

The book cover features a dramatic, low-angle photograph of a London Underground tunnel. The perspective is from the tracks, looking down a long, arched corridor. The walls are made of brick and have a grid of small, dark rectangular openings. The floor is dark and reflective, showing the tracks and the overhead lighting. The lighting is dim, with a bright light source at the far end of the tunnel, creating a strong sense of depth and atmosphere. The overall color palette is dark, with shades of grey, black, and brown, accented by the red of the title and the white of the author's name.
