Craftsman of the Cumberlands Michael Owen Jones,2021-10-21 Why do people consider aesthetic qualities as well as utilitarian ones in the making of everyday objects Why do they maintain traditions What is the nature of their creative process These are some of the larger questions addressed by Michael Owen Jones in his book on craftsmen in the Cumberland Mountains of eastern Kentucky Concentrating on the work of one man woodworker and chairmaker Chester Cornett Jones not only describes the tools and techniques employed by Cornett but also his aspirations and values Cornett possessed a deep knowledge of his materials and a mastery of construction methods Some of his chairs represent not objects of utility but aesthetic developments of the chair form Cornett sought to cope with the problems of his life Jones maintains their massiveness provided a sense of security the virtuosity of their design and construction a feeling of self esteem Jones also compares other area craftsmen and their views about their work Green Woodworking Pattern Book Ray Tabor,2022-10-13 A guide to green woodworking with detailed patterns to create beautiful projects Discover hundreds of projects for working with unseasoned wood in this essential book Ray Tabor an unparalleled expert in green woodworking guides you through this old traditional craft Whether you are new to the craft and are looking for a simple project like a spoon or a bowl or want something challenging you will find it here The 300 patterns for the home and garden range from wattle gates to lemon juicers from chairs benches and stools to baskets whistles and door wedges Green woodworking involves the use of freshly felled timber unseasoned wood and embraces a number of traditional woodland crafts including turning and carving All patterns come with detailed dimensions in both metric and imperial Each item has annotated black and white patterns a brief description historical information and details of the materials that should be used Includes the simplest of woodland designs to more advanced with something to suit every skill level Both a historical record and a sourcebook for those looking to use their green woodworking skills to make traditional items of beauty this is the perfect book for anyone interested in whittling woodland crafts and woodworking Appalachian White Oak Basketmaking Rachel Nash Law, Cynthia Wieboldt Taylor, 1991 In an era when baskets served as basic containers for gathering transporting and storing goods many settlers in the Central and Southern Appalachian mountain region found white oak the best material for basketmaking This book surveys the varied forms and techniques that evolved as basketmakers selected prepared and wove this wood The authors display special appreciation of white oak basketry as an important dimension of regional material culture Drawing on extensive fieldwork including interviews with traditional basketmakers in the Central Appalachian region Rachel Law and Cynthia Taylor establish a framework for classifying comparing and identifying Appalachian basketry forms In demonstrating how details of basket construction technique and style can be linked to specific makers regions and ethnic traditions the authors have created a resource essential for cultural historians collectors and craftspeople The three major types of white oak baskets rib rod and split are carefully delineated in this study Oak rodwork which previously has received little attention is extensively treated here as a specifically American adaptation of European willow basketmaking For all three major types this volume details construction techniques for numerous variants using copious illustrations and clear explanatory text Global Objects Edward S. Cooke, Jr., 2022-10-04 A bold reorientation of art history that bridges the divide between fine art and material culture through an examination of objects and their uses Art history is often viewed through cultural or national lenses that define some works as fine art while relegating others to the category of craft Global Objects points the way to an interconnected history of art examining a broad array of functional aesthetic objects that transcend geographic and temporal boundaries and challenging preconceived ideas about what is and is not art Avoiding traditional binaries such as East versus West and fine art versus decorative art Edward Cooke looks at the production consumption and circulation of objects made from clay fiber wood and nonferrous base metals Carefully considering the materials and process of making and connecting process to product and people he demonstrates how objects act on those who look at use and acquire them He reveals how objects retain aspects of their local fabrication while absorbing additional meanings in subtle and unexpected ways as they move through space and time In emphasizing multiple centers of art production amid constantly changing contexts Cooke moves beyond regional histories driven by geography nation state time period or medium Beautifully illustrated Global Objects traces the social lives of objects from creation to purchase and from use to experienced meaning charting exciting new directions in art history Windsor-chair Making in America Nancy
