Last Man Out The Story Of The Springhill Mine Disaster:

Last Man Out Melissa Fay Greene, 2015-09-24 The deepest coal mine in North America was notoriously unpredictable One late October evening in 1958 it bumped its rock floors heaving up and smashing into rock ceilings A few miners staggered out most of the 174 on shift did not Nineteen men were trapped plunged into darkness hunger thirst and hallucination As days and nights passed the survivors began to hope for death by gas rather than from thirst Above ground journalists and families stood in despairing vigil as rescuers brought out scores of the dead The hope of finding life underground faded and families made funeral preparations Then a miracle Rescuers stumbled across a broken pipe leading to a cave of survivors then a second group was discovered A media circus followed Ed Sullivan then the state of Georgia invited survivors to visit Publicity politics and segregation sorted the men differently than they had ordered themselves Underground the one black survivor nursed a dying man in Atlanta Governor Marvin Griffin said I will not shake hands with a Negro If every great writer has one tale of peril heroism and survival Last Man Out is Melissa Fay Greene s Using long lost stories and interviews with survivors Greene has reconstructed the drama of their struggle to stay alive Danger, Death and

Disaster in the Crowsnest Pass Mines, 1902-1928 Karen Lynne Buckley, 2004 The Crowsnest Pass is famous for the tragic rock slide at Frank in 1903 but almost as famous are the many coal mining tragedies that afflicted the region in the early twentieth century With the discovery of a rich coal deposit in the region the area underwent an economic boom and a spike in population that is still evidenced today Unfortunately with this type of mining in rugged and often dangerous conditions comes the threat of disaster and occasionally death This book examines carefully the various calamities that have afflicted the area and considers the impact on the inhabitants and victims of these numerous tragedies Using original source material such as grave markers folk songs and oral histories the author portrays vividly the psychological and sociological features of both the individual and collective responses to death and danger giving the reader a unique picture of mining communities that is as true today as it was a century ago Coal Black Heart John Demont, 2010-04-06 A major new work of history told through the stories of a teeming cast of characters The history of coal is the story of the last two centuries of the industrialized world Coal has powered that world and controlled the destinies of millions And nowhere has that influence run more deeply than in Nova Scotia where the industry s rise and decline has transformed society twice Coal Black Heart is a global history that centres unapologetically on one province and the generations of people whose lives there have been shaped by this dominating industry There are the miners There are the moonshiners and brooding social reformers and charismatic preachers who gave the mining towns their particular feel and flair And there are the profiteers whose greed led to disaster This is history as great storytelling enthralling involving deeply moving and it is a very personal narrative A brilliant reporter journalist and author who has spent most of his career examining Nova Scotia s weave of land people and history and who grew up listening to its stories John DeMont was born to write this book Mental Health and Canadian Society James E. Moran, David Wright, 2006-08-14 In Mental Health and Canadian Society leading researchers challenge generalisations about the mentally ill and the history of mental health in Canada Considering the period from colonialism to the present they examine such issues as the rise of the insanity plea the Victorian asylum as a tourist attraction the treatment of First Nations people in western mental hospitals and post World War II psychiatric research into LSD Goodbye Wives and Daughters Susan K. Resnick, 2010-03-01 One morning in 1943 close to eighty men descended into the Smith coal mine in Bearcreek Montana Only three came out alive Goodbye wives and daughters wrote two of the miners as they died The story of that tragic day and its aftermath unfolds in this book through the eyes of those wives and daughters women who lost their husbands fathers and sons livelihoods neighbors and homes yet managed to fight back and persevere Disaster Songs as Intangible Memorials in Atlantic Canada Heather Sparling, 2022-12-30 Disaster Songs as Intangible Memorials in Atlantic Canada draws on a collection of over 600 songs relating to Atlantic Canadian disasters from 1891 up until the present and describes the characteristics that define them as intangible memorials The book demonstrates the relationship between vernacular memorials informal memorials collectively and spontaneously created from a variety of objects by the general public and disaster songs The author identifies the features that define vernacular memorials and applies them to disaster songs spontaneity ephemerality importance of place motivations and meaning making content as well as the role of media in inspiring and disseminating memorials and songs Visit the companion website www.disastersongs.ca Last Acts David J. Casarett, 2010-01-12 Palliative care physician Dr David Casarett considers the medical options terminal patients face at the end of life in this thoughtful and illuminating guide to last acts What would you do if you had only a few days to live Or a few weeks or months What if a loved one were in this situation how could you help that person decide how to spend the time that remained Perhaps you lost a family member or dear friend to a terminal illness and were baffled by that person's choices How do you make sense of his or her last acts Dr David Casarett a palliative care physician and researcher specializes in the care of patients near the end of life Drawing on his years of experience and the stories of patients he has treated as well as his own research he explores the wide variety of ways in which people spend their last days Why do some people choose to be altruistic while others are vengeful Why do some leave a legacy while others prefer to celebrate and enjoy their time with family and friends Why do some fight and struggle to the last minute while others accept their fate and use their limited time to reconnect or reconcile The tremendous diversity of these last acts makes clear that there is no formula for dying well or choices that are right for everyone At the same time these stories reveal that some choices may be harmful to the dying person or those closest to him Last Acts helps dying patients and their families think about the possibilities that exist at the end of life so they may choose to spend their time in ways that help bring them peace of mind The New Georgia Encyclopedia Companion to Georgia Literature Hugh Ruppersburg, John C.
