Gone with the Wind Mr.Sebastian Acevedo Mejia,2016-10-14 This paper studies the economic costs of hurricanes in the Caribbean by constructing a novel dataset that combines a detailed record of tropical cyclones characteristics with reported damages I estimate the relation between hurricane wind speeds and damages in the Caribbean finding that the elasticity of damages to GDP ratio with respect to maximum wind speeds is three in the case of landfalls The data show that hurricane damages are considerably underreported particularly in the 1950s and 1960s with average damages potentially being three times as large as the reported average of 1 6 percent of GDP per year I document and show that hurricanes that do not make landfall also have considerable negative impacts on the Caribbean economies Finally I estimate that the average annual hurricane damages in the Caribbean will increase between 22 and 77 percent by the year 2100 in a global warming scenario of high CO2 concentrations and high global temperatures — Civil Strife in a Complex and Changing World Gena Howard, Nancy Riecken, Linda Urschel, 2014-07-18 Civil Strife in a Complex and Changing World offers numerous perspectives of social conflict in the past and the present with a view toward academic classroom practices that may build strong connections both locally and globally between disparate social groups Renaissance preachers abolitionists freethinkers and even soldiers in Afghanistan provide thoughtful settings for the consideration of issues that at some times
