Life After Leaving Sophie Tamas, 2016-06-16 After leaving her twelve year marriage Sophie Tamas went to the local women's shelter to ask if she had been abused The result is Life after Leaving a performative arts based journey into the aftermath of spousal abuse and the endless struggle to make sense of loss We see Sophie's world the academic lectures the therapy sessions the childrearing the dealings with an ex spouse the house reconstruction as she looks for answers in the literature and in the lives of other women Both lyrical and theoretical autoethnographic and analytical her captivating story builds to a chorus of voices as her study participants express the loving longing pain hope and frustration of their experiences after leaving abusive relationships The text closes with insightful and surprising suggestions for reframing recovery An earlier version of this manuscript was short listed for the AERA Arts Based Dissertation Award and won the 2011 Outstanding Dissertation Award from the International Institute for Qualitative Methodology Sponsored by the International Institute for Qualitative Methodology University of Alberta

Exploring Learning, Identity and Power through Life History and Narrative Research Ann-Marie Bathmaker, Penelope Harnett, 2010-02-25 What stories can we tell of ourselves and others and why should they be of interest to others Exploring Learning Identity and Power through Life History and Narrative Research responds to these questions with examples from diverse educational and social contexts The book brings together a collection of writing by different authors who use a narrative life history approach to explore the experiences of a wide range of people including teachers nurses young people and adults reflecting on learning and education at significant moments in their lives In addition each chapter provides an account by the author of the process of constructing research narratives and the second chapter of the book focuses specifically on ethical issues in life history and narrative research This book provides vivid examples of a narrative life history approach to research uses narrative life history to explore identity power and social justice offers an effective model for practice With contributions from a number of international experts this book addresses key issues of social justice and power played out within different contexts and also discusses the ethics of narrative research directly The book makes a timely contribution to the growing interest in the use of narrative and life history research With the increasing importance of continuing professional development for many working in education health and social service contexts the book will be of interest to both students and researchers as it provides clear examples of how researching professionals can use narrative research to investigate a particular area of interest

Seven Minutes from Home Laurel Richardson, 2016-07-15 Book An American Daughter's Story is a collection of linked stories written chronologically from 1980 to 2015. They create a multifaceted narrative of how the public and the private, the past and the present, the local and global intersect. With earnest reflection, modesty, and humor, Laurel Richardson introduces the reader to her Ohio neighborhoods, friends, family, writers, and therapy dogs. She ages, retires, and frets over her droopy eyebrow. Her town's local stores close, police bust heroin dealers, September 11th happens, universities corporatize, poetry venues transform. All this and much more as Richardson honors the complexity and vibrancy of America and her life within it. Richardson's renowned book Fields of Play (1997) is about constructing a life inside the academy; Seven Minutes from Home is about constructing a life outside the academy. This extraordinary example of literary sociology can be read for pleasure, adopted in book clubs, or used in courses in American Studies, communication, creative writing, narrative, qualitative research, sociology, cultural studies, and women's studies. An appendix offers discussion questions, research projects, and creative writing exercises. A tour de force, the penultimate statement from gifted writer Laurel Richardson. Here, an American daughter's story comes home. Norman Denzin, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. The stories are riveting; you will not be able to stop reading. Carolyn Ellis, University of South Florida. An exemplar for how good social science should be written. Jessica Smartt Gullion, Texas Woman's University. A love letter to a culture and a life well lived. Anne Harris, Monash University. Highly recommended for courses in sociology, women's studies, and creative writing. Mary Margaret Fonow, Arizona State University. Laurel Richardson, Professor Emerita at The Ohio State University, has received a Life Time Achievement Award in Qualitative Research, a Cooley Book Award, and two Affirmative Action awards. She writes daily. She is most proud of her therapy dogs' work with special needs children.

Ethnographies Revisited Antony J. Puddephatt, William Shaffir, Steven W. Kleinknecht, 2009-12-16. Ethnographies Revisited provides first-hand accounts of how leading qualitative researchers crafted key theoretical concepts found in their major book-length ethnographies. Great ethnographic research lies not in the rigid execution of prescribed methodological procedures but on the unrelenting cultivation of theoretical ideas. These contributors focus squarely on this neglected topic, providing reflexive accounts of how research decisions were made in light of emerging theoretical questions. The continuous generation of creative concepts is arguably the most important skill in developing powerful results in field research, since the originality of the ideas produced is how the study is ultimately judged. Yet this topic is often taken for granted, treated rigidly and artificially, or is entirely absent from existing qualitative research manuals. In contrast, this volume offers candid insights of how leading ethnographers generated their initial questions, chose their research sites, made theoretical and methodological adjustments, and oriented their research to maximize the conceptual payoff, leading to such successful research contributions. This provides a fresh approach to the topic of qualitative research by linking practical decisions in the field to the dynamic features of theory in the making told through the first hand experiences of some of the best ethnographers in our field

Handbook of Autoethnography Tony E. Adams, Stacy Holman Jones, Carolyn Ellis, 2016-05-23 In this definitive reference volume almost fifty leading thinkers and practitioners of autoethnographic research from four continents and a dozen disciplines comprehensively cover its vision opportunities and challenges Chapters address the theory history and ethics of autoethnographic practice representational and writing issues the personal and relational concerns of the autoethnographer and the link between researcher and social justice A set of 13 exemplars show the use of these principles in action Autoethnography is one of the most popularly practiced forms of qualitative research over the past 20 years and this volume captures all its essential elements for graduate students and practicing researchers

Narrating the Closet Tony E Adams, 2016-06-03 Adams makes use of interviews personal narratives and autoethnography to analyze lived relational experiences of sexuality using the closet as metaphor

Transcribing Silence Kristine L Muñoz, 2016-07-01 Kristine Muñoz's volume of short narrative works autoethnographies and fictional stories explore many dimensions of silence a crucial but often overlooked communication phenomenon one that drives much of everyday talk and relationships Framed by an introductory essay that synthesizes research on silence and the unsaid guides for reflection and expansion after each narrative and a conclusion that ponders ethnographic writing this volume is an essential work for those who study and teach interpersonal communication

WRITING QUALITATIVE INQUIRY H.L. Goodall, Jr., 2012-03-15 Responding to the rapid growth of personal narrative as a method of inquiry among qualitative scholars Bud Goodall offers a concise volume of practical advice for scholars and students seeking to work in this tradition He provides writing tips and strategies from a well published successful author of creative nonfiction and concrete guidance on finding appropriate outlets for your work For readers he offers a set of criteria to assess the quality of creative nonfiction writing Goodall suggests paths to success within the academy still rife with political sinkholes for the narrative ethnographer and ways of building a career as a public scholar Goodall's work serves as both a writing manual and career guide for those in qualitative inquiry

Performance Autoethnography Norman K. Denzin, 2018-04-20 This book is a manifesto It is about rethinking performance autoethnography about the formation of a critical performative cultural politics about what happens when everything is already performative when the dividing line between performativity and performance disappears This is a book about the writing called autoethnography It is also about what this form of writing means for writers who want to perform work that leads to social justice Denzin's goal is to take the reader through the history major terms forms criticisms and issues confronting performance autoethnography and critical interpretive To that end many of the chapters are written as performance texts as ethnodramas A single thesis organizes this book the performance turn has been taken in the human disciplines and it must be taken seriously Multiple informative performance models are discussed Goffman's dramaturgy Turner's performance anthropology performance ethnographies by A D Smith Conquergood and Madison Saldana's ethnodramas Schechter's social theatre Norris's playacting Boal's theatre of the oppressed and Freire's pedagogies of the oppressed They represent different ways of staging and hence performing ethnography resistance and critical pedagogy They represent different ways of imagining and inventing and hence performing alternative imaginaries alternative counter performances to war violence and the globalized corporate empire Schechner 2015 This book provides a systematic treatment of the origins goals concepts genres methods aesthetics ethics and truth conditions of critical performance autoethnography Denzin uses the performance text as a vehicle for taking up the hard questions about reading writing performing and doing critical work that makes a difference Revision Carolyn Ellis, 2016-07 This volume collects a dozen of Ellis's autoethnographic stories with a layering of new interpretations reflections and vignettes to her older work

Narratives of Hope and Grief in Higher Education Stephanie Anne Shelton, Nicole Sieben, 2020-04-01 This collection weaves together the personal narratives of a group of diverse scholars in academia in order to reflect on the ways that grief and hope matter for those situated within higher education Each chapter explores a unique aspect of grief and loss from experiencing a personal tragedy such as the loss of a loved one to national and international grief such as campus shootings and refugee camp experiences to experiencing racism and microaggressions as a woman of color in academia to the implications of religious differences severing personal ties as an individual navigates research and academic studies Unlike most resources examining grief this collection pushes beyond notions of sorrow as solely individual and instead situates moments of loss and hurt as ones that matter politically academically professionally and personally The editors and their authors offer pathways forward to academics researchers teachers pedagogues and thinkers who grapple with grief in a variety of forms transforming this book into a critical resource of hope to those in the field of education and others who may feel the effects of an otherwise solitary journey of grief to create an awareness of solidarity and support that some may not realize exists within academic circles Permission Julie White, 2016-03-22 The impetus for this book was a public lecture Laurel Richardson gave in Melbourne in 2006 How and why Laurel Richardson's writing resonates with so many others led to a qualitative research project investigating the impact of her work This book is the outcome of that project The nature of that connection between Richardson's writing and her readers has been examined Connections have also been drawn between Laurel Richardson's writing and the importance of collaboration community inclusion feminist engagement social justice and the challenges involved in working in the modernised university This book shows how Laurel Richardson's groundbreaking work has influenced others and became not only a method of inquiry but also a method of empathy and imagination Permission chronicles and celebrates the pioneering work and influence of Laurel Richardson With contributions from over 50 scholars across the disciplines beautifully curated by Julie White Permission shows the wide reach of Richardson's work Richardson has blazed new trails in the academy by writing honestly creatively and passionately about things that matter In doing so she has opened a space for others to find their voices and carve their own paths This book shows how grateful we are for the permission she has provided A must read for those new to Richardson's work as well as her many fans worldwide Patricia Leavy Ph D creator and editor of the Social Fictions series

QUALITATIVE INQUIRY AND THE POLITICS OF EVIDENCE Norman K Denzin, Michael D Giardina, 2008 What is evidence in qualitative inquiry and how is it evaluated The interdisciplinary international group of contributors to this volume address these questions in an attempt to create evidential criteria for qualitative work

Mediated Narration in the Digital Age Peter Joseph Gloviczki, 2021-10
Mediated Narration in the Digital Age examines mediated narration from 1991 through 2018 Peter Joseph Gloviczki considers this pivotal period spanning the rise of the World Wide Web through the growth of social media to understand how contemporary media accounts storied everyday life and times of crisis He uses examples across media culture to show that complicated issues benefit from a critical poststructuralist approach to journalism which promotes a communitarian ethos of respect inclusion and dialogue Textual analysis of a wide range of media narratives from a 2012 YouTube clip outlining a time line of the Sandy Hook school shootings to coverage of then newly discovered footage of President Roosevelt in a wheelchair in 2013 to the Cincinnati Enquirer's 2017 piece Seven Days of Heroin illustrate how theoretical concepts work in practice while explaining the new media environment In response to the lack of awareness of news as mediated narration Gloviczki calls for journalists to be aware of their role in meaning making and the attendant ethical responsibilities He provides the analysis essential to effective practice that emphasizes the connection between the individual and the community in order to more fully represent the mediated body
