Martin Eden \(1909\) by Jack London . NOVEL Jack London, 2018-10-21 Martin Eden is a 1909 novel by American author Jack London about a young proletarian autodidact struggling to become a writer. It was first serialized in The Pacific Monthly magazine from September 1908 to September 1909 and published in book form by Macmillan in September 1909. Eden represents writers' frustration with publishers by speculating that when he mails off a manuscript, a cunning arrangement of cogs immediately puts it in a new envelope and returns it automatically with a rejection slip. The central theme of Eden's developing artistic sensibilities places the novel in the tradition of the Künstlerroman, in which is narrated the formation and development of an artist. Eden differs from London in that Eden rejects socialism, attacking it as slave morality, and relies on a Nietzschean individualism. In a note to Upton Sinclair, London wrote: "One of my motifs in this book was an attack on individualism in the person of the hero. I must have bungled for not a single reviewer has discovered it." Plot: Living in Oakland at the beginning of the 20th century, Martin Eden struggles to rise above his destitute proletarian circumstances through an intense and passionate pursuit of self education hoping to achieve a place among the literary elite His principal motivation is his love for Ruth Morse Because Eden is a rough uneducated sailor from a working class background 4 and the Morses are a bourgeois family a union between them would be impossible unless and until he reached their level of wealth and refinement Over a period of two years Eden promises Ruth that success will come but just before it does Ruth loses her patience and rejects him in a letter saying if only you had settled down and attempted to make something of yourself By the time Eden attains the favour of the publishers and the bourgeoisie who had shunned him he has already developed a grudge against them and become jaded by toil and unrequited love Instead of enjoying his success he retreats into a quiet indifference interrupted only to rail mentally against the genteelness of bourgeois society or to donate his new wealth to working class friends and family He felt that people did not value him for himself or for his work but only for his fame Martin Eden Jack
