London Recruits The Secret War Against Apartheid:

London Recruits Ken Keable, 2012 ANC members found it very difficult to escape police surveillance after the Rivonia trial in 1963-64. But white people from outside South Africa, being unknown and unsuspected, could move about freely to do things for the ANC. London Recruits tells of the secret work they did, how they were recruited, their activities in South Africa and neighbouring countries, their motives, and how they feel about it in retrospect. The Politics of Media Scarcity Greg Elmer, Stephen J. Neville, 2024-01-31 This book questions the predominance of media abundance as a guiding concept for contemporary mediated politics. The authors argue that media abundance is not a universal condition and that certain individuals, communities, and even nations can more accurately be referred to as media scarce where access to media technologies and content is limited, highly controlled, or surveilled. Through case studies that focus on guerilla militants, incarcerated Indigenous people, and cold war era infrastructure including Soviet closed or secret cities and Canadian nuclear bunkers, the book's chapters interrogate how the once media scarce later speak to and can be heard by the predominant abundant media culture. Drawing from several art projects and diverse cultural sites, the book highlights how media scarce communities negotiate and otherwise narrate their place in the world, their past experiences and lives, and escape from subjugation. To better understand media scarce politics, the book asks how and when communities become by accident or force by choice or necessity media scarce. This innovative and insightful text will appeal to students and scholars around the world working in the areas of media and politics, art and politics, visual studies, surveillance studies, and communication studies.

A Global History of Anti-Apartheid Anna Konieczna, Rob Skinner, 2019-04-15 This book explores the global history of anti-apartheid and international solidarity with southern African freedom struggles from the 1960s. It examines the institutions, campaigns, and ideological frameworks that defined the globalization of anti-apartheid, the ways in which the concept of solidarity was mediated by individuals, organizations, and states, and considers the multiplicity of actors and interactions involved in generating and sustaining anti-apartheid around the world. It includes detailed accounts of key case studies from Europe, Asia, and Latin America which illustrate the complex relationships between local and global agendas as well as the diverse political cultures embodied in anti-apartheid. Taken together, these examples reveal the tensions and synergies, transnational webs, and local contingencies that helped to create the sense of being global that united worldwide anti-apartheid campaigns.

Ruth First and Joe Slovo in the War Against Apartheid Alan Wieder, 2013-07-01 Ruth First and Joe Slovo, husband and wife, were leaders of the war to end apartheid in South Africa. Communists, scholars, parents, and uncompromising militants, they were the perfect enemies for the white police state. Together, they were swept up in the growing resistance to apartheid and together they experienced repression and exile. Their contributions to the liberation struggle as individuals and as a couple are undeniable. Ruth agitated tirelessly for the overthrow of apartheid, first in South Africa and then from abroad, and Joe directed much of the armed struggle carried out by the famous Umkhonto we Sizwe.

Only one of them however would survive to see the fall of the old regime and the founding of a new democratic South Africa. This book, the first extended biography of Ruth First and Joe Slovo, is a remarkable account of one couple and the revolutionary moment in which they lived. Alan Wieder's deeply researched work draws on the usual primary and secondary sources but also an extensive oral history that he has collected over many years. By weaving the documentary record together with personal interviews, Wieder portrays the complexities and contradictions of this extraordinary couple and their efforts to navigate a time of great tension, upheaval, and revolutionary hope.

And Justice For All Stephen Ellmann, 2020-07-15

And Justice For All Arthur Chaskalson and the Struggle for Equality in South Africa is a biography of a remarkable life lived in service both to law and to the struggle for social change and justice. The social change it describes is the victory over apartheid, which was won on several fronts and through the efforts of people in many nations, but an important one of those fronts lay in the courts of South Africa itself. Arthur Chaskalson enters the historical record in 1963 when he and a team of talented lawyers represented Nelson Mandela in the historic Rivonia Trial. Chaskalson organized legal and non-profit organizations and served as the first president of South Africa's Constitutional Court, which would eventually lead to the deconstruction of apartheid legislation. In exploring his life and career, we appreciate more clearly the roles lawyers can play in social change and the achievement of a just social order, and at the same time we gain insight into the combination of upbringing, experience, and character that shapes a man first into a cause lawyer and then into a path-breaking and foundation-laying judge.

Being in Shadow and Light Dina Zoe Belluigi, 2025-01-06

Academia and its citizens during periods of political violence and social conflict are often overlooked. When attention is given, the focus tends to be on student activism, access to higher education, or curriculum development. The experiences of academics affected by conflict remain under-researched despite the crucial role they play as educators and in generating, documenting, preserving, and challenging knowledges. This is particularly concerning given that academics have and continue to be at risk as targets of sanction, persecution, and oppression. This edited volume seeks to address this gap by exploring and evoking the complexities of academic subjectivity, place, and practice in contexts where intellectual and state authority are contested or in transition. It features contributions by academics, artists, and memory activists who have stepped bravely outside of the parameters of their disciplines with modes of enquiry and representation that include conversations, vignettes, and case studies, critical ethnographies, oral life histories, interviews, poetry, and collage. Within the ten chapters are considerations of conflicts within Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, England, Mexico, Nigeria, Northern Ireland, Palestine, South Africa, Sri Lanka, Syria, and Venezuela. Being in Shadow and Light encourages a deeper understanding of academics' navigation of these difficult conditions. The authors' insider-outsider positioning brings forth the richness of ways through dilemmas of omission, trauma, displacement, inheritance, injustice, distortion, and desire. Grounding the many social, cultural, economic, and epistemic politics within academia troubles the enclosure of conflict in politics at the grand level as if only within the realm of interest for state and international actors Against sanitising the uncertainties and particularities of being an academic figure the authors reflect on the states and sites of conflict as spaces which shape living This work is a call to recognize document and study the often overlooked subjectivities and contributions of academics thinking and practicing within societies undergoing conflict s and in their aftermath As such it will be of interest to academics students and staff working within universities as well audiences interested in intellectuals and institutions in contexts undergoing change

The Oxford Handbook of Public History, 2017-09-20 The Oxford Handbook of Public History introduces the major debates within public history the methods and sources that comprise a public historian s tool kit and exemplary examples of practice It views public history as a dynamic process combining historical research and a wide range of work with and for the public informed by a conceptual context The editors acknowledge the imprecision bedeviling attempts to define public history and use this book as an opportunity to shape the field by taking a deliberately broad view They include professional historians who work outside the academy in a range of institutions and sites and those who are politically committed to communicating history to the wide range of audiences This volume provides the information and inspiration needed by a practitioner to succeed in the wide range of workplaces that characterizes public history today for university teachers of public history to assist their students and for working public historians to keep up to date with recent research This handbook locates public history as a professional practice within an intellectual framework that is increasingly transnational technological and democratic While the nation state remains the primary means of identification increased mobility and the digital revolution have occasioned a much broader outlook and awareness of the world beyond national borders It addresses squarely the tech savvy media literate citizens of the world the digital natives of the twenty first century in a way that recognizes the revolution in shared authority that has swept museum work oral history and much of public history practice This volume also provides both currently practicing historians and those entering the field a map for understanding the historical landscape of the future not just to the historiographical debates of the academy but also the boom in commemoration and history outside the academy evident in many countries since the 1990s which now constitutes the historical culture in each country Public historians need to understand both contexts and to negotiate their implications for questions of historical authority and the public historian s work The boom in popular history is characterized by a significant increase in both making and consuming history in a range of historical activities such as genealogy family history and popular collecting cultural tourism historic sites and memorial museums increased memorialization both formal and informal from roadside memorials to state funded shrines and memorial Internet sites increased publication of historical novels biographies and movies and TV series set in the past Much of this as well as a vast array of new community cultural projects has been facilitated by the digital technologies that have increased the accessibility of historical information the democratization of practice and the demand for sharing authority A

Far-Away War Ian Liebenberg, 2016-01-31 South Africa s armed forces invaded Angola in 1975 setting off a war that had consequences for the whole region that are still felt today A Far Away War contributes to a wider understanding of this war in Angola and Namibia The book does not only look at the war from an e olde South African Defence Force perspective but also gives a voice to participants e on the other sidee emphasising the role of the Cubans and Russians This focus is supplemented by the inclusion of many never before published photographs from Cuban and Russian archives and a comprehensive bibliography

The Politics of Biography in Africa Anaïs Angelo, 2021-08-31 Bringing together historians political scientists and literary analysts this volume shows how biographical narratives can shed light on alternative little known or under researched aspects of state power in African politics Part 1 shows how biographical narratives breathe new life into subjects who upon decolonization had been reduced to silence women workers and radical politicians The contributors analyze the complex relationship between biographical narratives and power questioning either the power of biographical codes peculiar to western colonial origins or the power to shape public memory Part 2 reflects on the act of auto biography writing as an exercise of power one that blurs the lines between truth and invention Auto biographical narratives appear as politicized ambiguous stories Part 3 focuses on female leadership during and after colonization exploring on how women gained lost or reinvented power Brought together the contributions of this volume show that the function of biographical narratives should no longer oscillate between romanticized narratives and historical evidence their varied formats all offer fruitful opportunities for a multidisciplinary dialogue This book will be of interest to scholars from various disciplinary backgrounds working on the African postcolonial state the decolonization process women s and gender studies and biography writing

Shadow of Liberation Vishnu Padayachee, Robert Van Niekerk, 2019-10-01 Shadow of Liberation explores the intricate twists turns contestations and compromises of ANC economic and social policymaking with a focus on the transition era of the 1990 s and the early years of democracy With the damning revelations by the Zondo Commission of Inquiry into State Capture on the massive corruption of the South African body politic the timing of this book could not be more relevant South Africans need to confront the economic and social policy choices that the liberation movement made and to see how these decisions may have facilitated the conditions for corruption to emerge and flourish Answers are needed Padayachee and van Niekerk focus their attention on the primary question of how and why the ANC given its historical anti inequality re distributive stance come in the 1990s to such a dramatic turn around and move towards an essentially market dominated approach Were they pushed or did they go willingly What role if any did Western governments and international financial institutions play And what of the role of the late apartheid state and South African business Did leaders and comrades sell out the ANC s emancipatory policy vision Shadow of Liberation tries to provide answers to these questions drawing on the best available primary archival evidence as well as extensive interviews with key protagonists across the political non government and business spectrum The authors argue that the ANC s emancipatory policy agenda was broadly to establish a social democratic welfare state upholding rights of social citizenship However its economic policy framework to realise this emancipatory mission was either non-existent or egregiously misguided The Lion Conspiracy Peter Hain, 2024-03-28 Having thwarted murderous poachers in The Elephant Conspiracy the Veteran Thandi and Mkhize are back fighting to save lion prides from being killed for their claws, teeth and bones. As demand for lion parts soars, impoverished local communities are being incentivised to poach and the fight against this illegal plunder becomes ever more vicious. Struggling to defeat the international criminal syndicate responsible for poaching, the team find themselves embroiled in mafia-style smuggling, illicit night flights, tense shoot-outs and an encounter with a protégé of Vladimir Putin. Another fantastic wildlife corruption thriller full of geo-political intrigue and suspense. Charlie Mayhew, Founder CEO of Tusk. Brilliant part crime thriller and part political manifesto. Book of the Week The Sun

Black Britain and Nelson Mandela Elizabeth Williams, 2024-11-14 In Black Britain and Nelson Mandela: Pulling the Branch of a Tree Elizabeth Williams leads a cast of renowned scholars to explore the impact of Nelson Mandela's legacy on Black intellectual thought on race and social justice in Britain. This engaging book presents an original collection of chapters authored by leading Black voices across the academy foregrounding the Black British perspective in historical discourse for the first time. This fresh take on Mandela the Man rather than the enduring myth around his branding explores the life of Nelson Mandela, his contribution to the peace in South Africa and the impact of British law on Mandela and his legal jurisprudence. Not only does this innovative collection highlight the lessons which can be learned from Mandela's life, it also connects with contemporary issues of race in Britain today, taking in the Rhodes Must Fall movement and Black Lives Matter movement. The result is a much-needed revival of existing literature and a collection which will be of interest to students and scholars of Black British History

Young lives on the Left Celia Hughes, 2015-05-01 This book examines the coming-of-age experiences of young men and women who became active in radical Left circles in 1960s England. Based on a rich collection of oral history interviews, the book follows in depth the stories of approximately twenty individuals to offer a unique perspective of what it meant to be young and on the Left in the post-war landscape. The book will be essential reading for researchers of twentieth-century British social, cultural and political history. However, it will be of interest to a general readership interested in the social protest movements of the long 1960s

Transnational solidarity Zeina Maasri, Cathy Bergin, Francesca Burke, 2022-07-26 Transnational solidarity excavates the forgotten histories of solidarity that were vital to radical political imaginaries during the long 1960s. It decentres the conventional Western focus of this critical historical moment by foregrounding transnational solidarity with and across anticolonial and anti-imperialist liberation struggles. The book traces the ways in which solidarity was conceived, imagined and enacted in the border crossings of nation, race and class made by grassroots activists. This diverse collection draws links between exiled revolutionaries in Uruguay, post-colonial immigrants in Britain and Greek communist refugees in East Germany who campaigned for their respective causes from afar while identifying and linking up with wider liberation struggles. Meanwhile Arab immigrants in France, Pakistani volunteers and Iraqi artists found myriad ways to express solidarity with the Palestinian cause Neglected archives also reveal Tricontinental Cuban based genealogies of artistic militancy as well as transnational activist networks against Portuguese colonial rule in Africa Bringing together original research with contributions from veteran activists and artists this interdisciplinary volume explores how transnational solidarity was expressed in and carried through the itineraries of migrants and revolutionaries film and print cultures art and sport political campaigns and armed struggle It presents a novel perspective on radical politics of the global sixties which remains crucial to understanding anti racist solidarity today With a foreword by Vijay Prashad

Shadow Lives Victoria Brittain,2013-02-06 Shadow Lives reveals the unseen side of the 9 11 wars their impact on the wives and families of men incarcerated in Guantanamo or in prison or under house arrest in Britain and the US Victoria Brittain shows how these families have been made socially invisible and a convenient scapegoat for the state in order to exercise arbitrary powers under the cover of the War on Terror A disturbing expose of the perilous state of freedom and democracy in our society the book reveals how a culture of intolerance and cruelty has left individuals at the mercy of the security services unverifiable accusations and punitive punishments Both a j accuse and a testament to the strength and humanity of the families Shadow Lives shows the methods of incarceration and social control being used by the British state and gives a voice to the families whose lives have been turned upside down In doing so it raises urgent questions about civil liberties which no one can afford to ignore

Understanding Non-State Actors Eran Zohar,2023-10-24 Understanding Non State Actors aims to reduce the scarcity of academic literature on armed non state actors NSAs that have always been a part of world politics and wars This monograph offers possibly for the first time a systematic historical review as well as a substantive theory of NSAs and their arming efforts The world has been astonished by the ability of the well armed Hamas to inflict heavy losses on the powerful Israel Thus from the Jewish rebellion against Rome to the war between the Ukrainian separatists and the Ukrainian government NSAs weapons acquisition has been vital for the build up of their force enabling both the employment of that force and its sustainability While weapons are not necessarily the most important factor in military build up NSAs need weapons to fight and revolts usually erupt after the organizers have acquired a certain number of weapons Conversely many revolts lose momentum and operations are not carried out or turn ineffective due to shortages of arms and ammunition A major theme of this monograph is that in spite of dramatic political and technological changes armed NSAs in different periods have employed similar methods to acquire weapons Self production looting and stealing external support and the arms trade were always the major ways for NSAs to acquire weapons though the importance of each method and the type of arms has changed remarkably over time Understanding Non State Actors discusses the factors political social cultural technological and organizational that have both facilitated and constrained the ability of NSAs to acquire arms Especially lecturers and students of Military Terrorism Conflict studies War and peace studies will benefit from this study

Living in History Luke Roberts,2024-05-31 Challenging received ideas about the British Poetry Revival Luke Roberts presents a new account of experimental poetry and literary activism Drawing on a wide range of contexts and traditions Living in History begins by examining the legacies of empire and exile in the work of Kamau Brathwaite J H Prynne and poets associated with the Communist Party and the African National Congress It then focuses on the work of Linton Kwesi Johnson Denise Riley Anna Mendelssohn and others in the development of liberation struggles around gender race and sexuality across the 1970s Tracking the ambivalence between poetic ambition and political commitment and how one sometimes interferes with the other Luke Roberts troubles the exclusions of British Poetry as a category and tests the claims made on behalf avant garde and experimental poetics against the historical record Bringing together both major and neglected authorships and offering extended close readings fresh archival research and new contextual evidence Living in History is an ambitious and exciting intervention in the field
