Look Away The Us South In New World Studies New Americanists:

Look Away! Jon Smith, Deborah Cohn, 2004-07-21 Examines what happens to our paradigms of the American south if we understand the south hemispherically to include Latin America and the Caribbean Asian Americans in Dixie Khyati Y. Joshi, Jigna Desai, 2013-10-01 Extending the understanding of race and ethnicity in the South beyond the prism of black white relations this interdisciplinary collection explores the growth impact and significance of rapidly growing Asian American populations in the American South Avoiding the usual focus on the East and West Coasts several essays attend to the nuanced ways in which Asian Americans negotiate the dominant black and white racial binary while others provoke readers to reconsider the supposed cultural isolation of the region reintroducing the South within a historical web of global networks across the Caribbean Pacific and Atlantic Contributors are Vivek Bald Leslie Bow Amy Brandzel Daniel Bronstein Jigna Desai Jennifer Ho Khyati Y Joshi ChangHwan Kim Marguerite Nguyen Purvi Shah Arthur Sakamoto Jasmine Tang Isao Takei and Roy Vu A Continuous State of War Maria Angela Diaz, 2024-04-15 From 1845 to 1865 the Gulf of Mexico was at the center of American expansion and southern imperialism A Continuous State of War tells the story of several communities such as Galveston New Orleans and Pensacola as well as countries such as Mexico and Cuba to uncover the way that wars within the upper rim of the Gulf of Mexico facilitated American and southern attempts to conquer Latin American nations In the push for westward expansion that preceded the Civil War white southerners along with other Americans engaged in violent conquest in Latin America and the American West Through the wars that are chronicled here white southern concepts of race became more rigidly fixed Maria Angela Diaz covers several conflicts leading up to the Civil War with Mexicans Cubans and Native Americans She places the Civil War within this framework and follows the trajectory of relations with Latin America through the end of the Civil War and ex Confederates attempts to emigrate abroad Gulf Coast communities facilitated both the physical efforts to seize territory and the construction of the highly racialized imperialist ideas that reimagined Latin America as a region that could secure the South s future Yet the pursuit of that territory created a fluctuating and uncertain situation that shaped the choices of the diverse peoples who lived along the upper rim of the Gulf of Mexico in ways they did not expect Teaching and Studying the Americas A. Pinn, C. Levander, 2010-11-08 This book considers how interdisciplinary conversation critique and collaboration enrich and transform humanities and social science education for those teaching and studying traditional Americanist fields New World Poetics George B. Handley, 2010 A simultaneously ecocritical and comparative study New World Poetics plumbs the earthly depth and social breadth of the poetry of Walt Whitman Pablo Neruda and Derek Walcott three of the Americas most ambitious and epic minded poets In Whitman s call for a poetry of New World possibility Neruda s invocation of an American love and Walcott s investment in the poetic ironies of an American epic the adamic imagination of their poetry does not reinvent the mythical Garden that stands before history s beginnings but instead taps the foundational powers of language before a natural world deeply imbued with the traces of human time Theirs is a postlapsarian Adam seeking a renewed sense of place in a biocentric and cross cultural New World through language and nature s capacity for regeneration in the wake of human violence and suffering The book introduces the environmental history of the Americas and its relationship to the foundation of American and Latin American studies explores its relevance to each poet s ambition to recuperate the New World s lost histories and provides a transnational poetics of understanding literary influence and textual simultaneity in the Americas The study provides much needed in depth ecocritical readings of the major poems of the three poets insisting on the need for thoughtful regard for the challenge to human imagination and culture posed by nature s regenerative powers nuanced appreciation for the difficulty of balancing the demands of social justice within the context of deep time and the symptomatic dangers as well as healing potential of human self consciousness in light of global environmental degradation

The Center of the World June Howard, 2018 This book studies literary regionalism and it shows that one of the ways we imagine the world is through writing and reading about particular places It explores how writers are shaped by particular places and how their stories shape our understanding of localities and the globe

 Levander, Robert S. Levine, 2007-10-04 This landmark collection brings together a range of exciting new comparative work in the burgeoning field of hemispheric studies Scholars working in the fields of Latin American studies Asian American studies American studies American literature African Diaspora studies and comparative literature address the urgent question of how scholars might reframe disciplinary boundaries within the broad area of what is generally called American studies The essays take as their starting points such questions as What happens to American literary political historical and cultural studies if we recognize the interdependency of nation state developments throughout all the Americas What happens if we recognize the nation as historically evolving and contingent rather than already formed Finally what happens if the fixed borders of a nation are recognized not only as historically produced political constructs but also as component parts of a deeper more multilayered series of national and indigenous histories With essays that examine stamps cartoons novels film art music travel documents and governmental publications Hemispheric American Studies seeks to excavate the complex cultural history of texts and discourses across the ever changing and stratified geopolitical and cultural fields that collectively comprise the American hemisphere This collection promises to chart new directions in American literary and cultural studies America's Imagined Revolution Tomos Wallbank-Hughes, 2024-04-24 America's Imagined Revolution explores the Reconstruction period after the Civil War to ask narratological historiographical and theoretical questions about how slave emancipation has and has not been theorized as revolution Reading historical fiction by authors such as George Washington Cable Albion Tourg e Charles Chesnutt Frances Harper and W E B Du Bois in dialogue with nineteenth century historical writing and the era's legal political and print culture Tomos Wallbank Hughes excavates an evanescent form of historicist writing sensitive to the revolutionary changes that shaped life in the emancipation era South As an aesthetic form the historical novel of Reconstruction poses questions about revolutionary experience in plantation societies and in the process challenges critical assumptions about historical time in the nineteenth century How do authors narrate epochal change that also feels like retrenchment In what direction does history travel if it does not progress What narratives of race class and region encompass both continued domination and ruptured power By plumbing the situations that give it form the historical novel of Reconstruction provides a window into the literary culture of the South's long nineteenth century in which rather than a storehouse of tradition the region became a terrain for interpreting social revolution and uncovering slavery's revolutionary afterlives America's Imagined Revolution offers a new interpretation of the literary and historiographical significance of the Reconstruction period and its relationship to American literary history The Book Review Digest

Congress,2003 The Plantation in the Postslavery Imagination Elizabeth Christine Russ,2009-11-05 In a provocative new approach toward understanding transnational literary cultures this study examines the specter of the plantation that physical place most vividly associated with slavery in the Americas For Elizabeth Russ the plantation is not merely a literal location but also a vexing rhetorical ideological and psychological trope through which intersecting histories of the New World are told Through a series of precise in depth readings Russ analyzes the discourse of the plantation through a number of suggestive pairings male and female perspectives U S and Spanish American traditions and continental alongside island societies To chart comparative elements in the development of the postslavery imagination in the Northern and Southern hemispheres Russ distinguishes between a modern and a postmodern imaginary The former privileges a familiar plot of modernity the traumatic transition from a local largely agrarian order to an increasingly anonymous industrialized society The latter abandoning nostalgia toward the past suggests a new history using the strategies of performance such as witnessing reticency and traversal Authors examined include The Twelve Southerners Fernando Ortiz Teresa de la Parra Eudora Welty Antonio Ben tez Rojo Gayl Jones Toni Morrison and Mayra Santos Febres among others Applying sharp analyses across a broad range of texts Russ reveals how the language used to imagine communities influenced by the plantation has been gendered racialized and eroticized in ways that oppose the domination of an ever shifting North while often reproducing the fundamental power divide Her work moves beyond the North South dichotomy that has often stymied scholarly work in Latin American studies and importantly provides a model for future hemispheric approaches The Journal of Southern History Wendell Holmes Stephenson,2006 Includes section Book reviews Theoretical Cross-pollination in Latin America ,2009 Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature Modern Humanities Research Association,2005 Includes both books and articles Program Organization of American Historians. Meeting,2005 Finding Purple America Jon Smith,2013-05-01 The new southern studies has had an uneasy relationship with both American studies and the old southern studies In Finding Purple America Jon Smith one of the founders of the new movement locates the source of that unease in the fundamentally antimodern fantasies of both older fields The old southern studies tends to view modernity as a threat to a mystic southern essence a dangerous outside force taking the form of everything from a bulldozer revolution to a national project of forgetting Since the rise of the New Americanists American studies has also imagined itself to be in a permanent crisis mode seeking to affiliate the field and the national essence with youth countercultures that sixties leftists once imagined to be the future Such fantasies Smith argues have resulted in an old southern studies that cannot understand places like Birmingham or Atlanta or cities at all and an American studies that cannot understand red states Most Americans live in neither a comforting premodern Mayberry nor an exciting postmodern Los Angeles but rather in what postcolonialists call alternative modernities and hybrid cultures whose relationships to past and future to stability and change are complex and ambivalent Looking at how the South has played in global metropolitan pop culture since the nineties and at how southern popular and high culture alike have in fact repeatedly embraced urban modernity Smith masterfully weaves together postcolonial theory cultural studies Lacanian psychoanalysis and surprisingly marketing theory to open up the inconveniently in between purple spaces and places that Americanist and southernist fantasies about who we are have so long sought to foreclose
