London Sketchbook Jim Watson, 2011-03 A celebration of one of the world's great cities London Sketchbook is packed with over 200 evocative watercolour illustrations of the author's favourite landmarks and sights The illustrations are accompanied by historical footnotes maps walks quirky facts and a gazetteer

A Weapon in the Struggle Andy Croft, 1998-09-20 Andy Croft's amalgam of essays on some of the dimensions of culture pursued and generated by British communists during five decades of this century from the twenties through to the sixties makes compulsive reading a lively and provocative collection

Tribune For over seventy years the Communist Party of Great Britain had an extraordinary impact on British cultural life exercising an influence quite out of proportion to its size or political importance Many art forms were revitalised others profoundly changed new ones established or shaped by groups and individuals associated with the party who brought to the realm of cultural production whether in music film theatre or literature a dynamism and vision that helped to lay the foundations for a new radical culture a progressive avant garde in which the struggle was always to produce a culture for and of the people in the front line of the battle of ideas The distinguished contributors to this volume the first serious study of the subject draw on new research to recover the fascinating histories of the artists poets musicians film makers and cultural visionaries of the period placing them in a broader historical context and providing an invaluable introduction to British social and cultural history in the twentieth century

Encyclopedia of Ephemera Maurice Rickards, 2018-10-24 The joy of finding an old box in the attic filled with postcards invitations theater programs laundry lists and pay stubs is discovering the stories hidden within them The paper trails of our lives or ephemera may hold sentimental value reminding us of great grandparents They chronicle social history They can be valuable as collectibles or antiques But the greatest pleasure is that these ordinary documents can reconstruct with uncanny immediacy the drama of day to day life The Encyclopedia of Ephemera is the first work of its kind providing an unparalleled sourcebook with over 400 entries that cover all aspects of everyday documents and artifacts from bookmarks to birth certificates to lighthouse dues papers Continuing a tradition that started in the Victorian era when disposable paper items such as trade cards die cuts and greeting cards were accumulated to paste into scrap books expert Maurice Rickards has compiled an enormous range of paper collectibles from the obscure to the commonplace His artifacts come from around the world and include such throw away items as cigarette packs and crate labels as well as the ubiquitous faxes parking tickets and phone cards of daily life As this major new reference shows simple slips of paper can speak volumes about status taste customs and taboos revealing the very roots of popular culture      Walks Around Adelaide Shirley Mulcahy,1990 A collection of historical walks through the terraces squares and parks of Adelaide that were designed by William Light South Australia s first surveyor general The author is a retired teacher whose ancestors arrived in Adelaide in the 1840s      National Union Catalog ,1979 Includes entries for maps and atlases      American Book Publishing Record ,1978      Making the Metropolis Stephen Halliday,2003 A unique look at the transformation of Victorian London into the world s first metropolis through the lives of eight men who stamped their mark on the capital Halliday is the author of the best selling The Great Stink of London over 30 000 copies sold Author PR features in the Evening Standard Metro BBC History Magazine and the national press banner posters available In 1801 the population of London was almost one million A century later on the death of Queen Victoria it had passed six million and the city had been transformed Stephen Halliday s beautifully illustrated new book shows how the ramshackle collection of communities that entered the nineteenth century became the world s first metropolis This amazing story is told through the lives of eight men who created the Victorian capital John Nash defined the modern West End with his New Street Regent Street between the farm at Regent s Park and the swamp at St James s Marc Brunel invented the tunnelling shield that made the underground railways possible Thomas Cubitt built houses for aristocrats in Belgravia and homes for the middle classes at Pimlico and Bloomsbury Sir Charles Barry built the New Palace of Westminster to replace the charred ruins of the old one Sir Joseph Paxton designed the Crystal Palace for the Great Exhibition of 1851 the profits of which enabled Alfred Waterhouse to build the Natural History Museum and thus begin the South Kensington museums Sir Joseph Bazalgette built the sewers streets and parks that made the metropolis a safe place to live and Sir Edward Watkin chairman of the Metropolitan Railway began the process that created the suburbs of Metroland and elsewhere Stephen Halliday s portraits of these remarkable men give a fascinating insight into the diversity of their careers and achievements They created the imperial capital from which Victoria ruled over the greatest empire the world had ever seen      Railfan & Railroad ,1994      Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1970 A cumulative list of works represented by Library of Congress printed cards      America, History and Life ,1979 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide      Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1976      Paperbound Books in Print ,1992      Bibliographic Guide to Art and Architecture New York Public Library.
