Human Rights and Schooling Audrey Osler,2016 Most of the struggles for equitable schooling including multicultural curricula and culturally responsive teaching have largely taken place on a local or national stage with little awareness of how international human rights standards might support these struggles Human Rights and Schooling explores the potential of human rights frameworks to support grassroots struggles for justice and examines the impact that human rights and child rights education can make in the lives of students including the most marginalized The author Audrey Osler examines the theory research and practice linking human rights to education in order to broaden the concept of citizenship and social studies education Bringing scholarship and practice together the text uses concrete examples to illustrate the links between principles and ideals and actual efforts to realize social justice in and through education Osler anchors her examination of human rights in the U N Convention on the Rights of the Child as well as the U N Declaration on Human Rights Education and Training Audrey Osler offers timely and relevant insights into education for human rights and social justice The book examines complex global realities and the power of narrative to create a grounded and critical cosmopolitanism Monisha Bajaj associate professor International and Multicultural Education University of San Francisco Educators specializing in social studies civic education multicultural comparative and or social justice education will find Audrey Osler s Human Rights and Schooling a fascinating read It is filled with practical strategies for teaching about in and for human rights In her wide ranging discussion of concepts such as cosmopolitan citizenship intersectionality and identity and narrative Osler draws on examples from across the globe to show how educators can foster solidarity with human rights struggles near and far as they empower youth to take action for social justice at home and abroad Carole L Hahn Charles Howard Candler Professor of Educational Studies Emory University

Social Inclusion and Higher Education Tehmina N Basit,Sally Tomlinson,2014-04-09 Available Open Access under CC BY NC licence This book is about the experiences of students in institutions of higher education from non traditional backgrounds The expansion of Higher Education world wide shows no signs of slowing down and there is already a large literature on who has access to higher education and to qualifications that offer higher life time incomes and status However to date there has been minimal focus on what happens to the students once they are in the institutions and the inequalities that they face This book aims to fill this gap in the literature The chapters demonstrate that the students and their families are finding ways of acquiring forms of capital that encourage and sustain their participation in higher education Contributions from the UK the USA and Australia reveal that the issues surrounding the inclusion of non traditional students are broadly similar in different countries It should be read by all those leading managing or teaching in institutions of higher education and all students or intending students whatever their background
