School Environment and Sustainable Development Goals Beyond 2030 Princewill I. Egwuasi Ph.D, Jake M. Laguardor Ph.D, Emad K. Hussein Ph.D, Ohene B. Apea Ph.D, Joan I. Egwuasi CNA, George N. Shava, 2020-06-07 This book on School Environment and the SDGs Beyond 2030 is a continuation of our maiden second and third publications on School Environment in Nigeria and the Philippines published in February 2015 School Environment in Nigeria Ghana and the Philippines published in March 2017 and School Environment in Africa and Asia Pacific published in July 2018 The

philosophy being that since there is a shift from globalization to internationalization and to cross border education there is the urgent need to revisit some topical issues in our school environment towards the realization of an internationalized qualitative and cross border teaching and learning using the Sustainable Development Goals as a yardstick Health Norms and the Governance of Global Development Anders Granmo, Pieter Fourie, 2021-02-22 This book maps the emergence of health in global development discourse and governance since 1990 It argues that health norms have emerged diffused and subsequently become internalised through the various direct and indirect negotiation processes that created the global development goals Covid 19 Ebola and HIV AIDS are prime illustrations of the fact that health is supremely political Governments whether they are local national international or multilateral make decisions about their policy responses coordinate their response and channel the necessary resources Such decisions are informed by local and global conditions as well as sets of values norms and standards that determine policy and interventions As states and regions become more interconnected the politics of health are increasingly relevant to the sustainable future envisioned by global governance This book explains how considerations of global health have come to inform and infuse the United Nations development agenda It identifies processes actors institutions and interactions in global health by analysing two related case studies the Millennium Development Goals and the Sustainable Development Goals Providing an overview of and insights about the context of global development thinking and practice the subtleties of global health and global health governance this book is an innovative contribution to the literature It is suitable for students and scholars of global health development studies and international relations Local Governance in the New Urban Agenda Carlos Nunes Silva, Anna Trono, 2020-10-19 The book explores and discusses some of the changes challenges and opportunities confronting local governance in the context of the new urban paradigm associated with the HABITAT III New Urban Agenda a 20 year strategy for sustainable urbanization adopted in October 2016 in Quito Ecuador The chapters included in the book address public policy issues from different theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches written by authors from different academic disciplines within the broad area of social sciences Geography Political Science Public Administration Spatial Planning Law Regional Science among other fields and offer an inter disciplinary vision of these issues The chapters are written by members of the International Geographical Union IGU Commission on Geography of Governance Post-2015 UN Development Stephen Browne, Thomas G Weiss, 2014-08-01 In 2000 at the United Nations Millennium Summit world leaders agreed to the Millennium Declaration The Declaration included development targets to be reached by 2015 which were to become known as the Millennium Development Goals MDGs Progress has been made towards the achievement of the MDGs but poverty remains widespread With the terminal year approaching the international community has begun the process of determining the goals which might follow the MDGs While the UN is driving the process there has been very little introspection on its own organizational capacity to help countries to meet the goals and is being increasingly sidelined by other more effective development organizations and initiatives Based on extensive original research that has critically examined the role and functions of the organizations of the UN development system this book seeks to capture in a single volume a comprehensive review of the UN's performance and prospects for development The contributors each offer extensive experience and familiarity as practitioners and researchers with the UN and development and the book will contribute to the urgently needed debate on the reform of the UN development system at a critical juncture The main rationale for this book and its timing is the unusual opportunity provided by the 2015 threshold to re think the UN development system and to empower it to support a new development agenda and will be of interest to students scholars of International Organizations and development studies

Africa in the Post-2015 Development Agenda Leo Charles Zulu, Cristina D'Alessandro, 2018-04-19 This book offers a multifaceted examination of Africa's development into the post 2015 global agenda from a geographical perspective As a diversified and highly applied discipline geography has a lot to offer to global debates nuanced analysis of problems on and the search for innovative solutions to advance the African development agenda beyond 2015 The end of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs era and the launch of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs in September 2015 mark an important turning point for Africa and an opportune time to examine new challenges and opportunities that it faces The regional disparities in MDG progress affirm an important geographic tenet that the unique yet internally differentiated socio cultural economic political ecological biophysical and historical context give Africa distinctive challenges and opportunities that demand particular approaches to development This edited book presents innovative contributions examining Africa's development performance in diverse sectors during the MDG era as a basis for understanding prospects for its development in the SDG era and beyond It offers new and innovative study perspectives and methodological approaches on urban transformation development financing food security climate change gender equality health and regional integration among other topics and useful insights for scholars students and development practitioners This book was originally published as a special issue of African Geographical Review the journal of the American Association of Geographers Africa Specialty Group to mark the transition from MDGs to SDGs

Japan's New Regional Reality Saori N. Katada, 2020-07-07 Since the mid 1990s Japan s regional economic strategy has transformed Once characterized by bilateralism informality and neomercantilism Japanese policy has shifted to a new liberal strategy emphasizing regional institution building and rule setting As two major global powers China and the United States wrestle over economic advantages Japan currently occupies a pivotal position capable of tipping the geoeconomic balance in the region Japan s New Regional Reality offers a comprehensive analysis of Japan's geoeconomic strategy that reveals the country's role in shaping regional economic order in the Asia Pacific. Saori N. Katada explains Japanese foreign economic policy in light of both international and domestic dynamics. She points out the hurdles to implementing a state-led liberal strategy, detailing how domestic political and institutional changes have been much slower and stickier than the changing regional economics. Katada highlights state-market relations and shows how big businesses have responded to the country's interventionist policies. The book covers a wide range of economic issues, including trade, investment, finance, currency, and foreign aid. Japan's New Regional Reality is a meticulously researched study of the dynamics that have contributed to economic and political realities in the Asia Pacific today, with significant implications for future regional trends.
