Longman Academic Writing Series 4 SB with Online Resources Alice Oshima, Ann Hogue, Lara Ravitch, 2016-09-19

The Longman Academic Writing Series helps develop student writing from basic composition of sentences and paragraphs to academic essays and research papers. At each level, students are offered guidance in the complete writing process from prewriting to revision and are provided with clear explanations, extensive practice, and consistent coverage of sentence mechanics and grammar. Highlights: Step by step approach helps students produce a well organized, clearly developed portfolio that is the foundation of academic coursework. Realistic writing models guide writers while clear explanations supported by examples help students through typical rough spots. Extensive practice helps students assimilate writing skills to learn to write with accuracy and confidence. Timed writing activities provide a plan for writing paragraphs on tests. Interactive tasks such as pair and group work allow students to receive peer feedback on their individual writing. Level 5 offers more advanced guidance in the writing of essays and research papers. New Essential Online Resources include grammar for writing and sentence structure activities, teacher support material, teacher's manual, and assessments.

Longman Academic Writing Series, Level 4 Alice Oshima, Ann Hogue, Lara Ravitch, 2017 ENGLISH WRITING

DEVELOPMENT LIXIA WEI, 2018-02-13 English Writing Development 4MAT Learning Style and Thinking Visualization

Strategies is designed as an introductory course in English writing for students, teachers, and all those who consider writing is important and fun. It is based on the author's own experience of teaching English writing to undergraduates who major in English and training students to participate in provincial and national English writing contests. Instead of showing the skeleton of writing to readers directly, the author integrates the 4MAT Process Approach that she has developed on the basis of the 4MAT learning style and the Process Approach into the design of the book, aiming to increase learners' motivation by answering why they should learn, what they should learn, how they should apply what they have learnt, and what if the situation changes in each chapter. With corpora, news, and students' work as resources to collect sample sentences, paragraphs, and essays, the author elaborates eight main aspects which are writing process, writing a paragraph, writing an essay, methods of paragraph development, types of clause, types of sentence, rhetorical devices, paraphrase, and summary. English Writing Development 4MAT Learning Style and Thinking Visualization Strategies is not only the ideal English writing textbook for students at different levels but also functions equally well as a self-tutoring textbook. The simple, reader-friendly explanations coupled with interesting and meaningful examples, figures, tables, and the checklists are of great help for the learners to make progress on their own. Armed with the strategies elaborated in the book, learners most probably will find that WRITING IS FUN. Handbook of Research on Teacher Practices for Diverse Writing Instruction Hodges, Tracey S., 2022-05-20

The art and practice of writing is complex and multidimensional. Students often apply unique writing styles. As such, educators must apply focused teaching methods to nurture these unique forms of writing. Educators must stay up to date with the practices for diverse writing instruction in order to best engage with a diverse classroom. However, resources related to writing typically do not focus on the depth and breadth of writing, and there is a need for a resource that offers a comprehensive look at diverse writing instruction research. The Handbook of Research on Teacher Practices for Diverse Writing Instruction provides a rich discussion of the issues, perspectives, and methods for writing instruction currently in use, with an added lens focusing on diversity and equity. It provides unique coverage on the topic of writing instruction for practical implementation within the classroom setting. Covering topics such as student motivation, curriculum development, and content area instruction, this major reference work is an essential resource for preservice teachers, faculty, and administration of K-12 and higher education, academic libraries, government officials, school boards, researchers, and academicians.

Linguistic Tools for Written Communication Reshmi Dutta-Flanders, 2024-06-28. This book uses a linguistically and stylistically grounded analytical approach to written discourse to explain the patterns that appear when evaluating academic essays and to explore the potential of nativized linguistic tendencies as strategies in written communication. As linguistic behaviour, these strategies constitute a multinorm, and the author argues that comprehensive awareness of a written norm in a multilingual context is not about language rules for ironing out inequalities but rather about varieties of linguistic practices that construct alternative strategies and patterns in written discourse. The book combines topics such as study skills, English as a Second Language, and English for Academic Purposes but grounds them within a World Englishes and syntactic paradigm, exploring why students write in a certain way due to their linguistic instincts as well as helping students to see practical examples of what this means from the immediate perspective of sentence construction. It will be of interest to scholars of Education, Language, and Linguistics, Study Skills, EAP, and World Englishes, as well as students across disciplines who are encountering the academic essay as a form for the first time.

Learned Writing Chinua Asuzu, 2019-05-22. As lawyers, we must not in hot pursuit of common law outrun common sense. The dread of that eventuality prompted this book. Learned Writing promotes common sense in legal language: plain language, which is commonsensical, broadens access to legal documents, thus democratizing the law. If democracy is government of the people, by the people, and for the people, law is the language in which government interacts with the people; it is the language of democracy. The people whose government speaks through law must understand what is said. No democratic society should brook legalese, a dense, verbose dialect known only to lawyers. What then should society do to redress the lawyer-induced obscurity? A Shakespearean character had an alarming proposal: "The first thing we do, let's kill all the lawyers." Apparently, that proposal was not enthusiastically endorsed, which explains why we're still here. A milder remedy: enrolling lawyers in language classes has been muted, which explains why this book is in your hands. Learned Writing motivates lawyers to prefer plain language to the legalese and verbosity that have besmirched legal writing for centuries. This book is as sweeping a treatment of its subject as you can find anywhere.

Teaching Academic Writing as a Discipline-Specific Skill in Higher Education Ezza, El-Sadig

Y.,Drid, Touria,2019-12-27 It is now held that writing influences and is influenced by the discipline where it occurs The representations that writers employ to produce and comprehend texts are said to be sensitive to the specificities of their disciplinary discourse communities This exposes writers to divergent disciplinary demands and expectations on what counts as good and appropriate writing in terms of generic structure discourse features and stylistic preferences reflecting dissimilar practices Because of such exigencies academic writing seems at times to be very challenging especially for novice scholars Thus any attempt to perceive the function of academic writing in higher education or to evaluate its quality should not discard the shaping force of the disciplines Teaching Academic Writing as a Discipline Specific Skill in Higher Education is a critical scholarly resource that examines the role of writing within academic circles and the disciplinary practices of writing in scholastic environments The book will also explore the particular difficulties that confront writers in the disciplines as well as the endeavors of educational institutions to develop discipline specific writing traditions among practicing and novice scholars Featuring a range of topics such as blended learning data interpretation and knowledge construction this book is essential for instructors academicians administrators professors researchers and students A Multidisciplinary

Exploration into Flow in Writing Deborah F. Rossen-Knill,Katherine L. Schaefer,Matthew W. Bayne,Whitney Gegg-Harrison,Dev Crasta,Alessandra DiMauro,2024-04-05 Offering a multidisciplinary exploration of flow and the often nebulous ways it is conceptualized and operationalized in writing pedagogy this book addresses a critical gap in writing studies Bringing together practice based and scholarly perceptions it outlines the key features and definitions of flow and identifies pedagogical approaches and opportunities for classroom instruction Incorporating perspectives from disciplines including classical rhetoric composition studies cognitive science and linguistics this book provides a diverse overview of the literature on flow in writing pedagogy It includes two instructional voice based and rhetorical grammar based activities that outline how to recognize and improve flow in writing In doing so the book also provides clear examples of how to create an inclusive writing pedagogy that incorporates sensory and analytical perspectives to help readers and writers experience flow and meet their writing goals As an exploration of flow instruction as it currently stands and might stand in the future this book will be of interest to students and instructors in the field of academic professional and creative writing studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Teaching Academic Writing in European Higher Education

Academic writing in Portugal: I - discourses in conflict Karen Bennett, 2011-06-01 In the increasingly globalised world of academic production Portuguese researchers are under intense pressure to publish in English generating a huge demand for translation revision and specialised language services However there are considerable rhetorical and epistemological differences between the hegemonic discourse of

Anglophone academia and the traditional Portuguese writing style of the humanities which can cause serious problems not only for translators but also for Portuguese academics that wish to write their papers directly in English This work explores those differences across a range of academic disciplines and genres by means of three complementary studies a Corpus Analysis of over 400 Portuguese academic texts a survey of Portuguese researchers in the humanities and social sciences and a review of Portuguese academic style manuals The results are of great practical interest to all those attempting to teach write or translate English academic discourse in the Portuguese context as well as to anyone concerned with the controversial issue of linguistic imperialism
