Fostering a Community of Success for Neurodivergent Collegiate Students Rogers-Shaw, Carol, Williams Park, Tulare, Mohny, Kayla D., Sheward, Kari, 2025-08-06 Neurodiversity and its challenges require a collective effort of support and understanding in education especially in college communities Collaborative approaches in understanding and engaging

students faculty staff and administrators can create safe environments where neurodivergent individuals feel valued and supported By acknowledging the strengths and challenges that come with different cognitive styles colleges can implement strategies that not only accommodate students with conditions like autism ADHD and dyslexia but also promote a richer more diverse academic experience for everyone Fostering a Community of Success for Neurodivergent Collegiate Students explores various aspects of neurodiversity on college campuses with a focus on collaborative initiatives that promote inclusivity foster community engagement and support the successful transition to college and the workplace for neurodivergent individuals It highlights the collaborative efforts to create truly inclusive environments where neurodivergent students belong Covering topics such as accessibility self advocacy and university experiences this book is an excellent resource for administrators faculty members program directors curriculum designers and more Learning and Mobilising for Community Development Lynda Shevellar,2016-04-22 Learning and Mobilising for Community Development introduces the reader to different ways of thinking about and organising community based education and training within different settings Stories from the global south and north illustrate approaches to collective learning and collective action The book provides not only an insight into the how to of community based education and training but through a range of applications demonstrates the often unspoken shadow side of the developmental work we undertake The first section of the book outlines the key elements that underpin effective community based education and training It then locates community based education and training within a broader pedagogical project by tracing the tradition of transformative learning and education The second half of the book focuses on stories and practice distilling the application of theory and frameworks The practitioners within this book emerge from unique and challenging contexts From civil resistance in West Papua and youth empowerment in South Africa to financial freedom in Australia these diverse experiences speak to a common quest for social change and justice Technology Use and Research Approaches for Community Education and Professional Development Bryan, Valerie C.,Wang, Viktor,2013-02-28 As the areas of community education and professional development continue to expand the technologies that are utilized in these programs are also progressively advancing However it can sometimes be difficult to pin point the best system in such a vast ever changing world of technology Technology Use and Research Approaches for Community Education and Professional Development investigates how the role of information technology is impacting the academic and workplace environments This publication will explore areas such as unique learning styles various methods of disseminating information and technology s role and impact within these settings Researchers practitioners and instructors in the areas of adult continued and higher education will benefit from this text s innovative way of addressing efficient methods of utilizing technology Lifelong Action Learning for Community Development Ortrun Zuber-Skerritt,Richard Teare,2013-10-30 This book explains and demonstrates how indigenous communities built on traditional knowledge culture and language can be extended and strengthened by 1 the new integrated methodology of

Lifelong Action Learning LAL and 2 new approaches to learning and development as exemplified by the system of GULL Global University for Lifelong Learning The GULL system harnesses the potential of people to bring about positive change together characterized by self reliance financial independence and cascading learning and benefits to others It is a self directed and self sustainable process of learning and growth The case studies in this book provide evidence that over time economically very poor communities can achieve transformations that bring with them many benefits personally professionally and for the community This book manages to accomplish an almost impossible goal to be both deeply inspirational and highly practical all at the same time Professor Mary Brydon Miller USA I was sold on this book from the foreword the need to rethink how we think about and do education is emerging as a hot topic among academics Professor Lesley Wood South Africa All development practitioners and students should study this book carefully as should aid bureaucrats and aid donors Dr Chad Perry Australia In this book Ortrun Zuber Skerritt and Richard Teare invite us to re think re evaluate and re create our views of learning Associate Professor Doris Santos Colombia In this new book the authors present challenging and original models for encouraging community and social development work Drawing on a Lifelong Action Learning LAL approach they challenge Western dominated approaches to learning encouraging the development of local solutions for local needs Dr Pip Bruce Ferguson New Zealand By bringing education to the people rather than people to education they create the possibility for real personal organizational and community learning on the ground in developing countries Dr Ron Passfield Australia The genius of this book is its simplicity It provides a sound approach to addressing the holes in our mainstream approaches to education training development and in living together in communities through providing a new understanding of lifelong action learning and how to achieve it through proactively cultivating and passing on local knowledge Dr Frank Thompson Africa I believe this book has the potential to transform the century old teaching and learning paradigm that is failing many countries to one that is futures oriented and transformational in nature This is a book that all educators need to read and to consider within their own learning context Dr Margaret Fletcher Australia This book will be useful to international community developers educators and researchers especially if they are looking for alternative ways of successfully improving living conditions for disadvantaged and subsistence communities Associate Professor Wendy Rowe Canada

Research Anthology on Adult Education and the Development of Lifelong Learners Management Association, Information Resources, 2021-03-19 Whether it is earning a GED a particular skill or technical topic for a career taking classes of interest or even returning to begin a degree program or completing it adult learning encompasses those beyond the traditional university age seeking out education This type of education could be considered non traditional as it goes beyond the typical educational path and develops learners that are self initiated and focused on personal development in the form of gaining some sort of education Essentially it is a voluntary choice of learning throughout life for personal and professional development While there is often a large focus towards K 12 and higher education it is important that research also focuses on the developing trends technologies and techniques for providing adult education along with understanding lifelong learners choices developments and needs The Research Anthology on Adult Education and the Development of Lifelong Learners focuses specifically on adult education and the best practices services and educational environments and methods for both the teaching and learning of adults This spans further into the understanding of what it means to be a lifelong learner and how to develop adults who want to voluntarily contribute to their own development by enhancing their education level or knowledge of certain topics This book is essential for teachers and professors course instructors business professionals school administrators practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in the latest advancements in adult education and lifelong learning

An Alternative Framework for Community Learning Centers in the 21st Century Michael F. Reber, 2003 Public Community Learning Centers CLCs at least in the context of the United States are social structures that have been established to address particular community needs In the beginning they were instituted as extensions of state departments human services in order to assist communities with programs such as adult literacy and high school graduation certification Today they have taken on a broader role as a result of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act Title X Part I that gives rural and inner city public schools nearly 2 billion over five years 1999 2004 to develop CLCs for programs such as mentoring in basic skills or helping high school students prepare for college Despite these noble efforts public CLCs are still not integral parts of community sustainability One could argue that a major cause for this is that they are established mainly for political purposes However the problem is much deeper Public CLCs today are unable to serve as sustainable social structures because they lack several foundational principles that assist communities with creating and maintaining sustainability In short they do not adequately reflect the values beliefs and knowledge of the current community education movement Thus an alternative framework within which communities can develop CLCs is needed Using a systemic design approach toward the design of a community learning system an alternative framework for CLCs is designed that enables communities to create the conditions whereby they can become self reliant self governing and sustainable

Theoretical and Historical Evolutions of Self-Directed Learning Caleb Collier, 2023-04-14 This book analyzes the deep historical and theoretical roots of self-directed learning models in order to put forward a new conceptual understanding of self-directed learning. It utilizes philosophical methods to present arguments both historical and contemporary in favor of shifting education toward self-directed models and away from a view of education that places teachers, administration, curriculum, and standards at the center of the learning endeavor. This book demonstrates that self-directed learning has proven to be effective in numerous contexts and builds on this history to present a new philosophy of education termed Eudemonic Self-Directed Learning for individual and societal flourishing. Exploring exemplars from different cultural and historical settings to inform post-pandemic pedagogies and policies, this book will appeal to scholars and researchers of the history and philosophy of education with interests in self-directed learning and its potential for contemporary practice.
