Major Taylor The Fastest Bicycle Rider In The World:

The Fastest Bicycle Rider in the World Major Taylor, 1928 American bicycle racer Marshall Walter Major Taylor 1878 1932 was the world's first black sports superstar. He was world cycling champion in 1899, American sprint champion in 1900, and set numerous track cycling records. Nicknamed Major in his youth in Indianapolis and later known as the Worcester Whirlwind after his adopted hometown in Massachusetts, he was the second African American world champion in any sport after Canadian-born bantamweight boxer George Dixon of Boston won his title in 1891. In the Jim Crow era of strict racial segregation, Taylor had to fight prejudice just to get on the starting line. He faced closed doors and open hostility with remarkable dignity. In his retirement, he wrote his autobiography The Fastest Bicycle Rider in the World. The Fastest Bicycle Rider in the World Major Taylor, 2023-01-10 Born in 1878, bicycle racer Marshall Major Taylor became the first Black sports star to become a global celebrity when he won the world cycling championship in 1899. Throughout his bike racing career, he won awards and set records on and off the track. But in his native United States, he faced racist discrimination and violence at every turn, causing him to spend most of his time in Europe where fans saw his value. After he retired from racing, Taylor wrote and published his autobiography and traveled the world promoting it. Written in the 1920s, his story feels fresh, contemporary, and readable. His life was too short, but his legacy lives on in the many organizations and clubs that bear his name and the generations of new cyclists who look up to him. His intelligence, good humor, and global perspective shine through on every page in this candid account of a remarkable life. This new edition features an introduction by bicycle advocate Adonia Lugo, author of Bicycle Race, as well as a foreword by Ayesha McGowan, the first Black US woman to be a member of a professional road cycling team.

The Fastest Bicycle Rider in the World Marshall W. Taylor, 2023-03-07 The true story of Marshall Major Taylor, who overcame racial prejudice to become one of the most dominant cyclists in history. Part of the Belt's Revival series and with an introduction by Zito Madu, The Fastest Bicycle Rider in the World, which Taylor self-published in 1928, gives a riveting first-person account of his rise to the highest echelons of professional cycling. Born in Indianapolis, he eventually became the first African American cycling world champion, going on to set seven world records in the sport. Readers will learn about Taylor's exploits as an athlete, including his early taste of success in a grueling six-day race, his unparalleled dominance as a sprinter, and some of his most bitter defeats. But the man who achieved international fame as the Black Cyclone also details the extreme prejudice he faced both on and off the track. It's a story about one of the greatest athletes in American history but also a moving testament to Taylor's resilience and determination in the face of overt racism and seemingly impossible odds. As he tells us himself, "I am writing my memoirs in the spirit calculated to solicit simple justice, equal rights, and a square deal for the posterity of my down-trodden but brave people, not only in athletic games and sports but in every honorable game of human endeavor." Boston's Black Athletes Robert Cvornyek, Douglas Stark, 2024-07-08 Sport often mirrored the racial climate of the time but it also informed and encouraged equality on and off the field In Boston the Black athletic body historically represented a challenge to the city's liberal image Boston's Black Athletes Identity Performance and Activism interprets Boston's contested racial history through the diverse experiences of the city's African American sports figures who directed their talent toward the struggle for social justice Editors Robert Cvornyek and Douglas Stark and the contributors explore a variety of representative athletes such as Kittie Knox Louise Stokes and Medina Dixon that negotiated Boston's racial boundaries at sequential moments during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries to demonstrate Boston's long and troubled racial history. The contributors' biographical sketches are grounded in stories that have remained memorable within Boston's Black neighborhoods. In recounting the struggles and triumphs of these individuals, this book amplifies their stories and reminds readers that Boston's Black sports fans found a historic consistency in their athletes to shape racial identity and cultural expression.
