Will Love The Book News Monthly, 1907 Love and Providence Silvia Montiglio, 2012-10-02 From the Odyssey and King Lear to modern novels by Umberto Eco and John le Carr the recognition scene has enjoyed a long life in western literature It first became a regular feature of prose literature in the Greek novels of the first century CE In these examples it is the event that ensures the happy ending for the hero and heroine and as such it seems was as pleasing for Greek readers as the canonical Hollywood kiss is for contemporary movie goers Recognitions are particularly gratifying in the context of the ancient novels because the genre as a whole celebrates the idyllic social order to which the heroes and heroines belong and from which they have been harshly severed In spite of their high frequency and thematic importance novelistic recognitions have attracted little critical attention especially in relation to epic and tragedy With Love and Providence Silvia Montiglio seeks to fill this gap She begins by introducing the meaning of recognitions in the ancient novel both within the novels narrative structure and thought world that is the values and ideals propounded in the narrative She pursues these goals while examining novels by Chariton Xenophon of Ephesus Achilles Tatius Longus Heliodorus Apuleius and Petronius as well as the Life of Apollonius of Tyre the pseudo Clementine recognitions and the Jewish novel Joseph and Aseneth In addition to addressing questions brought about by the recognitions What does it mean for lovers to recognize each other at the end of their adventures Is recognition the confirmation of sameness or an acknowledgement of change Montiglio addresses the rapport novelists entertain with their literary tradition epic and drama The book concludes by emphasizing the originality of the novels for the development of the recognition motif and by explaining its influence in early modern European literature
