At Home with the Holocaust Lucas F. W. Wilson, 2025-03-11 At Home with the Holocaust examines the relationship between intergenerational trauma and domestic space focusing on how Holocaust survivors homes became extensions of their traumatized psyches that their children inhabited Analyzing second and third generation Holocaust literature such as Art Spiegelman's Maus Jonathan Safran Foer's Everything Is Illuminated Sonia Pircer's The Holocaust Kid and Elizabeth Rosner's The Speed of Light as well as oral histories of children of survivors Lucas F W Wilson's study reveals how the material conditions of survivor family homes along with household practices and belongings rendered these homes as spaces of traumatic transference As survivors traumas became imbued in the very space of the domestic their homes functioned as material archives of their Holocaust pasts creating environments that not uncommonly second handedly wounded their children As survivor family homes were imaginatively transformed by survivors children into the sites of their parents traumas like concentration camps and ghettos their homes catalyzed the transmission of these traumas

Holocaust and World War II Divided Lives Cynthia A. Crane, 2003-03-05 This book brings together the horrifying real life stories of women who woke up one day and were not who they thought they were The government changed and they suddenly no longer had the right kind of blood the right name the right family background the right physical features to be considered a member of society city or state These stories are from German women who were a part of a Jewish Christian mixed marriage and were subsequently persecuted under the Nuremberg laws Hitler called them mischling half breeds however they have often been passed over in studies of the Holocaust perhaps because they are often not considered real Jews But these women are still struggling with the nightmares of the Third Reich and the Holocaust the loss of family in concentration camps and with their own identity divided between their Jewish and Christian roots Often their Jewish background was revealed to them only after Hitler's laws were passed These are the narratives of eight women who remained in Germany struggling to reclaim their German heritage and their cultural and religious identity The narratives are compelling and sensitively written addressing questions of cultural and ethnic identity Bending Genre Margot Singer, Nicole Walker, 2022-12-15 Ever since the term creative nonfiction first came into widespread use memoirists and journalists essayists and fiction writers have faced off over where the border between fact and fiction lies An early and influential book on questions of form in creative nonfiction Bending Genre asks not where the boundaries between the genres should be drawn but what happens when you push the line The expanded second edition doubles the first edition with 23 new essays that broaden the exploration of hybridity structure unconventionality and resistance in creative nonfiction pushing the conversation forward in diverse and exciting ways Written for writers and students of creative writing this collection brings together perspectives from leading writers of creative nonfiction including Michael Martone Brenda Miller Ander Monson David Shields Kazim Ali and in the new edition Catina Bacote Ira Sukrungruang Ingrid Horrocks Elena Passarello and Aviya Kushner Each writer's innovative essay probes our notions of genre and investigates how creative nonfiction is shaped modeling the forms of writing being discussed Like creative nonfiction itself Bending Genre is an exciting hybrid that breaks new ground Features in the second edition Updated introduction to the new edition Expanded sections on Hybrids Structures and Unconventions A new section on Resistances 50 essays in all Jewish Resistance During the Holocaust J. Glass, 2004-07-06 It is a common belief that Jews did nothing to resist their own fate in the Holocaust However the realities of disintegrating physical and psychological conditions and the efforts of ghetto undergrounds to counter collaborationist judenrat policies and the despair could not but lead to a breakdown in spiritual life Lost Classics Michael Ondaatje, Michael Redhill, Esta Spalding, Linda Spalding, 2011-03-30 An Anchor Books Original Seventy four distinguished writers tell personal tales of books loved and lost great books overlooked under read out of print stolen scorned extinct or otherwise out of commission Compiled by the editors of Brick A Literary Magazine Lost Classics is a reader's delight an intriguing and entertaining collection of eulogies for lost books As the editors have written in a joint introduction to the book

The Graywolf Silver Anthology, 1999-04-01 This anthology an eclectic and entertaining mix of poetry and prose showcases some of the extraordinary writers who have helped shape a literary quarter century Their work provides clear evidence of the critical role Graywolf and other independent presses play in the otherwise increasingly homogenous publishing universe a realization made all the more remarkable when contrasted against the simple charm of Graywolf's earliest days as a letterpress publisher as described in an introductory historical essay by founder Scott Walker
