Of States and Cities Peter Marcuse, Ronald van Kempen, 2002 The nature and effects of globalization are coming under critical scrutiny across all continents This book focuses on one aspect the globalization of cities It examines the claim that the state is powerless to influence events and that history geography and culture have become irrelevant in the worldwide trend towards a uniform urban model a model which features increased segregation decline of the central city and social polarization The international team of contributors is well placed to put these claims in perspective Drawing on their experiences of cities as diverse as New York and Warsaw Istanbul and Sao Paulo they demonstrate that states and cities have adopted widely varying approaches to the advent of globalization and that its impact has been constrained by each city's history physical layout location environment role in the international economy and demographic composition The diversity of urban development and political response revealed is enormous and provides ample practical examples of what might be done to bring about improvements for the increasing number of people who live in cities Growth diagrams / deel 1997 / druk 1 / ING Anke Maria Fredriks,2004

Language Contact and Language Conflict in Arabic Aleya

Rouchdy,2013-05-13 This book contains 17 studies by leading international scholars working on a wide range of topics in Arabic socio linguistics divided into four parts The studies in Part 1 address questions of national language planning in a diglossic situation with a particular focus on North Africa Part 2 explores the relationship of identity and language choice in different Arabic speaking communities living both within and outside the Arab World Part 3 examines language choice in such diverse contexts as popular preaching humour and Arab women's writing Part 4 contains 5 papers in which variation code switching and generational language shift in the Arabic language diaspora in Europe and the USA are the focus The collection as a whole provides wide ranging introduction to key areas of current research which will be of interest to the general sociolinguist as well as the Arabic language specialist

The Netherlands Frank J. Lechner,2012-08-21 The Netherlands is the first concise authored introduction available on the topic The Netherlands has been a key entrepot in the world capitalist system for centuries but because of relatively recent demographic changes it has become symbolic of the clash of European and Islamic cultures Perhaps the most secular nation in the world it now houses a very large Islamic population That population is the fruit of globalization and how the Dutch have responded to this broad cultural shift tells us a great deal about the changing nature of national identity in the age of globalization In particular Frank Lechner explains how globalization calls forth very particularistic and localist responses Along with providing a broad overview of the contemporary Netherlands Lechner will focus on how globalization is generating new discourses cultures and state policies Among other topics the book will feature chapters on soccer culture religion and the lack thereof the media the welfare state multiculturalism and the Netherlands place in the larger European Union
