Latin American Novels Of The Conquest Reinventing The New World:

Latin American Novels of the Conquest Kimberle S. López, 2002 The fictionalized explorers and conquistadors represented in this corpus all identify with certain aspects of Amerindian culture significantly those elements that are most distinct from European culture such as cannibalism and human sacrifice but also feel the need to distance themselves from these others in order to protect their own European cultural identity In most cases the conquistadors themselves are represented as outsiders within the enterprise of imperialism due to ethnic religious or sexual differences from the norm This representation turns the gaze inward toward the other within European culture underscoring the complex origins of Latin American cultures in the violent encounter between the Amerindians and the conquistadors By examining these issues Lopez s Latin American Novels of the Conquest illuminates the ways in which Latin American novelists used their literary imaginations to embody their ambivalence regarding their own transcultural heritage as children of both the colonized and the colonizer understandings of the nation The book additionally considers the motivations and implications for these filmic dialogues with the past and how the directors attempt to control the way that spectators understand the complex and contentious roots of identity in Mexico and Brazil

From Lack to Excess Yolanda Martínez-San Miguel,2008 From Lack to Excess analyzes the narrative and rhetorical structures of Latin American colonial texts by establishing a dialogue with studies on minority discourse minor literatures and postcolonial theory After reviewing the main contributions and limitations of Transatlantic Early Modern and Postcolonial studies for the interpretation of Latin American colonial textualities Martínez San Miguel takes as a point of departure the subtle yet pervasive semantic link between the terms minority and colonialism prevalent in current studies on ethnic and sexual identities She then engages the disciplinary debate between Colonial Latin American studies and Early Modern Transatlantic and Postcolonial studies paying attention to the epistemic and institutional junctures that explain the current reconfiguration of these fields As an alternative to an exhausted debate Martínez San Miguel uses Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari's notion of a minor literature along with current studies on minority discourse to propose new close readings of texts by Hernan Cortes Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca the Inca Garcilaso de la Vega Carlos de Sigüenza y Gongora and Sor Juana Ines de la Cruz From Lack to Excess traces a discursive voyage that configures a linguistic matrix from the initial lack of language to the excessive Baroque representation of American reality BOOK JACKET

Literary Reimaginings of Argentina's Independence Catriona McAllister,2022-01-05 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library As the moment of the birth of the patria Independence enjoys a privileged role in the historical imaginary of many Latin American nations In Argentina as in other countries the period has been fundamental to state discourses of nation building and identity lending its figures and central narratives a powerful symbolic function It has also attracted significant literary attention and this book offers an innovative reading of texts that provide irreverent metafictional or self reflexive retellings of this foundational moment This type of fiction is usually read through well established frameworks on the contemporary Latin American historical novel that emphasise its destabilising of knowledge and single truths Instead this work foregrounds the much more immediate concrete political points at stake when we read these texts through both their direct engagement with contemporary circumstances and the politics of the history they evoke It therefore argues for a new approach to reading contemporary Latin American historical fiction that showcases its response to politically urgent questions

The Dialectical Path of Law Charles Lincoln, 2021-10-13 This book aims to contribute a single idea a new way to interpret legal decisions in any field of law and in any capacity of interpreting law through a theory called legal dialects This theory of the dialectical path of law uses the Hegelian dialectic which compares and contrasts two ideas showing how they are concurrently the same but separate without the original ideas losing their inherent and distinctive properties what in Hegelian terms is referred to as the sublation To demonstrate this theory Lincoln takes different aspects of international tax law and corporate law two fields that seem entirely contradictory and shows how they are similar without disregarding their key theoretical properties Primarily focusing on the technical rules of the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD approach to international tax law and the United States approach to tax law Lincoln shows that both engage in the Hegelian dialectical approach to law

Utopian Dreams, Apocalyptic Nightmares Miguel López-Lozano, 2008 Utopian Dreams Apocalyptic Nightmares traces the history of utopian representations of the Americas first on the part of the colonizers who idealized the New World as an earthly paradise and later by Latin American modernizing elites who imagined Western industrialization cosmopolitanism and consumption as a utopian dream for their independent societies Carlos Fuentes Homero Aridjis Carmen Boullosa and Alejandro Morales utilize the literary genre of dystopian science fiction to elaborate on how globalization has resulted in the alienation of indigenous peoples and the deterioration of the ecology This book concludes that Mexican and Chicano perspectives on the past and the future of their societies constitute a key site for the analysis of the problems of underdevelopment social injustice and ecological decay that plague today s world Whereas utopian discourse was once used to justify colonization Mexican and Chicano writers now deploy dystopian rhetoric to interrogate projects of modernization contributing to the current debate on the global expansion of capitalism The narratives coincide in expressing confidence in the ability of Latin American and U S Latino popular sectors to claim a decisive role in the implementation of enhanced measures to guarantee an ecologically sound ethnically diverse and just society for the future of the Americas Cannibal Writes Njeri Githire,2014-12-15 Postcolonial and diaspora studies scholars and critics have paid increasing attention to the use of metaphors of food eating digestion and various affiliated actions such as loss of appetite indigestion and regurgitation As such stylistic devices proliferated in the works of non Western women writers scholars connected metaphors of eating and consumption to colonial and imperial domination In Cannibal Writes Njeri Githire concentrates on the gendered and sexualized dimensions of these visceral metaphors of consumption in works by women writers from Haiti Jamaica Mauritius and elsewhere Employing theoretical analysis and insightful readings of English and French language texts she explores the prominence of alimentary related tropes and their relationship to sexual consumption writing global geopolitics and economic dynamics and migration As she shows the use of cannibalism in particular as a central motif opens up privileged modes for mediating historical and sociopolitical issues Ambitiously comparative Cannibal Writes ranges across the works of well known and lesser known writers to tie together two geographic and cultural spaces that have much in common but are seldom studied in parallel

The Converso's Return Dalia Kandiyoti,2020-08-04 Five centuries after the forced conversion of Spanish and Portuguese Jews to Catholicism stories of these conversos descendants uncovering long hidden Jewish roots have come to light and taken hold of the literary and popular imagination This seemingly remote history has inspired a wave of contemporary writing involving hidden artifacts familial whispers and secrets and clandestine Jewish ritual practices pointing to a past that had been presumed dead and buried The Converso's Return explores the cultural politics and literary impact of this reawakened interest in converso and crypto Jewish history ancestry and identity and asks what this fascination with lost and found heritage can tell us about how we relate to and make use of the past Dalia Kandiyoti offers nuanced interpretations of contemporary fictional and autobiographical texts about crypto Jews in Cuba Mexico New Mexico Spain France the Ottoman Empire and Turkey These works not only imagine what might be missing from the historical archive but also suggest an alternative historical consciousness that underscores uncommon convergences of and solidarities within Sephardi Christian Muslim converso and Sabbatean histories Steeped in diaspora Sephardi transamerican Iberian and world literature studies The Converso's Return illuminates how the converso narrative can enrich our understanding of history genealogy and collective memory Appetites and Anxieties Cynthia Baron,Diane Carson,Mark Bernard,2012-11-01 Employs the foodways paradigm to analyze the ideological dimensions of food imagery and food behavior in fiction and documentary films Cinema is a mosaic of memorable food scenes Detectives drink alone Gangsters talk with their mouths full Families around the world argue at dinner Food documentaries challenge popular consumption centered visions In Appetites and Anxieties Food Film and the Politics of Representation authors Cynthia Baron Diane Carson and Mark Bernard use a foodways paradigm drawn from the fields of folklore and cultural anthropology to illuminate film's cultural and material politics. In looking at how films do and do not represent food procurement, preparation, presentation, consumption, clean up, and disposal, the authors bring the pleasures, dangers, and implications of consumption to center stage. In nine chapters, Baron Carson and Bernard consider food in fiction films and documentaries from both American and international cinema. The first chapter examines film practice from the foodways perspective, supplying a foundation for the collection of case studies that follow. Chapter 2 takes a political economy approach as it examines the food industry and the film industry's policies that determine representations of food in film. In chapter 3, the authors explore food and food interactions as a means for creating community in Baghdad Caf while in chapter 4, they take a close look at 301/302 in which food is used to mount social critique. Chapter 5 focuses on cannibal films showing how the foodways paradigm unlocks the implications of films that dramatize one of society's greatest food taboos. In chapter 6, the authors demonstrate ways that insights generated by the foodways lens can enrich genre and auteur studies. Chapter 7 considers documentaries about food and water resources while chapter 8 examines food documentaries that slip through the cracks of film censorship by going into exhibition without an MPAA rating. Finally, in chapter 9, the authors study films from several national cinemas to explore the intersection of food, gender, and ethnicity. Four appendices provide insights from a food stylist, a selected filmography of fiction films, and a filmography of documentaries that feature foodways components and a list of selected works in food and cultural studies. Scholars of film studies and food studies will enjoy the thought-provoking analysis of Appetites and Anxieties.

The essays in this volume represent a cross-section of current scholarship examining the implications of the concept of ffentlichkeit, the public sphere originally conceived by the German philosopher Jürgen Habermas in the early 1960s in his socio-historical study Strukturwandel der ffentlichkeit, The Structural Transformation of the Public Sphere. The contributions herein add to the discourse surrounding an evolving public sphere using diverse perspectives to explore a variety of contexts in which this concept appears and reappears. The current volume showcases some of the most impactful papers originally presented at the 25th SCFLLF held in Asheville, North Carolina, in March of 2023.

Writing the Hamat'sa Aaron Glass, 2021-07-15. Long known as the Cannibal Dance, the Hamat'sa is among the most important hereditary prerogatives of the Kwakwaka'wakw of British Columbia. In the late nineteenth century, as anthropologists arrived to document the practice, colonial agents were pursuing its eradication, and Kwakwaka'wakw were adapting it to endure. In the process, the dance, with dramatic choreography, magnificent bird masks, and an aura of cannibalism, entered a vast library of ethnographic texts. Writing the Hamat'sa offers a critical survey of attempts to record, describe, and interpret the dance over four centuries. Going beyond postcolonial critiques of representation that often ignore Indigenous agency in the ethnographic encounter Writing the Hamat sa focuses on forms of textual mediation and Indigenous response that helped transform the ceremony from a set of specific performances into a generalized cultural icon This meticulous work illuminates how Indigenous people contribute to contest and repurpose texts in the process of fashioning modern identities under settler colonialism Debunking the Myths of Colonization Samar Attar, 2010-04-13 Debunking the Myths of Colonization examines Salman Rushdie's thesis on the paradoxical nature of colonialism and its horrific impact on the psyche of the colonized It probes Frantz Fanon's theories concerning the relationship between colonizers and colonized and attempts to apply these theories to modern Arabic literature Like Rushdie and Fanon many Arab writers have embarked on a journey to the metropolis of their ex colonial masters Due to their encounter with English or French culture they have written memoirs poems or fictions in which they have represented themselves and the other Their representations differ markedly according to their own make up as human beings their class education experiences and gender Yet what brings them together is their love hate relationship with the ex colonizer In the case of the Palestinian writers however there is only bitterness and bewilderment at Israel as a colonizing power in the 21st century and its Jewish citizens who were once victims in Europe but now have turned into victimizers Arizona Journal of Hispanic Cultural Studies, 2003
