national security scene. Despite the dark promises of Osama bin Laden following the 9/11 attacks the United States has not experienced any major domestic terror incidents. Al Qaeda itself is believed to be a severely crippled organization. But while U.S. wars in Afghanistan and Iraq not to mention the arrival of the Obama administration a new balance of power within Congress and an increasingly fragile economic picture have significantly affected the national security picture the threat of economic chaos and massive loss of life due to terror attacks has not abated. Indeed in July 2008 analysts pointed out that even a relatively small terrorist organization could present a dire threat with some experts arguing that a biological, chemical or even nuclear attack on a major U.S. city is all but inevitable. In this highly charged rapidly shifting environment we are pleased to present the The SAGE Encyclopedia of Terrorism Second Edition a thoroughly updated and expanded edition of the original highly regarded reference work. Nearly 100,000 words of new material will be added along with fully updated original entries and expanded coverage. New introductory essays will explore the impact of terrorism on economics, public health, religion and even pop culture. Ethical issues such as the role of torture in interrogations, competing notions of security versus liberty and the debates over FISA legislation and Guantanamo Bay will also be covered. Two dozen entries on significant recent events such as the London bombings, Chechen attacks on Russian interests and the rescue of Ingrid Bettancourt and some 60 additional new entries will restore the work as an up to the minute natural first stop for researchers.

Moebius Anthropology Don Handelman, Matan Shapiro, Jackie Feldman, 2020-10-07 Don Handelman's groundbreaking work in anthropology is showcased in this collection of his most powerful essays edited by Matan Shapiro and Jackie Feldman. The book looks at the intellectual and spiritual roots of Handelman's initiation into anthropology, his work on ritual and on bureaucratic logic, analyses of cosmology and innovative essays on Anthropology and Deleuzian thinking. Handelman reconsiders his theory of the forming of form and how this relates to a new theory of the dynamics of time. This will be the definitive collection of articles by one of the most important anthropologists of the late 20th Century.

International Law and Islam Ignacio de la Rasilla del

Moral, Ayesha Shahid, 2018-12-10 International Law and Islam Historical Explorations offers a unique opportunity to examine the Islamic contribution to the development of international law in historical perspective. The role of Islam in its various intellectual, political and legal manifestations within the history of international law is part of the exciting intellectual renovation of international and global legal history in the dawn of the twenty first century. The present volume is an invitation to engage with this thriving development after generations of prejudiced writing regarding the notable contribution of Islam to international law and its history.

The New Global History Bruce Mazlish, 2006-09-27 From a distinguished author in the field, The New Global History is a critical inquiry into the historical process of globalization which is seen as a distinctly twentieth century phenomenon with its roots in the age of expansion of the early modern world. Cutting across disciplinary boundaries, The New Global History offers a fresh overarching view of the process of globalization that is always empirically based and discusses the most important themes such as policy, trade, cultural imperialism and warfare. Bruce Mazlish argues that globalization is not something that the West has imposed upon the rest of the world but the result of the interplay of many factors across continents. Students of history, politics and international studies will all find this a valuable resource in the pursuit of their studies.

The Untold War Nancy Sherman, 2011-09-26 Brilliant, a must read for veterans and those who seek to understand them. Huffington Post The Untold War draws on revealing interviews with servicemen and women to offer keen psychological and philosophical insights into the experience of being a soldier. Bringing to light the ethical quandaries that soldiers face, torture, the thin line between fighters and civilians and the anguish of killing even in a just war, Nancy Sherman opens our eyes to the fact that wars are fought internally as well as externally, enabling us to understand the emotional tolls that are so often overlooked.

Princeton Readings in Islamist Thought Roxanne L. Euben, Muhammad Qasim Zaman, 2021-06-08 The most authoritative anthology of Islamist texts. This anthology of key primary texts provides an unmatched introduction to Islamist political thought from the early twentieth century to the present and serves as an invaluable guide through the storm of polemic fear and confusion that swirls around Islamism today. Roxanne Euben and Muhammad Qasim Zaman gather a broad selection of texts from influential Islamist thinkers and place these figures and their writings in their multifaceted political and historical contexts. The selections presented here in English translation include writings of Ayatollah Khomeini, Usama bin Laden, Muslim Brotherhood founder Hasan al Banna and Moroccan Islamist leader Nadia Yassine as well as the Hamas charter, an interview with a Taliban commander and the final testament of 9/11 hijacker Muhammad Atta. Illuminating the content and political appeal of Islamist thought, this anthology brings into sharp relief the commonalities in Islamist arguments about gender, democracy and violence but it also reveals significant political and theological disagreements among thinkers too often grouped together and dismissed as extremists or terrorists. No other anthology better illustrates the diversity of Islamist thought, the complexity of its intellectual and political contexts or the variety of ways in which it relates to other intellectual and religious trends in the contemporary Muslim world.

Terrorist's Creed R. Griffin, 2012-09-19 Terrorist's Creed casts a penetrating beam of empathetic understanding into the disturbing and murky psychological world of fanatical violence explaining how the fanaticism it demands stems from the profoundly human need to imbue existence with meaning and transcendence The Routledge Handbook of Terrorism Research Alex Schmid, 2011-02-25 This major new Handbook synthesises more than two decades of scholarly research and provides a comprehensive overview of the field of terrorism studies The content of the Handbook is based on the responses to a questionnaire by nearly 100 experts from more than 20 countries as well as the specific expertise and experience of the volume editor and the various contributors Together they guide the reader through the voluminous literature on terrorism and propose a new consensus definition of terrorism based on an extensive review of existing conceptualisations The work also features a large collection of typologies and surveys a wide range of theories of terrorism Additional chapters survey terrorist databases and provide a guide to available resources on terrorism in libraries and on the Internet It also includes the most comprehensive World Directory of Extremist Terrorist and other Organizations associated with Guerrilla Warfare Political Violence Protest and Organized and Cyber Crime The Routledge Handbook of Terrorism Research will be an essential work of reference for students and researchers of terrorism and political violence security studies criminology political science and international relations and of great interest to policymakers and professionals in the field of counter terrorism

Legalism Paul Dresch, Judith Scheele, 2015 Mainstream historians in recent decades have often treated formal categories and rules as something to be used by individuals as one might use a stick or stone and the gains of an earlier legal history are often needlessly set aside Anthropologists meanwhile have treated rules as analytic errors and categories as an imposition by outside powers or by analysts leaving a very thin notion of practice as the stuff of social life Philosophy of an older vintage as well as the work of scholars such as Charles Taylor provides fresh approaches when applied imaginatively to cases beyond the traditional ground of modern Europe and North America Not only are different kinds of rules and categories open to examination but the very notion of a rule can be explored more deeply This volume approaches rules and categories as constitutive of action and hence of social life but also as providing means of criticism and imagination A general theoretical framework is derived from analytical philosophy from Wittgenstein to his critics and beyond and from recent legal thinkers such as Schauer and Waldron Case studies are presented from a broad range of periods and regions from Amazonia via northern Chad Tibet and medieval Russia to the scholarly worlds of Roman law Islam and Classical India As the third volume in the Legalism series this collection draws on common themes that run throughout the first two volumes Legalism Anthropology and History and Legalism Community and Justice consolidating them in a framework that suggests a new approach to rule bound systems

Empire and Tribe in the Afghan Frontier Region Hugh Beattie, 2019-09-19 Waziristan a region on the border between Afghanistan and Pakistan has in recent years become a flash point in the so called War on Terror Hugh Beattie looks at the history of this region examining British attempts to manage the tribes from 1849 until Pakistan's declaration of independence in 1947. He explores British attempts to divide the frontier region into separate British and Afghan spheres of influence. In the minds of British policymakers, this demarcation would secure the position of the Empire, and so Beattie highlights the various policy initiatives towards the frontier region over the period in question. Crucially, he analyses how the British perceived the local tribes, what constituted authority within tribal frameworks, and the military and political ramifications of these perceptions. As he also explores the contemporary relevance of this region, taking into account the resurgence of the Taliban in Waziristan, Beattie's analysis is vital for those interested in the history and security implications of the Afghan frontier with Pakistan.

Apocalyptic Movements in Contemporary Politics

C. Aldrovandi, 2014-05-27. This book explores Israeli Religious Zionism and US Christian Zionism by focusing on the Messianic and Millenarian drives at the basis of their political mobilization towards a Jewish colonization of the occupied territories.

Democracy, States, and the Struggle for Social Justice Heather D. Gautney, Neil Smith, Omar Dahbour, Ashley Dawson, 2009-04-24. Using understandable and interesting case studies, Democracy, States, and the Struggle for Social Justice analyzes the impact of neoliberal globalization on governance and explores the new forms of participatory democracy that have emerged from the global justice movement.
