Swash,2019-12-20 After 30 years of bodyguard and concierge duties I have decided to release a series of books and tell my story A true story of life in the VIP Lane Rethinking Intercultural Education in Times of Migration and Displacement

Nektaria Palaiologou,2023-10-06 Which are the main issues which are at the forefront of the academic discourse within the field of intercultural education today That s the central question on which the current volume attempts to shed some light By presenting theoretical foundations research findings practical examples and case studies the book helps readers to go beyond stereotypes and prejudices strengthening the intercultural education principles in their practices The diverse perspectives contained in the book provided through contributions from authors from different countries encourage readers to critically reflect on the promotion and further development of intercultural and multicultural education and on the different approaches for effectively facing complex diversity issues in multicultural settings Technology and Society, second edition Deborah G. Johnson,Jameson M. Wetmore,2021-08-24 Writings by thinkers ranging from Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain to Bruno Latour that focus on the interconnections of technology society and values Technological change does not happen in a vacuum decisions about which technologies to develop fund market and use engage ideas about values as well as calculations of costs and benefits In order to influence the development of technology for the better we must first understand how technology and society are inextricably bound together These writings by thinkers ranging from Bruno Latour to Francis

Fukuyama help us do just that examining how people shape technology and how technology shapes people This second edition updates the original significantly offering twenty one new essays along with fifteen from the first edition The book first presents visions of the future that range from technological utopias to cautionary tales and then introduces several major STS theories It examines human and social values and how they are embedded in technological choices and explores the interesting and subtle complexities of the technology society relationship Remedying a gap in earlier theorizing in the field many of the texts illustrate how race and gender are intertwined with technology Finally the book offers a set of readings that focus on the sociotechnical challenges we face today treating topics that include cybersecurity geoengineering and the myth of neutral technology

Multimodal Studies Kay O'Halloran,Bradley Smith,2012-05-22 The phenomenon of multimodality has as Jewitt observes generated interest across many disciplines against the backdrop of considerable social change Contemporary societies are grappling with the social implications of the rapid increase in sophistication and range of multimodal practices particularly within interactive digital media so that the study of multimodality also becomes essential within an increasing range of practical domains As a result of this increasing interest in multimodality scholars teachers and practitioners are on the one hand uncovering many different issues arising from its study such as those of theory and methodology while also exploring multimodality within an increasing range of domains Such an increase and range of interest in multimodality heralds the emergence of a distinct multimodal studies field as both the mapping of a domain of enquiry and as the site of the development of theories descriptions and methodologies specific to and adapted for the study of multimodality The present volume presents a range of works by an impressive international roster of contributors who both explore issues arising from the study of multimodality and explore the scope of this emerging field within specific domains of multimodal phenomena Contributors aim to show that each individual work and works in general within multimodal studies represent a dialectic or complementarity between the exploration of issues of general significance to multimodal studies and the exploration of specific domains of multimodality while characterizing specific works as tending to some degree towards one or other of these main areas of focus Such a characterization is seen as part of a move towards the identification and thus development of a distinct field of multimodal studies
