Knowledge Diffusion And Innovation Knowledge Diffusion And Innovation:

Knowledge Diffusion and Innovation Piergiuseppe Morone, Richard Taylor, 2010-01-01 The book uses state of the art theorizing about a topic that has attracted a lot of attention in the past five years or so It provides a very useful review of the literature and is very well written and on a novel topic I especially liked the methodological rigour in the exposition of the model yet at the same time the text remains accessible to a wide readership I highly recommend the book Koen Frenken Utrecht University The Netherlands Modern economies are described as knowledge based This book investigates the meaning of such a statement assessing the relevance of knowledge and the channels through which knowledge is exchanged both from a theoretical and an empirical perspective Moving within the realm of complexity theory the authors provide a methodological assessment of the knowledge diffusion debate as well as presenting theoretical and applied models of knowledge diffusion and innovation They illustrate how geography plays a role in shaping innovative patterns and how dense networks generally result in more innovative environments The book concludes that establishing the right connections within such dense networks appears to be more crucial than any other factor thus highlighting the importance of linkages or the effects of their absence within innovation systems Proposing a taxonomy of knowledge sharing patterns this book will be warmly welcomed by academics researchers and postgraduate students in the areas of the economics of innovation evolutionary economics and knowledge economics

Innovation, Knowledge Diffusion, and Globalization Nelson Lind, Natalia Ramondo, 2018 We review a recent body of theoretical literature that links the creation and diffusion of knowledge and technology to openness We analyze two channels through which the spread of new ideas occurs international trade and the activity of multinational firms multinational production The unifying theme of our survey is methodological We focus on quantitative general equilibrium models that treat productivities as Fr chet random variables as in the model of trade in Eaton and Kortum 2002 EK We present models in the literature that extend the EK model of trade to innovation diffusion and multinational firms and examine the implications for counterfactuals related to the gains from trade We finalize with new directions for research

Innovation, Knowledge Diffusion, and Selection Danial Lashkari, 2018 This paper constructs a theory of industry growth through innovation and selection driven creative destruction Firms ideas determine their productivity and stochasti cally evolve over time Firms innovate to improve their ideas and endogenously exit if unsuccessful Entrants adopt the ideas of incumbents In this model when bet ter ideas are innovated or adopted they selectively replace worse ideas Innovation externalities vary based on firm productivity ideas generated by more productive firms create 1 longer lasting positive externalities due to knowledge diffusion and 2 stronger negative externalities due to the displacement of other firms Therefore the net externalities of innovation are heterogeneous and market equilibrium mis allocates innovation across firms Solving for the optimal allocation shows that the instruments of innovation policy should depend on firm productivity A calibration of the model to firm level data from US manufacturing and retail trade suggests quantitatively large misallocations that create first order considerations for policy design Innovation in General Purpose Technologies : How Knowledge Gains when It Is Shared Nina Teichert, 2013 This book tackles the different aspects of the creation and transmission of knowledge in the context of the characteristics of a general purpose technology Nanotechnology is investigated as showcase example Particular emphasis is put on the role of the composition of knowledge as well as the corresponding knowledge spillovers on the one hand and on the concrete impact of collaboration and knowledge sharing in innovator networks on the other hand Innovation and Knowledge Creation in an Open Economy John R.

Baldwin, Petr Hanel, 2003-07-03 This study of innovation its intensity the sources used for knowledge creation and its impacts is based on a comprehensive survey of innovation of Canadian manufacturing firms Attention is paid to the different actors in the system who both compete with and complement one another The study investigates how innovation regimes differ across size of firm and across industries Owing to the high degree of foreign investment in Canada special attention is paid to the performance of foreign owned firms The innovation regime of Canadian innovators is compared with results of studies of other industrialized countries The picture of a typical innovator is a firm that combines internal resources and external contacts to develop a set of complementary strategies The study finds that innovating firms depend not only on R D but also on ideas and technology from various other sources both internal and external to the firm Handbook on the

Geographies of Innovation Richard Shearmur, Christophe Carrincazeaux, David Doloreux, 2016-11-25 The geography of innovation is changing Firstly it is increasingly understood that innovative firms and organizations exhibit a wide variety of strategies each differently attuned to diverse geographic contexts Secondly and concomitantly the idea that cities clusters and physical proximity are essential for innovation is evolving under the weight of new theorizing and empirical evidence The aim of this handbook is to break with the many ideas and concepts that emerged during the course of the 1980s and 1990s and to fully take into account the new reality of the internet mobile communication technologies personal mobility and globalization The handbook gathers a new generation of ideas and authors to contribute to the debate providing an empirically grounded critical appraisal of the prevailing knowledge on the geography of innovation The 28 original chapters written by a diverse range of scholars with widely differing views present fresh empirical evidence and new perspectives relating to how innovation plays out across space in an age where mobility has increased information is ubiquitous and globalisation has been realised Overall the dialogue between existing theory and new possibilities provides a unique and challenging appraisal of the connection between innovation agglomeration and space Offering cutting edge ideas in an accessible format this will be an ideal resource for students and scholars of economic geography and innovation studies The empirical evidence and analysis will also be of great value for policymakers and government officials Contributors include B T Asheim H W Aslesen A Bain P A Balland N Bradford A Bramwell C Brennan Horley S Breschi C Carrincazeaux C Chaminade R Comunian C De Fuentes D Doloreux D Eckert A Faggian M Ferru R D Fitjar K Flanagan C Gibson M Grillitsch
