The Truce Karen Umemoto,2018-07-05 This ethnography of a gang war in the Los Angeles neighborhood of Oakwood just blocks from the famed Venice Beach boardwalk provides a rare eyewitness account of the urban violence pervasive in the recent history of the United States With seventeen people killed and more than fifty injured the hostilities over ten months in 1993 and 1994 marked the peak of gang violence in the history of Los Angeles a city once labeled the gang capital of the nation The conflict began as a quarrel among individuals some of whom had gang affiliations Over time the feud engulfed families and soon grew into a sustained clash between African American and Latino gangs Eventually victims fell who were not members of opposing gangs but who fit certain racial and gender profiles The conflict began to take on the attributes of what one local newspaper sensationalized as a race war Karen Umemoto lived nearby during this conflict and undertook two years of ethnographic research during and immediately following the spate of killings She now offers a nuanced analysis of the trajectory and eventual end of this acute crisis Her interviews with gang members neighborhood residents business leaders police officers and gang intervention workers reveal the complexity of contemporary American urban conflict The Truce highlights the differences in interpretations among combatants witnesses and law enforcement agents and others whose actions often had unintended consequences Drawing on her experience living in multicultural Los Angeles and on the latest scholarship in a wide variety of disciplines Umemoto provides much needed guidance for policymakers and concerned members of the public faced with violence in an ever changing urban landscape Talking out Loud d.e.gray,2021-10-29

Casey Hoghupper a six year veteran police officer working LAPD s Seventy Seventh Division has a secret She has a guardian angel that no one else can see or hear but her The problem is the other officers in her division only see her talking out loud when no one else is present Question Is the stress of the job causing her to lose her mind The captain of her division along with city psychologist Althea Bianchi are tasked with finding out if she is still fit to protect and to serve the citizens of Los Angeles Evaluating Casey Hoghupper wouldn t be easy for Dr Bianchi since Casey herself has earned a BA degree in psychology from renowned Vassar College in Poughkeepsie New York The two would go head to head during their office visit and later after spending only one night as an observer during Hoghupper s Watch 3 shift Dr Bianchi becomes even more convinced that she should be relieved of her police powers and retired to civilian life Aside from several appearances by her guardian angel Casey s demeanor as a police officer has always been completely above board professional and by the book And thanks to Seventy Seventh Division captain Howard Carver Dr Bianchi would end up more or less falling on her own sword In an effort to escape some of the stigma given to her by her fellow police officers Casey puts in for a transfer to another division and soon finds herself working Hollywood Division Hollywood is the place elitists like to refer to as the entertainment capital of the world but to the Hollywood coppers who work there it s the land of fruits and nuts Casey realizes that whoever coined the phrase being a cop in LA is like having a ringside seat to the greatest show on earth was on point But now working Hollywood Division it was time to send in the clowns After another visit from her guardian angel Casey Hoghupper thwarts the mass murder of over twenty people who were staying at the Hollywood Gay Dream Motel on a chilly Christmas Eve Her quick actions made it possible for all the guests to flee the motel just minutes before it is leveled and burned to the ground by a murderer s homemade bomb Casey Hoghupper teams up with Det Marrisa Ortega and together they go on the hunt to track down the suspect who planted the bomb if for no other reason than to hide the murder of the man named John Smith in room 12 This story will have you crying laughing and rooting for cops who have to deal not only with the Hollywood eccentrics but the streetwise criminals and those within the LAPD s ivory tower Stress Inside Police Departments Jon Shane,2019-12-06 This book offers researchers police practitioners and policymakers a platform for organizational reform and an understanding of how the police organization creates stress which contributes to reduced officer performance This book based on an in depth study exploring the relationship between perceived organizational stressors and police performance indicates which features of the police organization generate the most stress affecting performance and provides a model of organizational stress that applies to police agencies While much stress research portrays the operation of policing as the greatest source of contention among officers this research shows the ever present rigid hierarchical design of the police agency to be contributing factor of stress that affects performance Ideal for scholars police personnel and policymakers who are interested in how the police organization contributes to lower officer performance this book has implications for policing agencies in the United States and worldwide

behavior of private citizens and not just the police force itself contributes to the perpetuation of police brutality and institutional racism

Warning Neighborhood Watch Program in Force If I don't call the police my neighbor will

Signs like this can be found affixed to telephone poles on streets throughout the US warning trespassers that the community is an active participant in its own policing efforts

Thijs Jeurssen calls this phenomenon in which individuals take on the responsibility of defending themselves and share with the police the duty to mitigate everyday insecurity vigilant citizenship

Drawing on eleven months of fieldwork in Miami and sharing the stories and experiences of police officers private security guards neighborhood watch groups civil society organizations and a broad range of residents and activists Jeurssen uses the lens of vigilant citizenship to extend the analysis of police brutality beyond police encounters focusing on the often blurred boundaries between policing actors and policed citizens and highlighting the many ways in which policing produces and perpetuates inequality and injustice

As a central premise in everyday policing vigilant citizenship frames racist and violent policing as matters of personal blame and individual guilt ultimately downplaying the realities of how systemically race operates in policing and US society more broadly

The Vigilant Citizen illustrates how a focus on individualized responsibility for security exacerbates and legitimizes existing inequalities a situation that must be addressed to end institutionalized racism in politics and the justice system

Eclipse of the Blue D. E. Gray, 2012-10-22

For the Retired Blues Crew a small group of retired LAPD police officers that meet once a month to share old war stories and enjoy each others company accepting retirement was a hard pill to swallow

Once considered savvy street warriors who risked life and limb protecting the good citizens of Los Angeles they were now the forgotten heroes whose past heroic deeds were now only remembrances visited through their colorful story telling during their once a month get togethers

Like all things in life they were all expendable and the guys in the Retired Blues Crew had been replaced by a new generation of street warriors

To the old dogs who were put out to pasture the new centurions were taking their places with new technology and a confidence that bordered on disrespect for those who had paved the way before them

The argument that the old days of crushing crime without the benefit of all the new fangled gadgets was more rewarding than the technology of the future was a misconception of the new breed that were now in charge of protecting the citizens of Los Angeles

For the select group of old story tellers they needed to add one more chapter in their lives something for the street warriors of the present to remember them by when their time finally came and they were reduced to second class citizens too old to do the job anymore

This small tight knit group of old street warriors had enough and it was time to prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that they weren't too old to out smart and out wit the hightech rouges who have now taken their places

Proving that computers and gadgets could never replace the wisdom and experience that the old dogs were blessed with wouldn't be an easy task but they were determined to challenge the new breed and beat them at their own game

They knew whatever it was they were going to do couldn't replicate anything like the violent movies you see where people die get hurt or cars get wrecked and buildings are blown up after all they were cops or at least they were once That being said the old dogs had to pull off the perfect caper and they had to do it without claiming any of the bragging rights they so much yearned for It would have to be for no other reason than For Greater Glory In that one of their own had been diagnosed with cancer with less than six months to live they only had a small window of opportunity to get it done Since he was the architect behind the perfect crime referred to as Operation Blue Eclipse their success would depend on how well the plan was executed with no room for error If all went as planned and after all was said and done the Retired Blues Crew would truly know who the best of the best was
