Italy, Islam and the Islamic World Charles Burdett, 2016 How have events such as military intervention in Afghanistan and Iraq or the protests in Tahrir Square been represented by writers journalists and intellectuals in Italy This study examines the arguments used in defining Italy's relationship with Islam and with the Islamic world in the period from 9 11 to the Arab Spring

Italy and the Mediterranean N. Bouchard, V. Ferme, 2013-09-04 The Mediterranean has always loomed large in the history and culture of Italy and since the 1980s this relationship has been represented in ever more varied forms as both national and regional identities have evolved within a globalized context This interdisciplinary volume puts Italian artists writers musicians and filmmakers and intellectuals philosophers sociologists and political scientists in conversation with each other to explore Italy's Mediterranean identity while questioning the boundaries between Self and Other and between native and foreign bodies By moving beyond nation centric models of cultural and ethnic homogeneity based on myths of progress and rationality these wide ranging contributions fashion new ways of belonging that transcend the cultural economic religious and social categories that have characterized post Cold War Italy and Europe

The Labyrinth of Modernity Johann P. Arnason, 2020-06-08 Offering a vital reflection on the unity and diversity of the modern world this important new book connects with the current debate on multiple modernities and argues that this notion can only be properly understood in a civilizational context Johann Arnason presupposes the idea of modernity as a new civilization with its specific social imaginary centred on strong visions of human autonomy but open to differentiation on institutional and ideological levels as well as in changing historical contexts The book begins by connecting this perspective to a distinctive framework of social theory centred on the differentiation of economic political and cultural spheres Arnason goes on to deal with Communism as the most important alternative version of modernity and with East Asian developments as a particularly complex and instructive case of interacting modernities The book concludes with reflections on globalization theory and ways of reformulating it in light of the civilizational approach develops a new periodization for understanding contemporary international history. It challenges West-centric approaches by setting up timelines appropriate for a global approach to International Relations. Shifting the focus beyond great power wars, it incorporates economic, societal, and environmental changes to redefine what constitutes significant historical moments for both the Global North and South. It uncovers pivotal turning points in the 1840s, 1970s, and now that highlight the formation, dominance, unravelling, and replacement of the Western world order. It offers new foundations for understanding both how we arrived at where we stand today and what might lie ahead.

Islam as Education Aaron J. Ghiloni, 2019-08-01. Motivated by the intellectual historian Shahab Ahmed's observation that the history of Islamic paideia has yet to be written, Islam as Education explores multiple forms that the search for knowledge and the transmission of wisdom have taken in Islam, focusing on the classical period 800-1500 CE. Ghiloni draws on a wide range of Islamic primary source material ranging from sacred texts and parables to neglected pedagogical literature and paintings. He depicts three Islamic religious practices: pilgrimage, prophecy, and jihad as modes of pedagogy embodied ways of defining, defusing, and defending sacred knowledge. Islam as Education's educational heuristic not only aids in understanding Islam but also provides guidance for intercultural and interreligious relations. Ghiloni argues that Islam's grand knowledge tradition serves as a bridge between Muslims and non-Muslims and compares it with the educational theory of John Dewey, the celebrated American pragmatist. Based on this discussion, a final chapter develops practical tools for learning from cultural and religious difference.

Arab Modernism as World Cinema Peter Limbrick, 2020-03-10. Arab Modernism as World Cinema explores the radically beautiful films of Moroccan filmmaker Moumen Smihi, demonstrating the importance of Moroccan and Arab film cultures in histories of world cinema. Addressing the legacy of the Nahda or Arab Renaissance of the nineteenth and early twentieth century, when Arab writers and artists reenergized Arab culture by engaging with other languages and societies, Peter Limbrick argues that Smihi's films take up the spirit of the Nahda for a new age. Examining Smihi's oeuvre, which enacts an exchange of images and ideas between Arab and non-Arab cultures, Limbrick rethinks the relation of Arab cinema to modernism and further engages debates about the use of modernist forms by filmmakers in the Global South. This original study offers new routes for thinking about world cinema and modernism in the Middle East and North Africa and about Arab cinema in the world.

Turkey, Islam, Nationalism, and Modernity

Carter V. Findley, 2010-09-21 Book Description Publication Date August 30 2011 Turkey Islam Nationalism and Modernity reveals the historical dynamics propelling two centuries of Ottoman and Turkish history As mounting threats to imperial survival necessitated dynamic responses ethnolinguistic and religious identities inspired alternative strategies for engaging with modernity A radical secularizing current of change competed with a conservative Islamically committed current Crises sharpened the differentiation of the two streams forcing choices between them The radical current began with the formation of reformist governmental elites and expanded with the advent of print capitalism symbolized by the privately owned Ottoman language newspapers The radicals engineered the 1908 Young Turk revolution ruled empire and republic until 1950 made secularism a lasting belief system and still retain powerful positions The conservative current gained impetus from three history making Islamic renewal movements those of Mevlana Halid Said Nursi and Fethullah Gulen Powerful under the empire Islamic conservatives did not regain control of government until the 1980s By then they too had their own influential media Findley s reassessment of political economic social and cultural history reveals the dialectical interaction between radical and conservative currents of change which alternately clashed and converged to shape late Ottoman and republican Turkish history From Tribe to State - Volume 1 FIORANI PIACENTINI VALERIA, MAESTRI ELENA, 2014-05-12

Nazism, the Holocaust, and the Middle East Francis R. Nicosia, Boğaç A. Ergene, 2018-01-31 Given their geographical separation from Europe ethno religious and cultural diversity and subordinate status within the Nazi racial hierarchy Middle Eastern societies were both hospitable as well as hostile to National Socialist ideology during the 1930s and 1940s By focusing on Arab and Turkish reactions to German anti-Semitism and the persecution and mass murder of European Jews during this period this expansive collection surveys the institutional and popular reception of Nazism in the Middle East and North Africa It provides nuanced and scholarly yet accessible case studies of the ways in which nationalism Islam anti-Semitism and colonialism intertwined all while sensitive to the region s political cultural and religious complexities The Political Aesthetics of ISIS and Italian Futurism Thorsten Botz-Bornstein, 2018-12-17 Through empirical analysis and theoretical reflection this book shows that the aesthetics and politics of the Islamic State is futurist ISIS overcomes postmodern pessimism and joins the modern techno oriented and optimistic attitude propagated by Italian Futurism in the early twentieth century The Islamic State does not only excel through the extensive use of high tech weapons social media commercial bot and automated text systems By putting forward the presence of speeding cars and tanks mobile phones and computers ISIS presents jihad life as connected to modern urban culture Futurism praised violence as a means of leaving behind imitations of the past in order to project itself most efficiently into the future A profound sense of crisis produces in both Futurism and jihadism a nihilistic attitude toward the present state of society that will be overcome through an exaltation of technology Futurists were opposed to parliamentary democracy and sympathized with nationalism and colonialism ISIS jihadism suggests a similarly curious combination of modernism and conservative values The most obvious modern characteristic of this new image of fundamentalism is the highly aestheticized recruiting material Modernity and the Jews in Western Social Thought Chad Alen Goldberg,2017-05-22 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries prominent social thinkers in France Germany and the United States sought to understand the modern world taking shape around them Although they worked in different national traditions and emphasized different features of modern society they repeatedly invoked Jews as a touchstone for defining modernity and national identity in a context of rapid social change In Modernity and the Jews in Western Social Thought Chad Alan Goldberg brings us a major new study of Western social thought through the lens of Jews and Judaism In France where antisemites decried the French Revolution as the Jewish Revolution mile Durkheim challenged depictions of Jews as agents of revolutionary subversion or counterrevolutionary reaction When German thinkers such as Karl Marx Georg Simmel Werner Sombart and Max Weber debated the relationship of the Jews to modern industrial capitalism they reproduced in secularized form cultural assumptions derived from Christian theology In the United States William Thomas Robert Park and their students conceived the modern city and its new modes of social organization in part by reference to the Jewish immigrants concentrating there In all three countries social thinkers invoked real or purported differences between Jews and gentiles to elucidate key dualisms of modern social thought The Jews thus became an intermediary through which social thinkers discerned in a roundabout fashion the nature problems and trajectory of their own wider societies Goldberg rounds out his fascinating study by proposing a novel explanation for why Jews were such an important cultural reference point He suggests a rethinking of previous scholarship on Orientalism Occidentalism and European perceptions of America arguing that history extends into the present with the Jews and now the Jewish state continuing to serve as an intermediary for self reflection in the twenty first century Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd,2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day including individuals from related disciplines like J rgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate Additionally the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality In addition to the Western tradition it includes substantial assessments of African Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies Migrant Families and Religious Belonging Giovanni Giulio Valtolina,Laura Zanfrini,2023-06-15 Over the past three decades migration has become the main driver of population growth or of preventing its decrease in many EU countries The presence of so many families with a migrant background is however to some extent an unexpected phenomenon arising from the permanent settlement of migrant guest workers expected to be temporary residents and from other unplanned processes such as decolonization and the influx of asylum seekers Moreover family reunification is today one of the main legal channels by which migrants come to Europe so it is no coincidence that the main issues animating European public debate on inter ethnic coexistence involve family religion and the relationships between genders and generations Finally the migrant family has to some extent become a lens through which to analyze many key topics connected with the present and future of European societies This work Migrant Families and Religious Belonging is a collection of nine essays exploring the relationship between family religion and immigration These essays mainly focus on the integration process with particular attention to the experience of migrants offspring The book consists of an introductory chapter and four thematic sections and topics covered include gender equality forced marriages child fostering care and religious radicalization The relationship between family religion and immigration provides a fascinating perspective to explore and shed light on European society today The book will be of interest to a wide range of academics researchers and practitioners
