Smart! John Scotney,2016-05-19 The island of Ireland is famous for its timeless beauty the variety of its landscape its quiet towns and lively cities the poetic and literary genius of so many of its citizens its music and folklore and its colorful and bloody history What is also true is that the Irish people have in many ways changed in recent years while retaining the scars and proud memories of their past and their thriving national culture Twenty first century Ireland North and South is the product not only of its history and culture but also of massive political change remarkable efforts to heal centuries old animosities a metamorphosis in social and religious attitudes and the dramatic peaks and troughs of a transformed economy Until the late twentieth century Southern Ireland s economy was essentially rural tied to the UK the North a place of heavy industry Then came the so called Celtic Tiger springing forward into a largely new type of economy that reaped colossal rewards New industries arose old industries disappeared This was followed by financial collapse in the first decade of this century worse than almost any country in Europe Helped by its friends and at least in the South by governmental and popular acceptance of savage austerity measures Ireland survived Today the Republic is a major target for US and European investment Businesspeople and visitors who don t know Ireland will find this book an invaluable introduction to the people the country and the economic opportunities it offers while if you think you know Ireland and the Irish you will find plenty here to broaden and deepen that knowledge and also plenty that will surprise you Ireland - Culture Smart! Alexandra Furbee,2025-03-27 Most guidebooks on Ireland will tell you where to stay and what to see Culture Smart Ireland is written for people who want to know more and go deeper Here you will find the beliefs and attitudes of the Irish their rich musical and literary culture their ancient language and mythology the values they live by how they do business how they enjoy themselves and the ways they have been molded by their tumultuous history and indeed their geography This understanding will be appreciated by your hosts it will open doors to you even open the hearts of a generous talented people justifiably proud of their unique identity Irish and Scottish Encounters with Indigenous Peoples Graeme Morton,David A.

Wilson,2013-05-01 The expansion of the British Empire during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries created the greatest mass migration in human history in which the Irish and Scots played a central complex and controversial role. The essays in this volume explore the diverse encounters Irish and Scottish migrants had with Indigenous peoples in North America and Australasia. The Irish and Scots were among the most active and enthusiastic participants in what one contributor describes as the greatest single period of land theft, cultural pillage and casual genocide in world history. At the same time, some settlers attempted to understand Indigenous society rather than destroy it, while others incorporated a romanticized view of Natives into a radical critique of European society, and others still empathized with Natives as fellow victims of imperialism. These essays investigate the extent to which the condition of being Irish and Scottish affected settlers' attitudes to Indigenous peoples and examine the political, social, religious, cultural and economic dimensions of their interactions. Presenting a variety of viewpoints, the editors reach the provocative conclusion that the Scottish and Irish origins of settlers were less important in determining attitudes and behaviour than were the specific circumstances in which those settlers found themselves at different times and places in North America, Australia and New Zealand. Contributors include Donald Harman Akenson, Queen's John Eastlake, College Cork, Marjory Harper, Aberdeen, Andrew Hinson, Toronto, Michele Holmgren, Mount Royal, Kevin Hutchings, Northern British Columbia, Anne Lederman, Royal Conservatory of Music, Patricia A.
