Artful History Aaron Sachs, John Demos, 2020-02-18 A collection of memorable stirring and eloquent historical essays designed to help any historian write more artfully Is there any reason that serious historical scholarship cannot receive literary expression Isn't it possible that the most committed empiricists and postmodernists might both achieve better results by thinking of writing as a craft rather than just a means of packaging research This book compiles some of the most compelling efforts to make history writing eloquent stirring and memorable in the realms of both practice and theory The authors included here prove the great potential of approaching the writing of history as a literary art even as they retain a commitment to rigorous scholarship The collection shows how historians can aspire to find a form that matches and enhances their substance nudging readers toward what historian John Clive called the spell that lingers in the memory and is conducive not just to reading but to rereading With selections from Jonathan Spence Simon Schama Saidiya Hartman Wendy Warren Jill Lepore Louis Masur Jane Kamensky and John Demos among others Public Library Collections in the Balance Jennifer Downey, 2017-07-25 A fascinating and informative read for librarians library staff and MLIS students this book offers practical information and professional guidelines to examine current issues in censorship and libraries while also enabling readers to consider their own opinions about intellectual freedom This book addresses contemporary issues in censorship and intellectual freedom and can serve as an invaluable resource for librarians and other library staff and as an eye opening read for MLIS students It covers the waterfront of intricate and thorny issues regarding intellectual freedom including determining strategies for patron privacy deciding how to filter public computers handling challenges to items in a collection and recognizing and eliminating under the radar self censorship during collection development and weeding Readers will also gain an understanding of the perils of over reliance on community assessments and other evaluative tools and consider important concerns of public library employees such as whether to restrict borrowing privileges of R rated movies and M rated video games to patrons of various ages and the legalities that surround these questions Each chapter blends instructive background narrative with practical advice research findings and relevant information about librarianship s professional guidelines including the ALA s Library Bill of Rights and the Freedom to Read Statement Vignettes what would you do examples effective nonconfrontational techniques for conflict resolution and lists of tips and traps help readers to think critically about their own biases and rehearse possible responses to controversial situations Librarians library staff and MLIS students can use this book for personal professional development as supplemental reading for MLIS courses or professional training workshops or as a resource for library policy planning discussions

The Mansion of Happiness Jill Lepore, 2013-03-26 Renowned Harvard scholar and New Yorker staff writer Jill Lepore has written a strikingly original ingeniously conceived and beautifully crafted history of American ideas about life and death from before the cradle to beyond the grave How does life begin What does it mean What happens when we die All anyone can do is ask Lepore writes That s why any history of ideas about life and death has to be like this book a history of curiosity Lepore starts that history with the story of a seventeenth century Englishman who had the idea that all life begins with an egg and ends it with an American who in the 1970s began freezing the dead In between life got longer the stages of life multiplied and matters of life and death moved from the library to the laboratory from the humanities to the sciences Lately debates about life and death have determined the course of American politics Each of these debates has a history Investigating the surprising origins of the stuff of everyday life from board games to breast pumps Lepore argues that the age of discovery Darwin and the Space Age turned ideas about life on earth topsy turvy New worlds were found she writes and old paradises were lost As much a meditation on the present as an excavation of the past The Mansion of Happiness is delightful learned and altogether beguiling
