Make More Love Erotic Fulfillment:

Make More Love Blondie, 2014-10-02 Want to make more love Delve into the book of Song of Songs for a guide to sexual fulfillment with your spouse Did you know that passionate kissing explicit sex oral sex masturbation bedroom talk and dressing erotically are all encouraged in the Bible This easy to read sexual devotional is a guide through the Biblical book of Song of Songs on how you can find erotic fulfillment with your spouse Learn new insights into an oft neglected book and its explicit content on the joys of marriage At the end of each chapter the reader is challenged to Make More Love through sexual relationship building exercises Written by Blondie one of the founders of the Marriage Sex blog Marriage Heat this book will both enrich and empower you to connect spiritually emotionally and sexually with your spouse so you can make love more Marriage Heat Publishing Making Marriage Successful Henry E. White, 1983 A Time for Caring George R.

Bach, Laura Torbet, 1982-12 Politics and Sex Edna Keeble, 2016-05-02 Starting with the feminist insight that the personal is political this engaging text underscores the centrality of gender and sexuality to the discipline of political science and encourages inquiry into the gendered dynamics at work in contemporary politics Politics and Sex problematizes the public private distinction arguing that the way power is exercised over female sexuality and reproduction results in the restriction of women's public roles allowing gender inequality to persist in many areas With topics as diverse as body politics the veiling of women female genital mutilation rape and sexual violence pornography and prostitution and trafficking the text explores significant cases in the contemporary context and ultimately repositions the private as a site of power Edna Keeble takes a much needed feminist liberal perspective through which readers can engage with questions of gender culture public policy and human rights Each chapter is rich with pedagogical features including lists of recommended films video clips websites and additional readings Interdisciplinary in nature this text is a welcome resource for students and scholars interested in exploring topics in gender and sexuality not commonly covered in political science courses Love's Litany Kevin Kopelson, 1994 This is an extensive analysis of the relation of erotic philosophy to homosexuality in the modern period The book focuses on homoerotic misappropriations and subversions of homoerotic conceptions of romantic love in texts by eight authors Oscar Wilde Andre Gide Ronald Firbank Virginia Woolf Gertrude Stein Marguerite Yourcenar Mary Renault and Roland Barthes In doing so the author both positions these authors as experimental and influential erotic theorists and protests against the critical undervaluation of love as opposed to desire in the construction of sexuality as we know it

Kosher Lust Shmuley Boteach, 2024-01-23 As many as one in three long term marriages in America are sexless and most people accept this as the inevitable course of a romantic relationship In this groundbreaking book Rabbi Shmuley Boteach explains why the prioritizing of love and companionship in marriage is all wrong and why we should not go quietly into that dark night of celibate marriage It is not love Rabbi Shmuley shows but lust that is the glue of a marriage In this book you will learn how to restore lust to its rightful place as the central pillar of marriage You will learn about the three principles of lust and how to tap into them to keep the flames burning in the family hearth Finally you will discover the incredible emotional and spiritual potential of the intimate marital bond In a wide ranging discussion that plumbs the depths of the erotic mind Rabbi Shmuley delivers a revolutionary message with the power to completely transform your most important relationship

The Complete Guide to Sexual Fulfillment Nitya Lacroix,1999 How to provide and achieve complete satisfaction Enjoying exploring and refreshing a loving sexual relationship Creating the right environment identifying needs sharing fantasies Making Love Paul Kelleher,2015-07-16 In Making Love Sentiment and Sexuality in Eighteenth Century British Literature Paul Kelleher revises the history of sexuality from the vantage point of the literary history of sentimentalism Kelleher demonstrates how eighteenth century British philosophers essayists and novelists fundamentally reconceived the relations among sentiment sexuality and moral virtue It is his contention that sentimental discourse both philosophical and literary posited heterosexual desire as the precondition of moral feeling and conduct The author further suggests that sentimental writers fashioned the ideal of conjugal love as an ideological antidote to the theories of self love and self interest found in the works of Thomas Hobbes and Bernard Mandeville Heterosexual desire and its culmination in conjugal love in other words were represented as the privileged means for an individual to transcend self love and to develop a moral sensibility attuned to the thoughts and feelings of others At the same time Kelleher suggests other pleasures and desires particularly those rooted in same sex eroticism were increasingly depicted as antithetical to conjugal love and thus were morally devalued and socially disenfranchised Kelleher s argument unfolds through close readings of a variety of texts including Shaftesbury s Characteristics of Men Manners Opinions Times Joseph Addison and Richard Steele s the Tatler and the Spectator Eliza Haywood s Love in Excess Samuel Richardson s Pamela and Henry Fielding s Tom Jones Although these texts embody diverse rhetorical strategies and thematic concerns he shows how they collectively reinforce an overarching sentimental ideology on the one hand heterosexual desire and conjugal love become synonymous with sympathy benevolence and moral goodness while on the other hand same sex desire is pathologized as a selfish withdrawal from procreation domesticity sociability and ultimately humanity itself Love-centered Marriage in a Self-centered World Irving Sarnoff,Suzanne Sarnoff,1989 Considers how mates jointly create a setting for sharing love and defending against the fear of loving The authors have integrated theory and practice in their description of six desirable objectives couples can plan to attain over a lifetime "Ethel's Love-Life" and Other Writings Margaret J. M. Sweat,2020-12-25 In a series of lengthy letters the unsettled and unruly Ethel Sutherland writes to an initially unnamed and ungendered correspondent and patiently discloses the troubled history of her past romantic attachments to both men and women Not until the third letter does she reveal that her correspondent is Ernest the man to whom she is engaged to be married Wanting to make him understand how all of her past loves are included and sublimated in her love for him she especially wants to explain how women often love each other with as much fervor and excitement as they do men and although this love is curiously freed from all the grosser elements of passion as it exists between sexes nevertheless it retains its energy its abandonment its flush its eagerness its palpitation and its rapture Margaret Jane Mussey Sweat 1823 1908 a native of Portland Maine and wife of a United States congressman published Ethel's Love Life in 1859 The book is sometimes credited as an early even the first lesbian American novel but such a label Christopher Looby observes in his Introduction somewhat misrepresents what is distinctive and surprising about the book Ethel's Love Life confounds our received binary distinctions between the spiritual and the carnal and indeed between the sexual and the nonsexual the boundaries between such categories being not nearly as well policed at the time as they later became It is here reprinted along with Sweat's Verses 1890 and five of her published essays on Charlotte Brontë George Sand the contemporary novel and the friendships of women

Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch Julia Theresa Meszaros, 2016 In an age of self affirmation and self assertion selfless love can appear as a threat to the lover's personal well being This perception jars with the Biblical promise that we gain our life through losing it and therefore calls for a theological response In conversation with the Protestant theologian Paul Tillich and the atheistic moral philosopher and novelist Iris Murdoch Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch enquires into the anthropological grounds on which selfless love can be said to build up rather than undermine the lover's self It proposes that while the implausibility of selfless love was furthered by the modern deconstruction of the self both Tillich and Murdoch utilize this very deconstruction towards explicating and restoring the link between selfless love and human flourishing Julia T Meszaros shows that they use the modern diagnosis of the human being's lack of a stable and independent self as manifest in Sartre's existentialism in support of an understanding of the self as relational and fallen This leads them to view a loving orientation away from self and a surrender to the other as critical to the full flourishing of human selfhood In arguing that Tillich and Murdoch defend the link between selfless love and human flourishing through reference to the human being's ontological selflessness Meszaros closely engages Søren Kierkegaard's earlier attempt to keep selfless love and human flourishing in a productive dialectical tension She also examines the breakdown of this tension in the later figures of Anders Nygren Simone Weil and Jean Paul Sartre and addresses the pitfalls of this breakdown Her examination concludes by arguing that the link between selfless love and human flourishing would be strengthened by a more resolute endorsement of a personal God and of the reciprocal nature of selfless love

Homintern Gregory Woods, 2017-11-21 A landmark account of gay and lesbian creative networks and the seismic changes they brought to twentieth century culture In a hugely ambitious study which crosses continents languages and almost a century Gregory Woods identifies the ways in which homosexuality has helped shape Western culture Extending from the trials of Oscar Wilde to the gay liberation era this book examines a period in which increased visibility made acceptance of homosexuality one of the measures of modernity Woods shines a revealing light on the diverse informal networks of gay people in the arts and other creative fields Uneasily called the Homintern an echo of Lenin's Comintern by those suspicious of an international homosexual conspiracy such networks connected gay writers actors artists musicians dancers filmmakers politicians and spies While providing some defense against dominant heterosexual exclusion the grouping brought solidarity celebrated talent and in doing so invigorated the majority culture Woods introduces an enormous cast of gifted and extraordinary characters most of them operating with surprising openness but also explores such issues as artistic influence the coping strategies of minorities the hypocrisies of conservatism and the effects of positive and negative discrimination Traveling from Harlem in the 1910s to 1920s Paris 1930s Berlin 1950s New York and beyond this sharply observed warm spirited book presents a surpassing portrait of twentieth century gay culture and the men and women who both redefined themselves and changed history
