South research collaborations and academic exchanges are assessed in terms of their potential to offer real alternatives In Part III a set of case studies supply clear and nuanced analyses of the scale of the challenges faced in ensuring that no one is left behind This accessible and absorbing collection will be of interest to anyone interested in North South research networks and in the contemporary debates on the role of knowledge production The Southern African Nordic Centre SANORD is a network of higher education institutions that stretches across Denmark Finland Iceland Norway Sweden Botswana Namibia Malawi South Africa Zambia and Zimbabwe Universities in the southern African and Nordic regions that are not yet members are encouraged to join The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav

Visser, Ronnie Donaldson, Cecil Seethal, 2016-09-20 Africa and the Sustainable Development Goals Maano Ramutsindela, David Mickler, 2019-06-13 The book draws upon the expertise and international research collaborations forged by the Worldwide Universities Network Global Africa Group to critically engage with the intersection in theory and practice of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and Africa's development agendas and needs Further it argues that and demonstrates how the SDGs should be understood as an aspirational blueprint for development with multiple meanings that are situated in dynamic and contested terrains As the SDGs have substantial implications for development policy and resourcing at both the macro and micro levels their relevance is not only context specific but should also be assessed in terms of the aspirations and needs of ordinary citizens across the continent Drawing on analyses and evidence from both the natural and social sciences the book demonstrates that progress towards the SDGs must meet demands for improving human well being under diverse and challenging socio economic political and environmental conditions Examples include those from the mining industry public health employment and the media In closing it highlights how international collaboration in the form of research networks can enhance the production of critical knowledge on and engagement with the SDGs in Africa

Education, Communication and Democracy in Africa Chikumbutso Herbert Manthala, Victor Chikaipa, Anthony Mavuto Gunde, 2021-07-22 This innovative volume critically examines the intersection between democracy education and communication in African educational domains Providing a platform for multidisciplinary research it advances scholarship in democratic citizenship education in African higher education through methodological and theoretical innovation The book discusses the extent to which explicit or subtle communication frameworks that underlie policymaking institutional culture teaching and learning experiences in African higher education significantly engender democratic mind habits and practices in students as citizens Chapters in the book examine how communication frameworks in pedagogy ought to navigate power imbalances between students on the one hand and the institution and academics on the other The book also examines how disempowering higher education policies are and whether they contribute to democratic equality This book will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of education democratic citizenship education communication and African studies Contributions of Africa's Indigenous Knowledge to the Wave of Digital Technology:

Decolonial Perspectives Niyitunga, Eric Blanco, 2024-04-09 Africa's contributions to global technological advancements are often overlooked with many scholars claiming that the continent has yet to contribute significantly to digital technology. This misconception stems from a need for more understanding and recognition of Africa's indigenous knowledge and its role in shaping the modern world. The education curriculum inherited from colonialism must differentiate Africa's values and culture from Western ideals, leading to a devaluation of Africa's mineral wealth in technological advancements. Additionally, the impact of historical events such as the Atlantic slave trade and colonialism on Africa's indigenous knowledge remains largely unexplored, further contributing to the misunderstanding of Africa's technological contributions. Contributions of Africa's Indigenous Knowledge to the Wave of Digital Technology: Decolonial Perspectives offers a comprehensive exploration of Africa's indigenous knowledge and its crucial role in the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR). By taking a decolonial perspective and examining the literature on African Studies, the book aims to shed light on Africa's significant contributions to digital technology. Through a qualitative research design and an exploratory approach, the book will collect and analyze data from secondary sources to showcase Africa's rich technological advancements and history of innovations.

Advancing the Global Agenda for Human Rights, Vulnerable Populations, and Environmental Sustainability Mary V. Alfred, Petra A. Robinson, Elizabeth A. Roumell, 2021-10-01 For over 70 years the United Nations has worked to advance human conditions globally through its historic agenda for a more peaceful, prosperous, and just world. Through the work of the General Assembly and other programs like the UNESCO World Conferences on Adult Education, the organization has taken a leading role in bringing world leaders together to dialogue on world issues and to set agendas for advancing social and economic justice among and within the regions of the world. The underlying themes of the United Nations agenda over the years have been world peace, economic justice, addressing the needs of the world's most vulnerable populations, and protecting the environment. We draw from the two last two declarations from which the Millennium Development Goals (September 2000) and the Sustainable Development Goals (September 2015) were adopted by world leaders, with a focus on addressing the needs of the most vulnerable populations. In this declaration, world leaders committed to uphold the long-standing principles of the organization and to combat extreme poverty, hunger, disease, illiteracy, environmental degradation, and discrimination and violence against women. The overall objective of the book is to highlight the conditions of vulnerable populations from various contexts globally and the role adult and higher education can play and is playing in advancing the United Nations agenda of social and economic justice and environmental sustainability. Adult education through research, teaching, and service engagements is contributing to this ongoing effort, but as many scholars have noted, our work remains invisible and undocumented. Therefore, this book highlights adult education's critical partnership in addressing these global issues. It will also begin to fill the void that exists in adult education literature on internationalization of the field.

Handbook of Climate Change Communication: Vol. 1 Walter Leal Filho, Evangelos Manolas, Anabela Marisa Azul, Ulisses M. Azeiteiro, Henry
