OECD Public Governance Reviews Estonia: Towards a Single Government Approach OECD, 2011-08-04 This review looks at how building on its significant accomplishments to date the Estonian public administration can work together as a single government to improve and sustain service delivery to citizens and to meet new challenges on the horizon

Discursive Governance in Politics, Policy, and the Public Sphere Umut Korkut, Gregg Bucken-Knapp, Robert Henry Cox, Kesi Mahendran, 2016-04-29 This book studies the dynamics of political discourse in governance processes It demonstrates the process in which political discourses become normative mechanisms first marking socially constructed realities in politics second playing a role in delineating the subsequent policy frames and third influencing the public sphere

Rethinking Professional Governance Kuhlmann, Ellen, Saks, Mike, 2008-04-09 In bringing together research from a wide range of continental European countries as well as the United Kingdom Canada and Australia the contributors to this text highlight different areas of governance as well as the various players involved in the policy process

The Governance Report 2014 The Hertie School of Governance, 2014-03-13 Democratic governance faces unprecedented challenges across the OECD world and beyond Enormous strains will be placed on states resources and their governing capacities to deal with the combined effects of the financial crisis climate change and demographic change The basic foundations of established statehood will be tested At the same time the architecture of the state has fundamentally changed over the past three decades The Governance Report 2014 questions whether governments still have the capacities to respond The Report develops a framework to explore the administrative capacities of the public sector in OECD countries analyses how these capacities have been used to develop innovative policy approaches to key governance challenges and explores governance innovations to enhance governance capacities In addition the Report presents a dashboard of indicators that assess administrative capacities from multiple perspectives The Governance Report 2014 advances the debate on the problem solving capacity of the modern state in the light of ongoing and future challenges

Regulating Family Responsibilities Jo Bridgeman, 2016-04-08 This collection brings together some of the most eminent and exciting authors researching family responsibilities to examine understandings of the day to day responsibilities which people undertake within families and the role of the law in the construction of those understandings The authors explore a range of questions fundamental to our understanding of responsibility in family life To whom and to what ends are family members responsible Is responsibility primarily a matter of care Can we fulfil our family responsibilities by paying those to whom we owe responsibility Or by paying others to fulfil our caring obligations for us In each of these circumstances the chapters in this collection explore what it means to have family responsibilities what constitutes an adequate performance of such responsibilities and the point at which the state intervenes At the heart of this collection is an interest in the way in which the changing family affects people's perception and exercise their family responsibilities and how the law attempts to regulate and understand those responsibilities The essays range across intact and separated or fragmented families from lone and shared parenting in single homes to caring across households and even across international boundaries to reflect on the actual caring responsibilities of family members and on the fulfilment of financial responsibilities in families This collection seeks to advance our understanding of the attempts of the law and its limits in regulating the responsibilities which family members take for each other

Rescaling Social Policies towards Multilevel Governance in Europe Yuri Kazepov, 2017-10-24 The workings of multi level governance institutional choices concerning centralisation decentralisation and subsidiarity are widely debated within European public policy but few systematic studies assessing the effects of changing divisions of power for policy making have been carried out This volume offers an assessment of the workings of multi level governance in terms of social welfare policy across different clusters of European states Nordic Southern European Central and East European This book reports on a major comparative study at the European Centre for Social Welfare policy and Research which included partners from universities in Finland France Italy Norway Sweden Poland Spain and Switzerland It reports on three particular policy areas social assistance and local policies against poverty activation and labour market policies and care for the elderly The authors describe different starting points strategies and solutions in European countries which are facing similar challenges and could thus learn from each other They explore the differences between European welfare regimes in terms of territorial responsibilities the changes that have taken place over the past few years and their effects The book is distinctive in highlighting comparative transversal and transnational issues of

Enabling Inter-Municipal Shared Service Provision in Lithuania Proposed Legal and Institutional Framework and Piloting Approach in Tauragė+ Functional Zone OECD, 2024-09-19 Lithuania is experiencing rapid demographic change with the population ageing and significantly shrinking in recent decades This trend has put pressure on the provision of public services especially at the municipal level and is expected to continue in the coming years Ongoing efforts are made by Lithuania to improve the delivery of municipal services with the aim to mitigate territorial disparities and foster social inclusion In this perspective shared public service provision is viewed as a way to enhance the accessibility affordability and quality of essential public services This report provides recommendations and an action plan to address challenges inherent to the legal fiscal and institutional frameworks for shared municipal service provision in Lithuania while taking stock of these different challenges The report also provides two roadmaps for piloting primary healthcare and long term care services in Tauragė functional zone Jurbarkas Pagigiai Tauragė municipalities through shared municipal service provision The report draws lessons from peer country experiences and in particular Finland where inter municipal cooperation has been used successfully for decades

Rethinking Governance Mark Bevir, R. A. W. Rhodes, 2016-03-31 This volume explores new directions of governance and public policy arising both from interpretive political science and those who engage with interpretive ideas It conceives governance as the various policies and outcomes emerging from the increasing salience of neoclassical and institutional economics or neoliberalism and new institutionalisms In doing so it suggests that that the British state consists of a vast array of meaningful actions that may coalesce into contingent shifting and contestable practices Based on original fieldwork it examines the myriad ways in which local actors civil servants mid level public managers and street level bureaucrats have interpreted elite policy narratives and thus forged practices of governance on the ground This book will be of key interest to scholars students and practitioners of governance and public policy

Developing Governance and Governing Development Diane Smith,Alice Wighton,Stephen Cornell,Adam Vai Delaney,2021-08-18 Globally far too many discussions about Indigenous governance and development are dominated by accounts of disadvantage deficit and failure This book paints a different international picture testifying to Indigenous peoples as agents of governance innovation and successful developers in their own right telling stories in their words from their own experiences and countries From Indigenous voices we hear alternative concepts and measures of effectiveness legitimacy success and sustainability Indigenous stories and voices are captured as case study chapters written in lively clear language about what is happening that is promising and productive in Indigenous self determined governance for self determined development in Canada Australia Aotearoa New Zealand and the USA all English colonial settler countries

Restructuring Welfare Governance Tanja Klenk,Emmanuele Pavolini,2015-10-30 This volume brings together cutting edge scholarship on an under researched and topical issue Quasi marketization and managerialization of welfare organizations are found to constitute common reform trends in many European countries and across social policy domains following similar timings albeit with different intensities The analysis carried out at the meso and micro levels reveals that ex post control by states has been strengthened managers are becoming relevant or even central actors while professionals in public welfare institutions are seeing their role and autonomy challenged Ana M Guill n University of Oviedo Spain In the contemporary welfare state public management has become a profession of its own At the same time professionals in public welfare bureaucracies have incorporated market considerations and managerial objectives in their daily work This current evolution of welfare governance path dependent as it is has been documented thoroughly in this book both in depth and from a comparative perspective It makes the book a must read for all who are interested in the welfare state and care about its future Peter Hupe Erasmus University Rotterdam the Netherlands This edited collection on welfare governance across Europe will prove itself invaluable for research and teaching purposes It usefully brings together the whole range of social sciences in a series of well organized evidenced and argued chapters The book is organized into two parts the first focusing on the impact of marketization and managerialization across Europe and across sectors within the welfare state while the second half focuses on the professions and the emerging human resource management issues Both are crucial aspects of the new governance and together deliver a coherent and comprehensive set of papers addressing a highly pertinent set of questions for policymakers analysts and managers for the next decade and will become recommended reading for the students the welfare state social and health policy as well as public sector management and administration Mike Dent

Staffordshire University UK Quasi markets and managerial steering techniques have spread in the provision of welfare state services and are now a salient feature This innovative book explores the introduction and impact of marketization and managerialism in social policy by adopting a dual perspective one on regulation and governance the other on human resources covering five fields of social service delivery Welfare governance for example welfare mix regulation employment conditions and customer involvement has changed significantly in the past decade In particular the new governance models not only clash with traditional ideas of bureaucratic regulation but also with the norms and standards of professional service delivery The fact that the labor force in welfare organizations is made up of professionals implies that the introduction of new modes of welfare governance often results in organizational conflicts The editors and contributors collectively assesses these processes not only by comparing different policy fields and countries but also by taking a close look inside organizations examining the coping strategies of professionals and how they adapt to new models of governing welfare organizations An ideal compliment to undergraduate and postgraduate study Restructuring Welfare Governance is essential reading for scholars in the fields of social policy public administration and comparative welfare state analysis Contributors K Baadsgaard V Burau F A Ceravolo B Jantz H J rgensen T Klenk E Kuhlmann R Moscati M Noordegraaf I N rup E Pavolini T Peetz M Rostan U Schimank A Stanchi C Teelken H Theobald M Thunnissen M Turri

Local Governance Innovation in China Jessica C. Teets, William Hurst, 2014-10-30 Despite a centralized formal structure Chinese politics and policy making have long been marked by substantial degrees of regional and local variation and experimentation These trends have if anything intensified as China's reform matures Though often remarked upon the politics of policy formation diffusion and implementation at the subnational level have not previously been comprehensively described let alone satisfactorily explained Based on extensive fieldwork this book explores how policies diffuse across China today the mechanisms through which local governments actually arrive at specific solutions and the implications for China's political development and stability in the years ahead The chapters examine how local level institutions solve governance challenges such as rural development enterprise reform and social service provision Focusing on diverse policy areas that include land use state owned enterprise reform and house churches the contributors all address the same overarching question how do local policymakers innovate in each issue area to address a governance challenges and how if at all do these innovations diffuse into national politics As a study of local governance in China today this book will appeal to both students and scholars of Chinese politics comparative politics governance and development studies and also to policy makers interested in authoritarianism and governance
