Magic In The Ancient World Revealing Antiquity No 1:

Conceptions of "Gospel" and Legitimacy in Early Christianity James A. Kelhoffer, 2014-05-14 Whether he is asking about the role of New Testament exegesis among other academic disciplines the suppression of anger in Pauline writings or at what point came to designate a written Gospel James A Kelhoffer's patient and careful exegesis provides an intriguing lens through which to view early Christianity Many struggles of early Christ believers he finds reflect intra ecclesial struggles to establish the legitimacy of a view or a religious leader vis a vis competing ideologies or leaders Those already familiar with Kelhoffer's Miracle and Mission 2000 The Diet of John the Baptist 2005 and Persecution Persuasion and Power 2010 will find in this volume refreshing insights suggested but not developed in his other books Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic David Frankfurter, 2019-03-19 In the midst of academic debates about the utility of the term magic and the cultural meaning of ancient words like mageia or khesheph this Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic seeks to advance the discussion by separating out three topics essential to the very idea of magic The three major sections of this volume address 1 indigenous terminologies for ambiguous or illicit ritual in antiquity 2 the ancient texts manuals and artifacts commonly designated magical or used to represent ancient magic and 3 a series of contexts from the written word to materiality itself to which the term magic might usefully pertain The individual essays in this volume cover most of Mediterranean and Near Eastern antiquity with essays by both established and emergent scholars of ancient religions In a burgeoning field of magic studies trying both to preserve and to justify critically the category itself this volume brings new clarity and provocative insights This will be an indispensable resource to all interested in magic in the Bible and the Ancient Near East ancient Greece and Rome Early Christianity and Judaism Egypt through the Christian period and also comparative and critical theory Contributors are Magali Bailliot Gideon Bohak Veronique Dasen Albert de Jong Jacco Dieleman Esther Eidinow David Frankfurter Fritz Graf Yuval Harari Naomi Janowitz Sarah Iles Johnston Roy D Kotansky Arpad M Nagy Daniel Schwemer Joseph E Sanzo Jacques van der Vliet Andrew Wilburn A Kind of Magic Michael Labahn, L. J. Lietaert Peerbolte, 2007-01-01 This collection explores the importance of magic within Early Christianity Aseneth's Transformation Kirsten Marie Hartvigsen, 2018-12-17 The story of Joseph and Aseneth is a fascinating expansion of the narrative in Genesis of Joseph in Egypt and in particular of his marriage to the daughter of an Egyptian priest This study examines the portrayal of Aseneth's transformation in the text focusing on three perspectives How did Aseneth's encounter with Joseph and her subsequent transformation affect various aspects of her identity in the narrative In what ways do the portrayals of Aseneth her transformation and her abode relate to select metaphors and other symbolic features depicted in the Septuagint the Hebrew Bible and the Pseudepigrapha And how do the ritualized components through which Aseneth's transformation occurred function in the narrative and why are they perceived as effective In order to shed light on these facets of Joseph and Aseneth the author draws on the contemporary approaches of intersectionality conceptual blending intertextual blending and the cognitive theory of rituals using these theoretical frameworks to explore and illuminate the complexity of Aseneth's transformation

Trafficking with Demons Martha Rampton, 2022-01-15 Trafficking with Demons explores how magic was perceived, practiced, and prohibited in western Europe during the first millennium CE. Through the overlapping frameworks of religion, ritual, and gender, Martha Rampton connects early Christian reckonings with pagan magic to later doctrines and dogmas. Challenging established views on the role of women in ritual magic during this period, Rampton provides a new narrative of the ways in which magic was embedded within the foundational assumptions of western European society, informing how people understood the cosmos, divinity, and their own Christian faith. As Rampton shows throughout the first Christian millennium, magic was thought to play a natural role within the functioning of the universe and existed within a rational cosmos hierarchically arranged according to a great chain of being. Trafficking with the demons of the lower air was the essence of magic. Interactions with those demons occurred both in highly formalistic ritual settings and on a routine and casual basis. Rampton tracks the competition between pagan magic and Christian belief from the first century CE, when it was fiercest, through the early Middle Ages, as atavistic forms of magic mutated and found sanctuary in the daily habits of the converted peoples, and new paganisms entered Europe with their own forms of magic. By the year 1000, she concludes, many forms of magic had been tamed and were by the reckoning of the elite essentially ineffective, as were the women who practiced it and the rituals that attended it.

Death by Envy, Paul, Founder of Churches James Constantine Hanges, 2012. Expanded from the author's dissertation, University of Chicago, 1999.

Theology as History, History as Theology Scott Shauf, 2012-02-13. This monograph explores the theology of the Acts of the Apostles while taking seriously the status of the writing as ancient historiography. What does it mean to speak of theology in a historiographical work? How can this theology be apprehended? What does this theology have to do with the overall character of the writing and with how the writing functioned for its original audience? Acts 19 is both case study and source to generate the answers.

Materia Magica Andrew Wilburn, 2012. Approaches ancient magical practice through archaeology and social history.

Insights on Acts Charles R. Swindoll, 2016-07-01. Insights on Acts explores the expansion of the early church throughout the Roman world in the continuing 15-volume Swindoll's Living Insights New Testament Commentary series. This never-before-released volume draws on Gold Medallion Award winner Chuck Swindoll's 50 years of experience with studying and preaching God's Word. His deep insight, signature easygoing style, and humor bring a warmth and practical accessibility not often found in commentaries. Each volume combines verse-by-verse commentary, charts, maps, photos, key terms, and background articles with practical application. The newly updated volumes now include parallel presentations of the NLT and NASB before each section. This series is a must-have for pastors, teachers, and anyone else who is seeking a deeply practical resource for exploring God's Word.

Magic in the Biblical World Todd Klutz, 2004-03-01. The category magic long used to signify an allegedly substantive type of activity distinguishable from religion has nearly been dismantled by recent historical and social scientific approaches to religious studies While recognising and at times reinforcing this stance the essays in this collection show that there is still much to be learned about the cultural context of early Judaism and Christianity by analysing ancient texts which either use magic as a category for purposes of deviance labelling or promote behaviour of a broadly magico religious variety Through sustained engagement with texts ranging from Exod 7 9 and Acts 8 to the Testament of Solomon and the Late Antique alchemical treatise known as the Cyranides this volume focuses chiefly on materials that challenge the familiar boundaries between miracle and magic and medicine yet it also heightens awareness of the way unsuspecting use of a sick sign e g magic can impede critical understanding of texts and their respective contexts of production and reception
