Simon, Kelly Kay, 2024-10-02 Since its inception the field of political ecology has served as a critical hub for inclusive and transformative environmental inquiry Doing Political Ecology offers a distinctive entry point into this ever growing field and argues that our scholarly foundations today more than ever comprise a cross cutting latticework of research approaches and concepts This volume brings together 28 leading scholars from a range of backgrounds and geographies with contributions organized into 18 analytical lenses that highlight different approaches to critical environmental research and ways of seeing nature society interactions The book s contributors engage the breadth and depth of the field recognizing a variety of roots and genealogies and give ample voice to these rich and complementary lineages This inclusive presentation of the field allows diverse theoretical and empirical approaches to intermingle in novel ways Readers will emerge with a wide ranging understanding of political ecology and will attain a diverse toolkit for evaluating human environment interactions Each chapter astutely grounds key methodological theoretical topical and conceptual approaches that animate a range of influential cutting edge and complementary ways of doing political ecology

The Politics of Knowledge and Global Biodiversity Alice Vadrot, 2014-04-24 The establishment of the Intergovernmental Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services IPBES points to the crucial role attributed to science and knowledge for the successful implementation of biodiversity politics by both scientists and policy makers With the increased importance of biodiversity in international politics and in part inspired by the success the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC has had in raising awareness of global warming the call for an IPCC for Biodiversity was successful The Politics of Knowledge and Global Biodiversity gives a full overview of the process of its implementation as finalised in 2013 and proposes an innovative conceptual framework that puts this specific case into a more general perspective of international politics and relations It provides a detailed empirical analysis of the knowledge politics associated with the establishment of IPBES and its conceptual framework and methodological approach is grounded in a theoretical perspective This pioneering work is the first to examine IPBES in this way and is essential reading for researchers and scholars of International Relations Environmental and Biodiversity Politics Science Policy Interfaces and Global Environmental Governance It will also be of interest to political scientists and social scientists

Land Change Science, Political Ecology, and Sustainability Christian Brannstrom, Jacqueline M. Vadjunec, 2014-01-23 Recent claims regarding convergence and divergence between land change science and political ecology as approaches to the study of human environment relationships and sustainability science are examined and analyzed in this innovative volume Comprised of 11 commissioned chapters as well as introductory and concluding synthesis chapters it advances the two fields by proposing new conceptual and methodological approaches toward integrating land change science and political ecology The book also identifies areas of fundamental difference and disagreement between fields These theoretical contributions will help a generation of young researchers refine their research approaches and will advance a debate among established scholars in geography land use studies and sustainability science that has been developing since the early 2000s At an empirical level case studies focusing on sustainable development are included from Africa Central and South America and Southeast Asia The specific topics addressed include tropical deforestation swidden agriculture mangrove forests gender and household issues

The Routledge Handbook of the Political Economy of Science David Tyfield, Rebecca Lave, Samuel Randalls, Charles Thorpe, 2017-04-28 The political economy of research and innovation R I is one of the central issues of the early twenty first century Science and innovation are increasingly tasked with driving and reshaping a troubled global economy while also tackling multiple overlapping global challenges such as climate change or food security global pandemics or energy security But responding to these demands is made more complicated because R I themselves are changing Today new global patterns of R I are transforming the very structures institutions and processes of science and innovation and with it their claims about desirable futures Our understanding of R I needs to change accordingly Responding to this new urgency and uncertainty this handbook presents a pioneering selection of the growing body of literature that has emerged in recent years at the intersection of science and technology studies and political economy The central task for this research has been to expose important but consequential misconceptions about the political economy of R I and to build more insightful approaches This volume therefore explores the complex interrelations between R I both in general and in specific fields and political economies across a number of key dimensions from health to environment and universities to the military The Routledge Handbook of the Political Economy of Science offers a unique collection of texts across a range of issues in this burgeoning and important field from a global selection of top scholars The handbook is essential reading for students interested in the political economy of science technology and innovation It also presents succinct and insightful summaries of the state of the art for more advanced scholars

Science and Narratives of Nature Jobin M. Kanjirakkat, Gordon McOuat, Sundar Sarukkai, 2017-07-05 The discourse and practice of science are deeply connected to explicit and implicit narratives of nature However nature has been understood in diverse ways by cultures across the world Could these different views of nature generate the possibility of alternate views on science Part of the innovative series Science and Technology Studies this volume looks at different conceptualizations of nature and the manner in which they structure the practice of the sciences The essays draw upon philosophy history sociology religion feminism mathematics and cultural studies and establish a dialogue between cultures through a multi disciplinary exploration of science With contributions from major scholars in the field this volume will deeply interest scholars and students of science and technology studies sociology history and philosophy of science as also environmental studies

Routledge Handbook of Ecocultural Identity Tema Milstein, José Castro-Sotomayor, 2020-05-01 The Routledge Handbook of Ecocultural Identity brings the ecological turn to sociocultural understandings of self The editors introduce a broad insightful assembly of original theory and research on planetary positionalities in flux in the Anthropocene or what in this Handbook cultural ecologist David Abram presciently renames the Humilocene a new epoch of humility Forty international authors craft a kaleidoscopic lens focusing on the following key interdisciplinary inquiries Part I illuminates identity as always ecocultural expanding dominant understandings of who we are and how our ways of identifying engender earthly outcomes Part II examines ways ecocultural identities are fostered and how difference and spaces of interaction can be sources of environmental conviviality Part III illustrates consequential ways the media sphere informs challenges and amplifies particular ecocultural identities Part IV delves into the constitutive power of ecocultural identities and illuminates ways ecological forces shape the political sphere Part V demonstrates multiple and unspooling ways in which ecocultural identities can evolve and transform to recall ways forward to reciprocal surviving and thriving The Routledge Handbook of Ecocultural Identity provides an essential resource for scholars teachers students protectors and practitioners interested in ecological and sociocultural regeneration The Routledge Handbook of Ecocultural Identity has been awarded the 2020 Book Award from the National Communication Association s USA Environmental Communication Division The Oxford Handbook of Environmental History Andrew C. Isenberg,2017 The Oxford Handbook of Environmental History draws on a wealth of new scholarship to offer diverse perspectives on the state of the field The Nature of Data Jenny Goldstein,Eric Nost,2022-10 When we look at some of the most pressing issues in environmental politics today it is hard to avoid data technologies Big data artificial intelligence and data dashboards all promise revolutionary advances in the speed and scale at which governments corporations conservationists and even individuals can respond to environmental challenges By bringing together scholars from geography anthropology science and technology studies and ecology The Nature of Data explores how the digital realm is a significant site in which environmental politics are waged This collection as a whole makes the argument that we cannot fully understand the current conjuncture in critical global environmental politics without understanding the role of data platforms devices standards and institutions In particular The Nature of Data addresses the contested practices of making and maintaining data infrastructure the imaginaries produced by data infrastructures the relations between state and civil society that data infrastructure reworks and the conditions under which technology can further socio ecological justice instead of re entrenching state and capitalist power This innovative volume presents some of the first research in this new but rapidly growing subfield that addresses the role of data infrastructures in critical environmental politics Informal Manufacturing and Environmental Sustainability Mihir Kumar Pal,Pinaki Das,2024-12-02 The chapters here emerge against the backdrop of a rapidly evolving global landscape where the informal sector plays a pivotal role in employment income generation and economic development particularly in developing and emerging countries Palm Oil Diaspora Case Watkins,2021-05-20 An environmental history and political ecology of palm oil in colonial Brazil the African diaspora and the Atlantic World Mountains: Physical, Human-Environmental, and Sociocultural Dynamics Mark A. Fonstad,2018-12-07 Mountains have captured the interests and passions of people for thousands of years Today millions of people live within mountain regions and mountain regions are often areas of accelerated environmental change This edited volume highlights new understanding of mountain environments and mountain peoples around the world The understanding of mountain environments and peoples has been a focus of individual researchers for centuries more recently the interest in mountain regions among researchers has been growing rapidly The articles contained within are from a wide spectrum of researchers from different parts of the world who address physical political theoretical social empirical environmental methodological and economic issues focused on the geography of mountains and their inhabitants The articles in this special issue are organized into three themed sections with very loose boundaries between themes 1 physical dynamics of mountain environments 2 coupled human physical dynamics and 3 sociocultural dynamics in mountain regions

This book was first published as a special issue of the Annals of the American Association of Geographers Fields and Streams Rebecca Lave, 2012-11-01 Examining the science of stream restoration Rebecca Lave argues that the neoliberal emphasis on the privatization and commercialization of knowledge has fundamentally changed the way that science is funded organized and viewed in the United States Stream restoration science and practice is in a startling state The most widely respected expert in the field Dave Rosgen is a private consultant with relatively little formal scientific training Since the mid 1990s many academic and federal agency based scientists have denounced Rosgen as a charlatan and a hack Despite this Rosgen's Natural Channel Design approach classification system and short course series are not only accepted but are viewed as more legitimate than academically produced knowledge and training Rosgen's methods are now promoted by federal agencies including the Environmental Protection Agency the U S Forest Service the U S Fish and Wildlife Service and the Natural Resources Conservation Service as well as by resource agencies in dozens of states Drawing on the work of Pierre Bourdieu Lave demonstrates that the primary cause of Rosgen's success is neither the method nor the man but is instead the assignment of a new legitimacy to scientific claims developed outside the academy concurrent with academic scientists decreasing ability to defend their turf What is at stake in the Rosgen wars argues Lave is not just the ecological health of our rivers and streams but the very future of environmental science The Palgrave Handbook of Critical Physical Geography Rebecca Lave, Christine Biermann, Stuart N. Lane, 2018-04-04 This handbook is recognition of the need to better integrate physical and human geography It combines a collection of work and research within the new field of Critical Physical Geography which gives critical attention to relations of social power with deep knowledge of a particular field of biophysical science Critical Physical Geography research accords careful attention to biophysical landscapes and the power relations that have increasingly come to shape them and to the politics of environmental science and the role of biophysical inquiry in promoting social and environmental justice The Palgrave Handbook of Critical Physical Geography lays out the scope and guiding principles of Critical Physical Geography research It presents a carefully selected set of empirical work demonstrating the range and intellectual strength of existing integrative work in geography research This handbook is the first of its kind to cover this emerging discipline and will be of significant interest to students and academics across the fields of geography the environment and sustainability Working with Nature in Aotearoa New Zealand Friederike Gesing, 2016-05-15 Working with nature and not against it is a global trend in coastal management This ethnography of coastal protection follows the increasingly popular approach of soft protection to the Aotearoa New Zealand coast Friederike Gesing analyses a political controversy over hard and soft protection measures and introduces a growing community of practice involved in projects of working with nature Dune restoration volunteers coastal management experts surfer scientists and Maori conservationists are engaged in projects ranging from do it yourself erosion control to the reconstruction of native nature and soft engineering in concert with natural processes With soft protection Gesing argues we can witness a new sociotechnical imaginary in the making The Palgrave Handbook of Gender and Development Wendy Harcourt,2016-04-29 With original and engaging contributions this Handbook confirms feminist scholarship in development studies as a vibrant research field It reveals the diverse ways that feminist theory and practice inform and shape gender analysis and development policies bridging generations of feminists from different institutions disciplines and regions

Routledge International Handbook of Ignorance Studies Matthias Gross,Linsey McGoey,2015-05-15 Once treated as the absence of knowledge ignorance today has become a highly influential topic in its own right commanding growing attention across the natural and social sciences where a wide range of scholars have begun to explore the social life and political issues involved in the distribution and strategic use of not knowing The field is growing fast and this handbook reflects this interdisciplinary field of study by drawing contributions from economics sociology history philosophy cultural studies anthropology feminist studies and related fields in order to serve as a seminal guide to the political legal and social uses of ignorance in social and political life Chapter 33 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available here https://tandfbis.s3.us-west-2.amazonaws.com/rt/files/docs/Open Access Chapters/9780415718967_oachapter33.pdf iAlerta! Elizabeth Reddy,2023-04-04 A lively account of a controversial technology developed to mitigate earthquake risk and change how we live with threatening environments The Sistema de Alerta Sísmica Mexicana is the world's oldest public earthquake early warning system Given the unpredictability of earthquakes the technology was designed to give the people of Mexico City more than a minute to prepare before the next big quake hits How does this kind of environmental monitoring technology get built in the first place How does its life saving promise align with reality And who shapes modern risk mitigation In Alerta Elizabeth Reddy surveys this innovation to shed light on what it means to imagine a world where sirens could sound out an alerta sísmica at any moment and what it would be like to live in such a world Proponents of earthquake early warnings have long held that the technology can save lives and limit economic losses Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork and archival data Reddy conducts a thorough qualitative analysis of these claims and considers the requirements and uses of the alert system She embeds her study in a rich narrative of the engineers who designed the system in conjunction with contingent political and environmental conditions The result demonstrates how addressing earthquake dangers is no small task it means trying to change relationships between the environment society and technology Doing so she critiques universalist and technocentric approaches to hazard risk mitigation and celebrates the potential of contextually appropriate and broadly supported efforts Alerta takes readers on a vivid journey into the world of Mexican earthquake risk mitigation with critical insights for anthropologists and science and technology studies scholars as well as specialists in the geosciences engineering and emergency management
